Student Council

This year Student Council had a blast organizing events for our Titan family, encouraging students to "Step Up" and get involved! We enjoyed seeing lots of you become active participants in school activities, fundraisers and volunteer positions at the school; you have left a legacy that we can all look back at with pride. Student council activities such as the Welcome Back BBQ, Musical Chairs, Halloween Week, Easter Egg Contest, Christmas festivities and our annual Dodgeball Tournament united all the students and staff. This year's Student Council Executive would like to end an incredible year by saying THANK YOU TITANS for sharing your creativity, taking risks and assuming leadership roles throughout the school. Without your enthusiasm and participation, the 2008-2009 year would not have been so memorable!

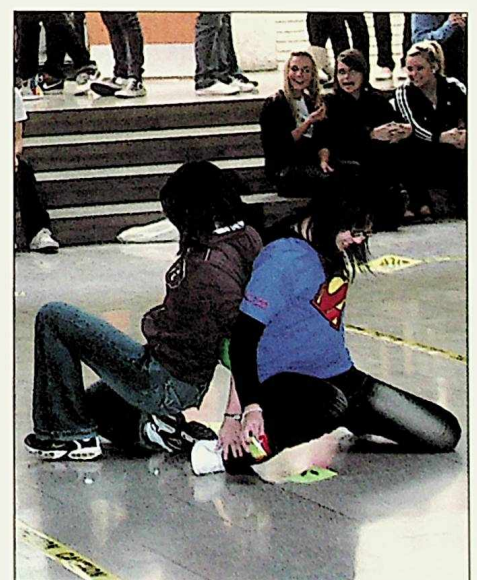

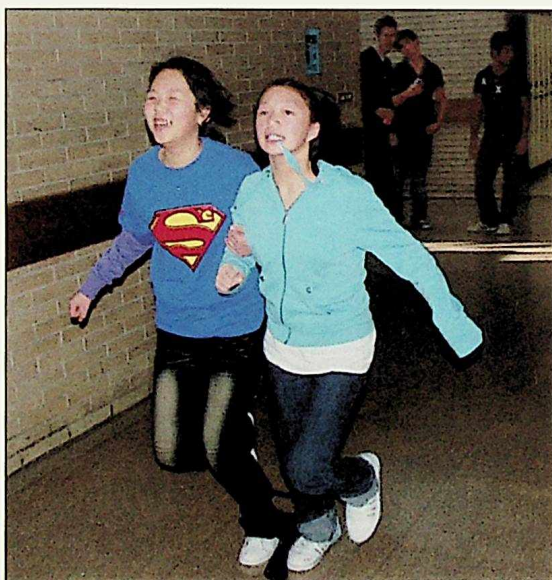

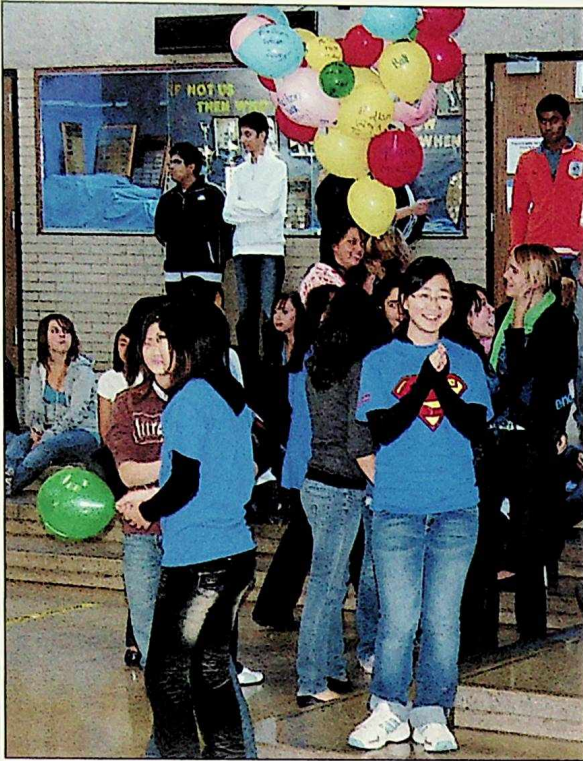

Back Row: Mr. Heidi, Mr. Walker, Kanika Sabhani, Lisa Wang, Ben Fitzpatrick, Matthew Ding, Ekjote Bains, Sameer Dhar, Samyul Kim, Mrs. Schock
Middle Row: Daniella Batres, Ann Tran, Niki Bains, Janice Leung, Sania Amiri, Rayhaan Nazarali, Kiranjyot Boparai, Maria He, Catherine Lee
Front Row: Sherya Jayasimha and Sonam Kang

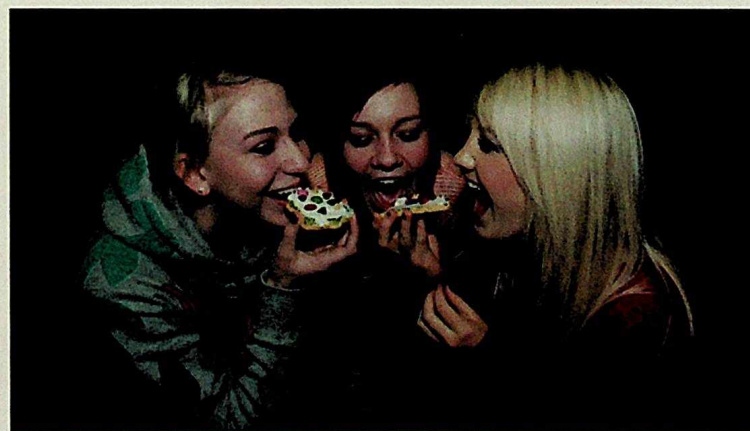

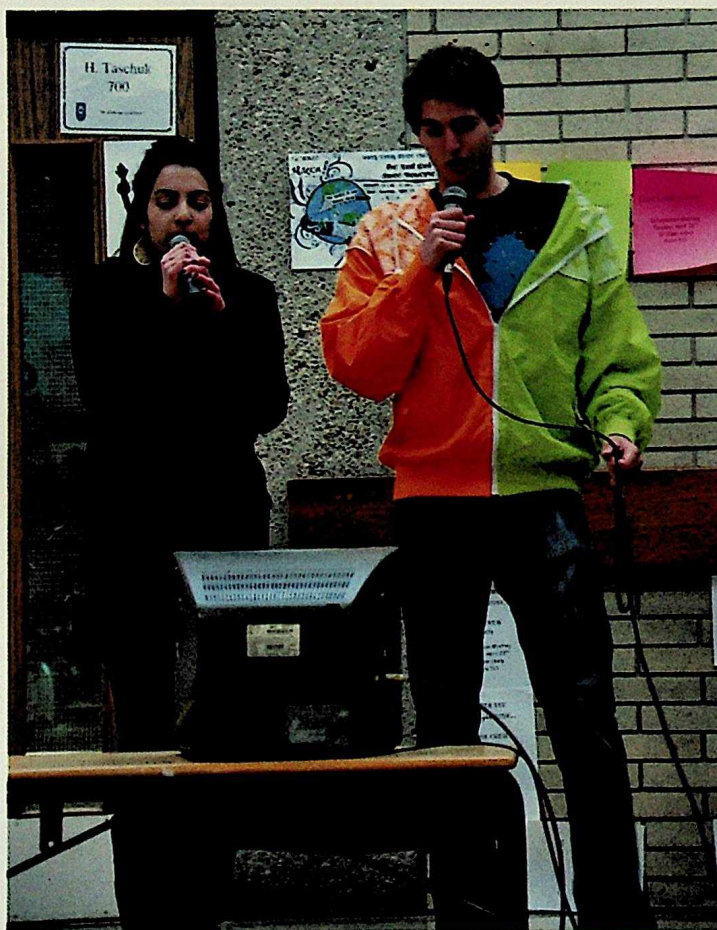

It is hard to believe that the time has come to leave the familiar halls of Harry Ainlay and venture into the unknown. It feels as though it was just yesterday we entered high school not knowing the great things that were about to come our way. This past year has been a blast! I am so grateful to have peers like you who have made high school so unforgettable! Each and every one of you have worked together to show that our Titan family can truly "Step Up!" Together we have made Harry Ainlay more than a school. I want to thank all Titans for making high school not just about classes but also about friendships, new experiences, and wonderful memories. I wish all of you the best in your future endeavors!

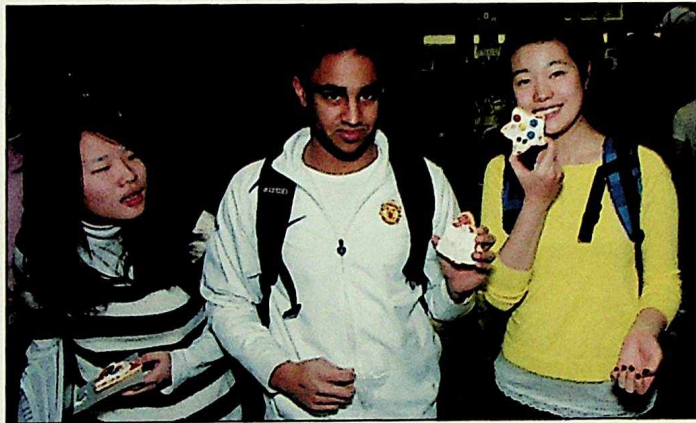

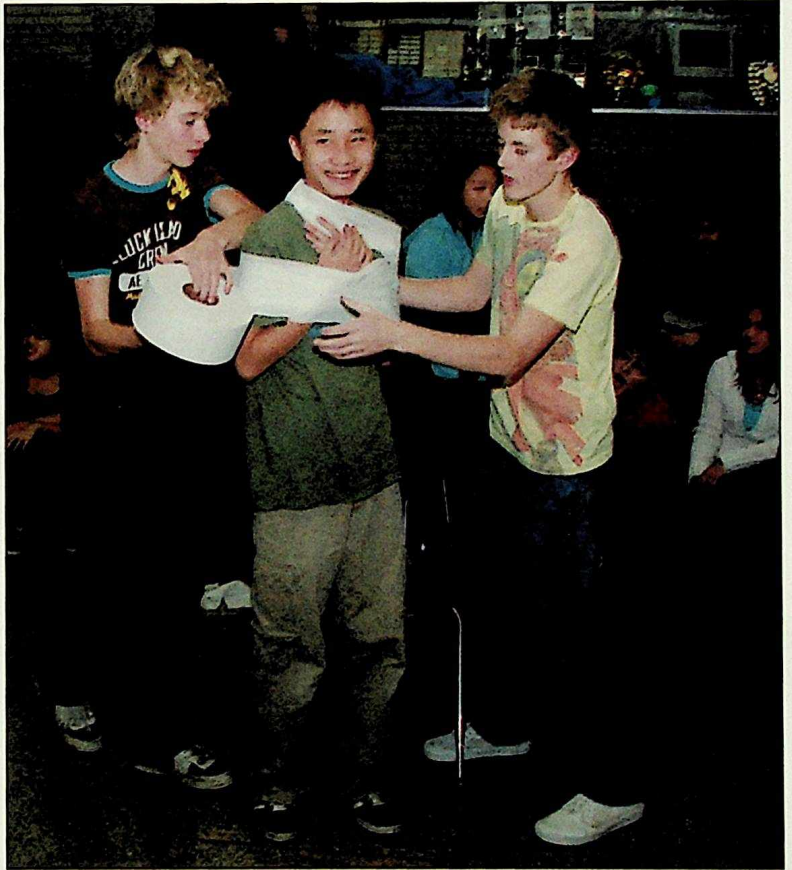

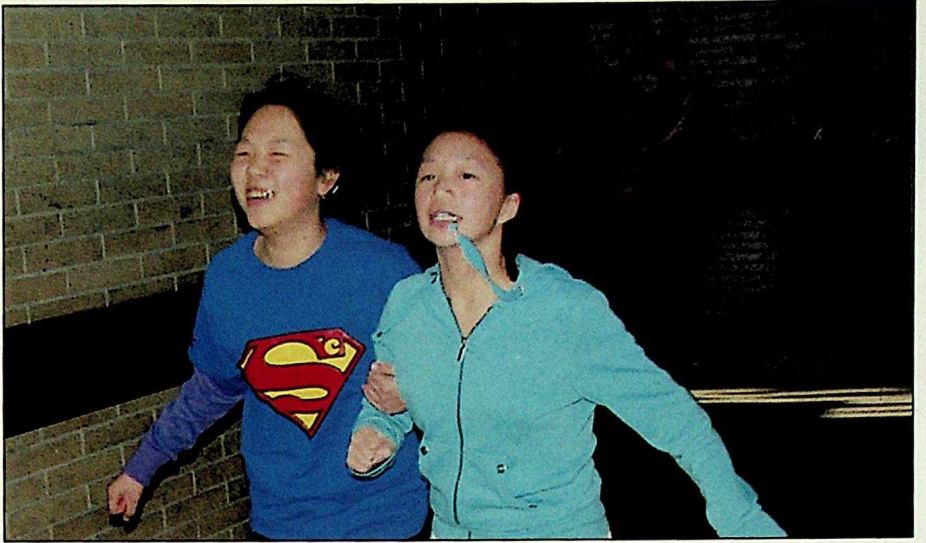

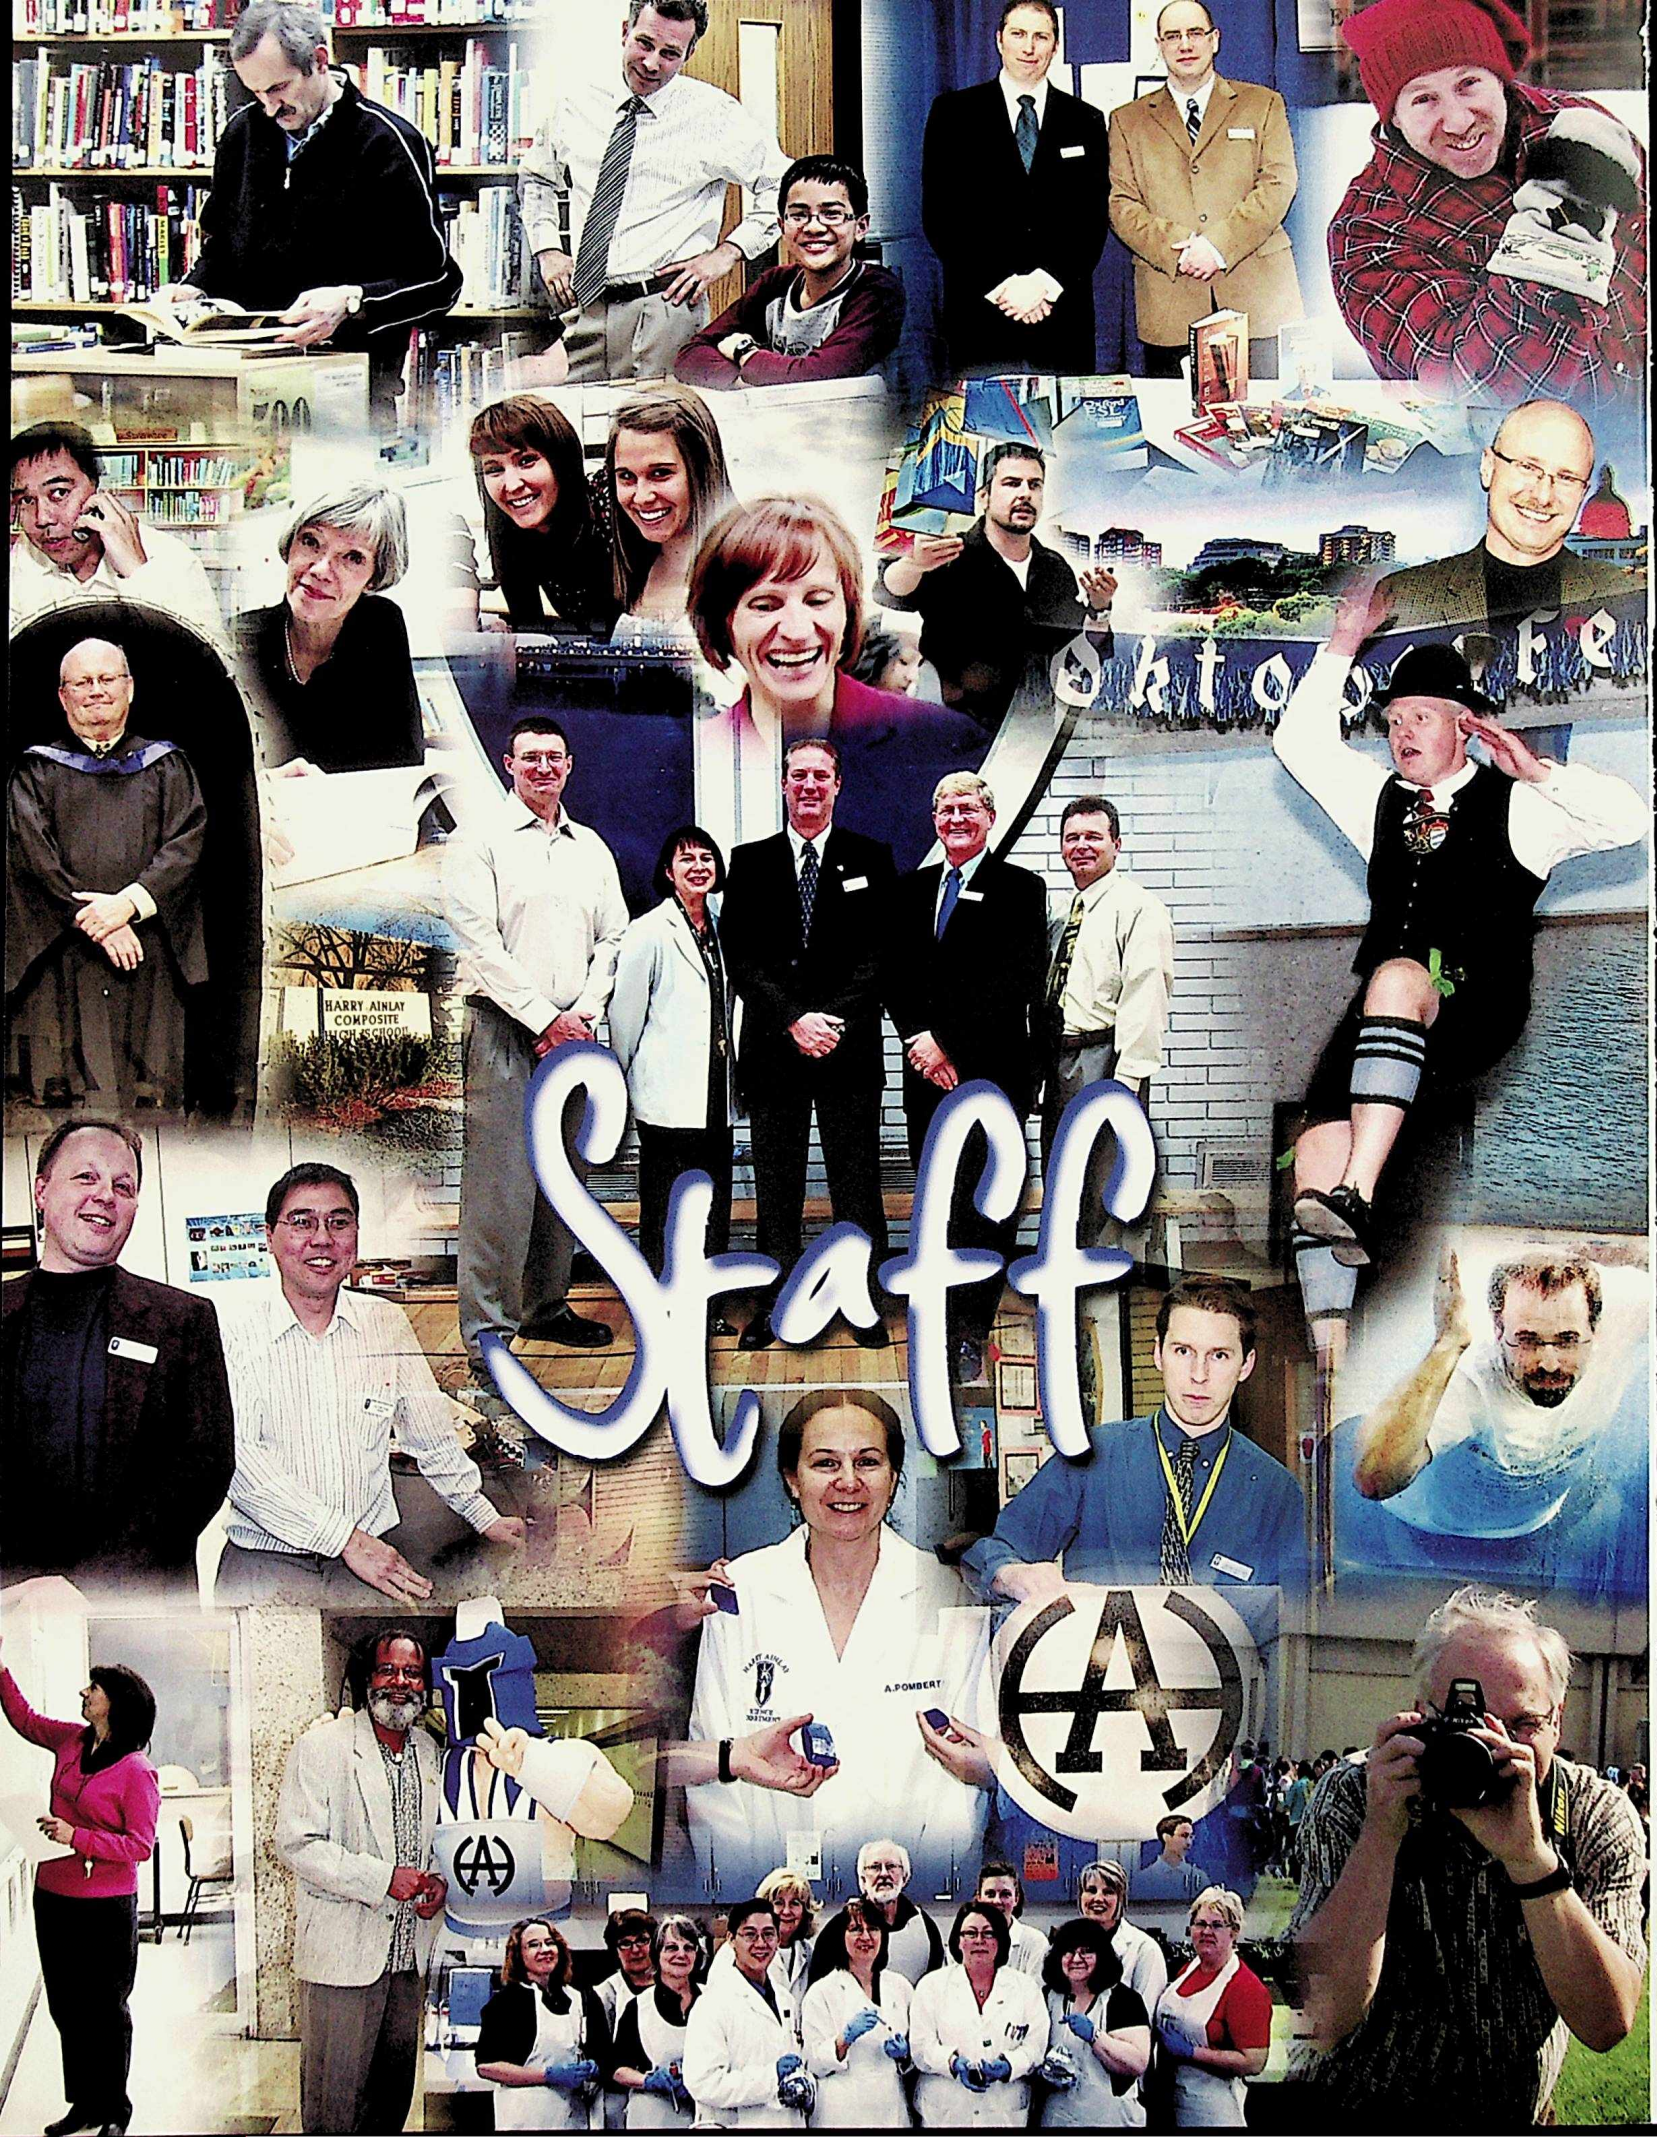

Student Council Activities

Student life at Ainlay would never be complete without the wild and fun-filled Student Council Executive and YOU!! Loitering in the halls dressed in blue superman shirts, our executive's whacky mission was to encourage students to "Step Up" and show their true Titan spirit! From BYOB (Bring Your Own Banana) to Karaoke, Donut Eating to MarioKart Wii, we saw many Titans getting involved and becoming active members of our school. This year the rotunda lunch hour activities were the thing to do!! We will never forget all of the fun and mayhem!

Principal's Message

This year the students and staff at Harry Ainlay really "Stepped Up" to the plate and hit a home run. Led by our fabulous Student Council leaders, many creative activities were held throughout the year from Culture Fest to participating in the famous Dodge Ball tournament. Students contributed to the positive, vibrant and caring culture at Ainlay.

Truly, through these halls walk Champions of Academics, Languages, the Arts, CTS and Athletics who have displayed a great commitment to do their best, to work hard, to overcome obstacles and persevere. I want to encourage you to set high goals, to strive to achieve and surpass those goals. The pathway to success will be filled with rich learning experiences along the way. Experience as much as you can in life, just as you have on your educational journey.

The pages in this yearbook are timeless treasures that will help you to recall the tears, the friends and the laughter of your three years at Ainlay. Our school's focus on character education has provided you with a foundation to be a proactive, responsible and successful person throughout your life. As this year's Student Council theme advises, "Step Up," and use what you have learned at Ainlay to make the world a better place for everyone. Regardless of the next step you take, university, college, the world of work, go with the same passion, determination and commitment you displayed as a Titan walking these halls.

On behalf of the staff and the administration, I would like to wish you every success in the future.

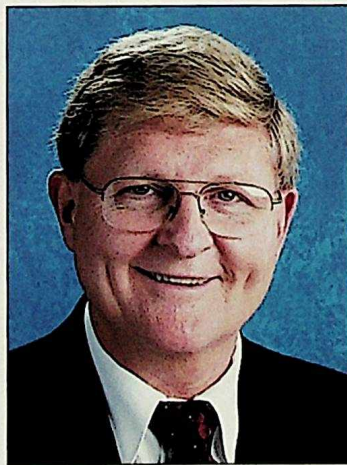

You will always be a Titan, 24-7. Go, succeed and live life with laughter.

Arisa Ishikawa and Miku Ozawa are students from Tokiwa University High School, in Ibaraki, Japan. These two students attended Harry Ainlay for three months from September to November. This is the second year of our exchange with Tokiwa University High School and Ainlay was able to establish a formal exchange relationship this year. Fourteen Ainlay students visited Tokiwa students in Japan during spring break and were hosted by these student's families for three nights. Our students then travelled to other locations in Japan. We look forward to many years of cultural and academic exchanges between our two schools.

Curricular

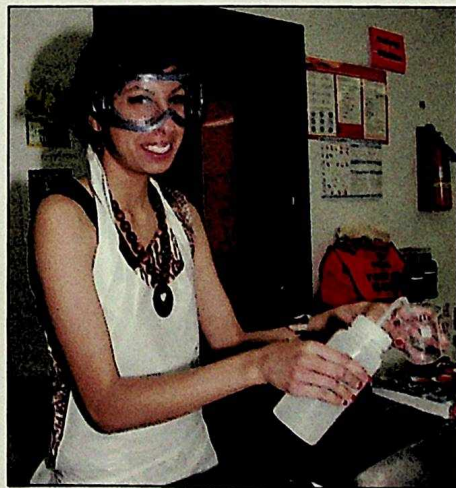

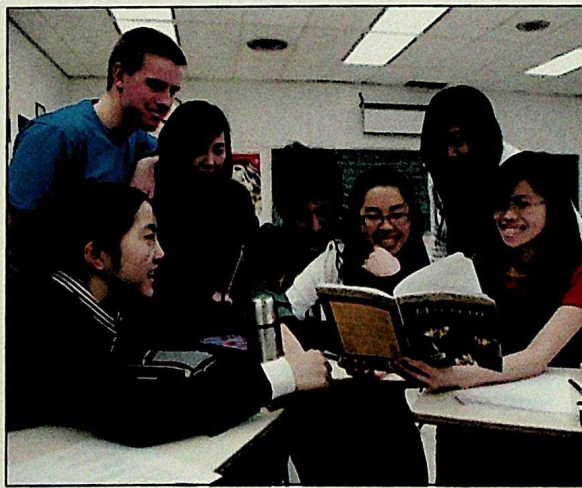

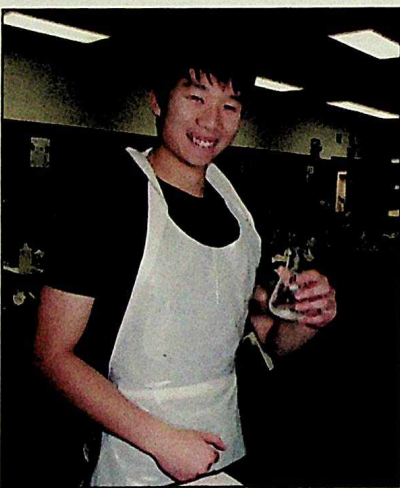

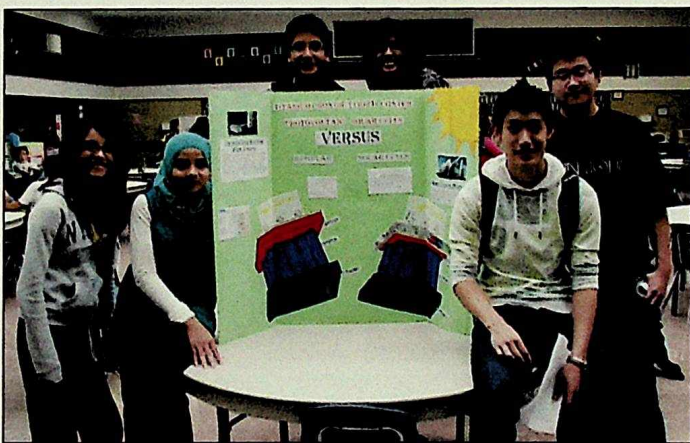

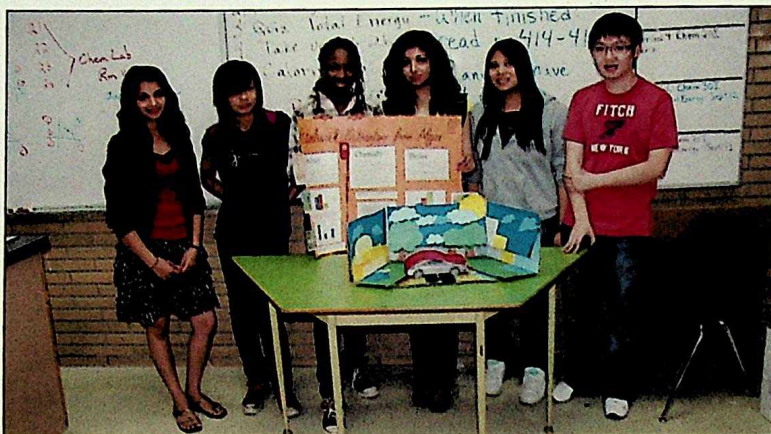

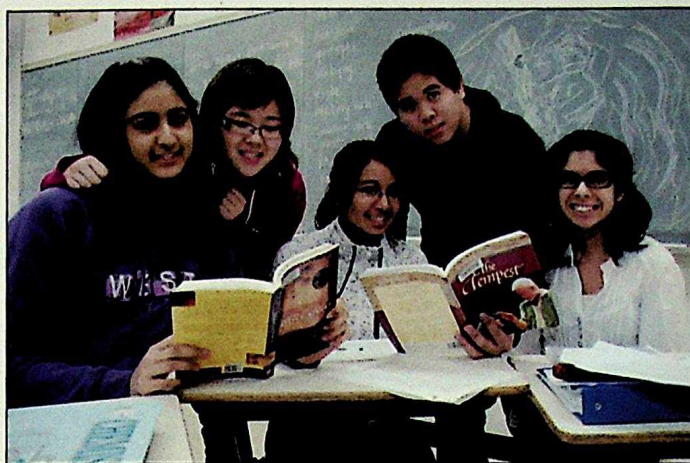

Core Subjects

The core subjects include science, english, social studies and mathematics. Each course offers an engaging curriculum that allow students to develop skills in writing, reading and performing science lab activities. The core subjects also allow for students to apply their knowledge through social, economic and political perspectives. Students are also given the opportunity to use their skills to develop and gain a better understanding of the world around them.

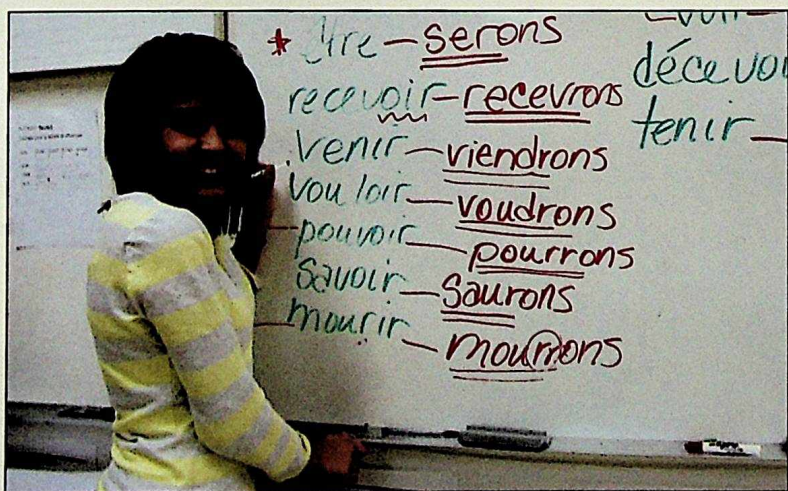

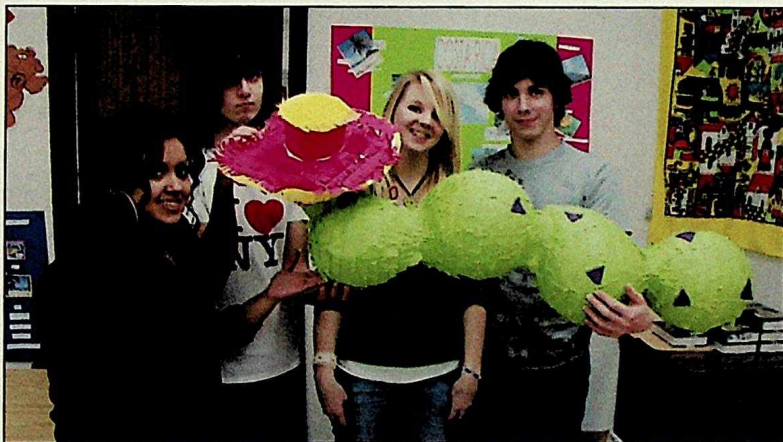

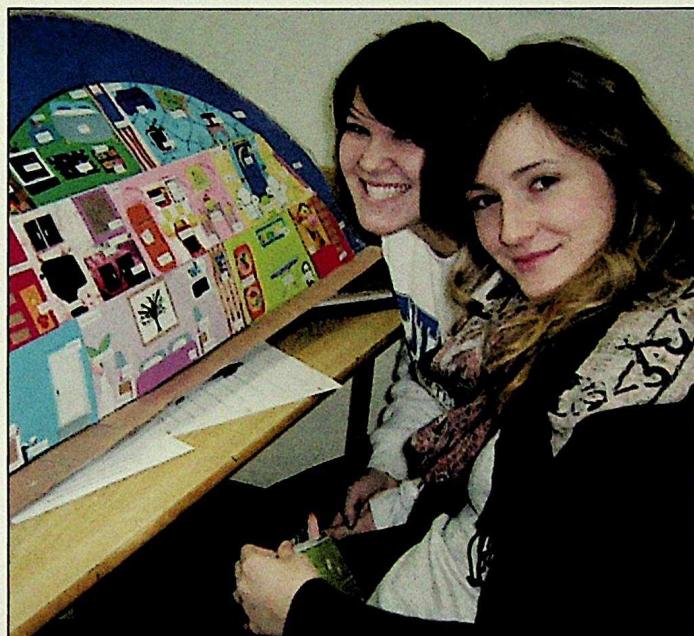

International Baccalaureate

This program challenges highly motivated students to develop critical thinking skills that will prepare them for life and future academic studies. High academic achievement and community service helps many IB students earn scholarships to further their studies. This is the 25th year that the IB program has been offered at Harry Ainlay! To celebrate this special occasion, there was an IB reunion on September 19th and 20th that took place in the school gymnasium. As well, the 1000th Harry Ainlay IB diploma will be given out to the student who embodies the exceptional standards of the IB program.

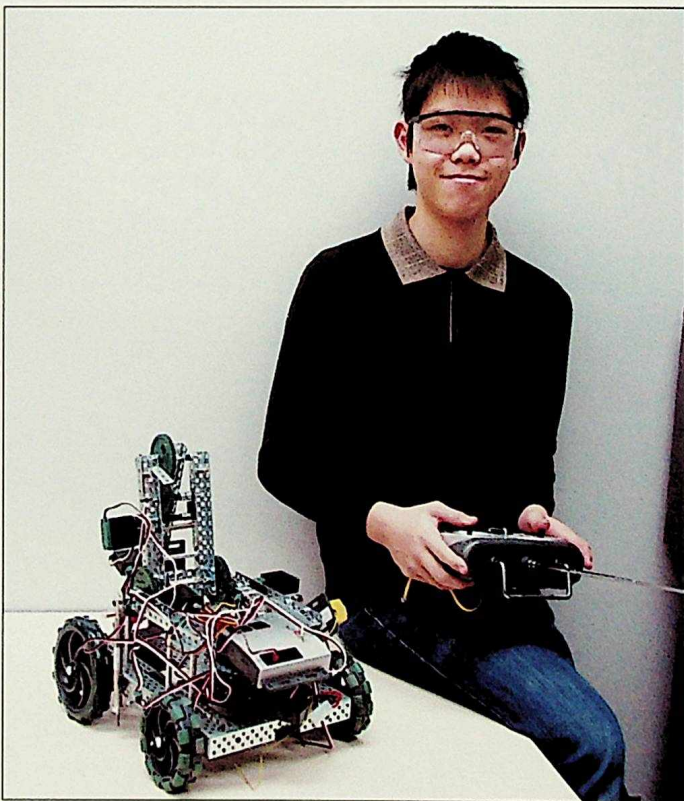

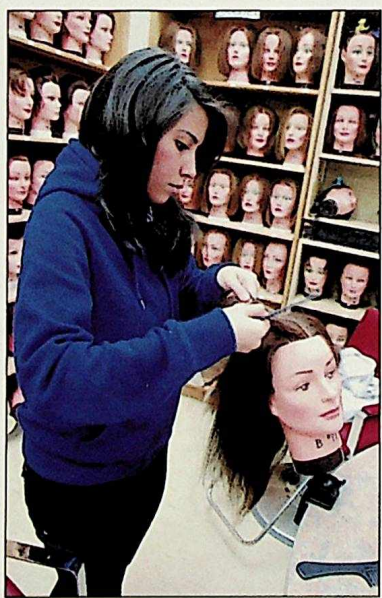

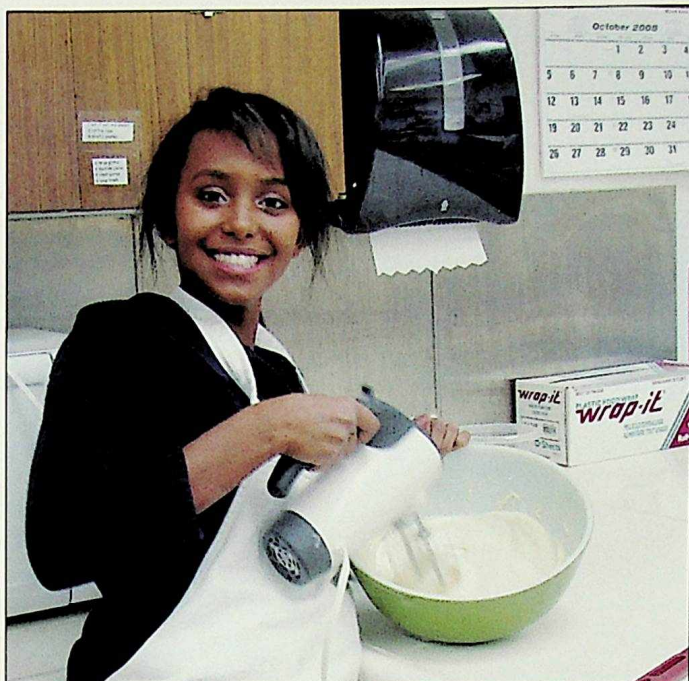

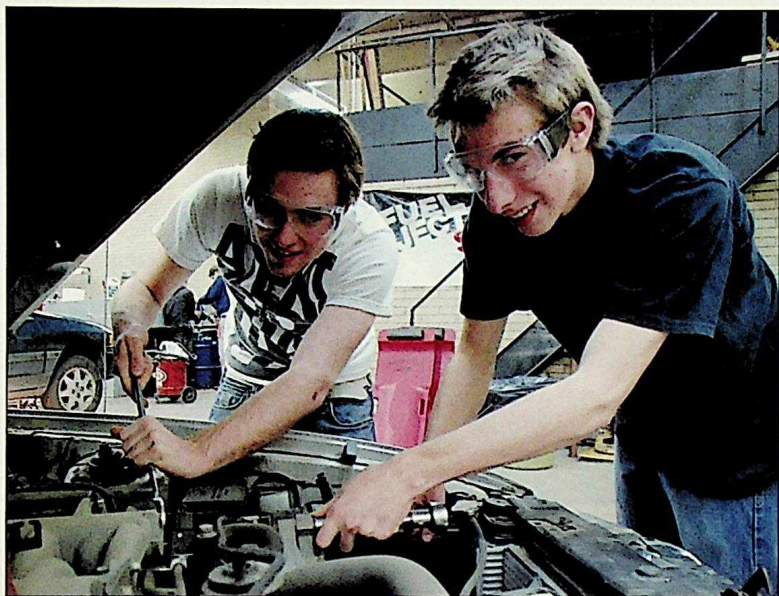

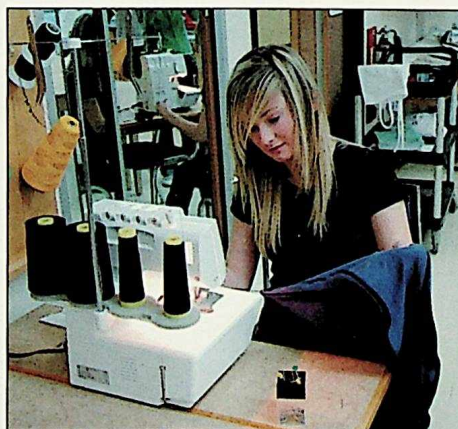

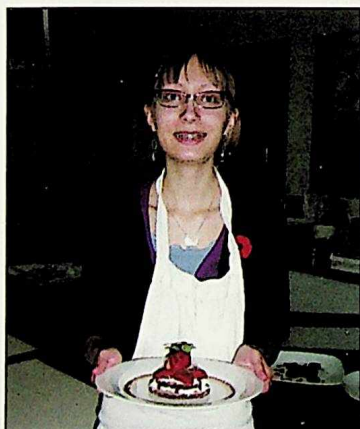

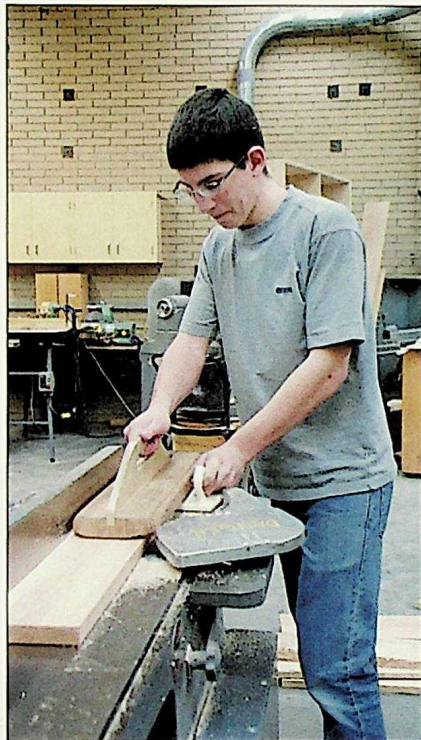

International Languages

Harry Ainlay offers French, Japanese, Spanish, and German, giving students an opportunity to learn a language and experience a new culture. Students attend field trips and exchange programs where they are exposed to the language and cultural experiences of this language group. Students not only gain the spoken/written communication skills, but also enhance their understanding of the respective peoples and their cultures.

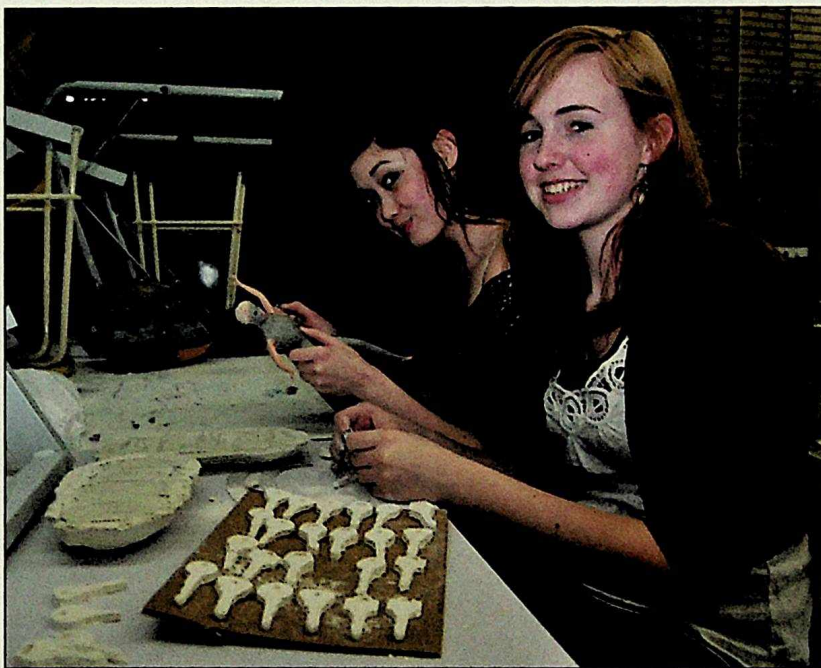

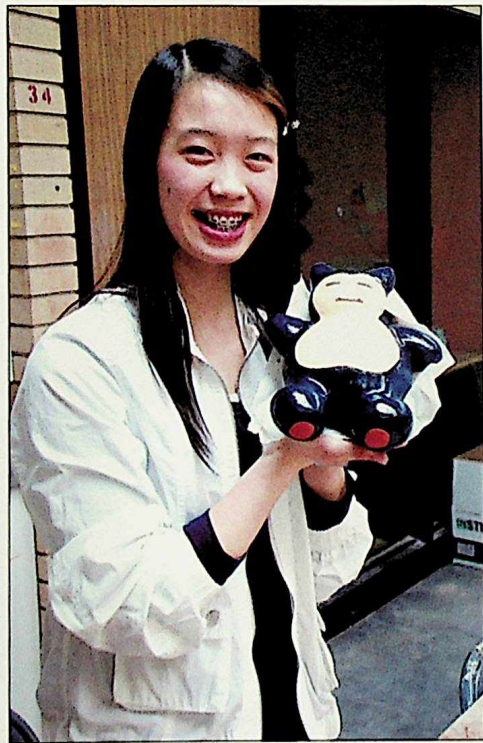

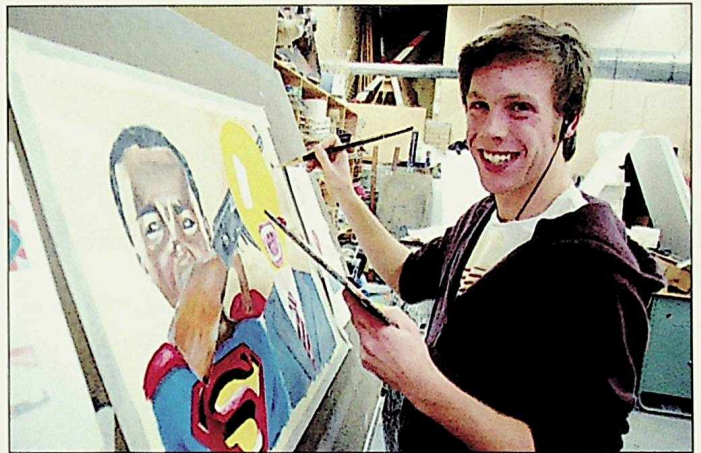

CTS The courses offered this year in CTS (Career and Technology Studies) are: mechanics, communication technology, cosmetology, design studies, fabrication metals, construction technology, fashion studies, food studies, computer programming & animation. These courses combine the theory with the hands-on application of this knowledge to create real-world projects such as grad gowns, furniture, and T-Shirts. This is a truly fun, creative and interesting way to acquire new skills.

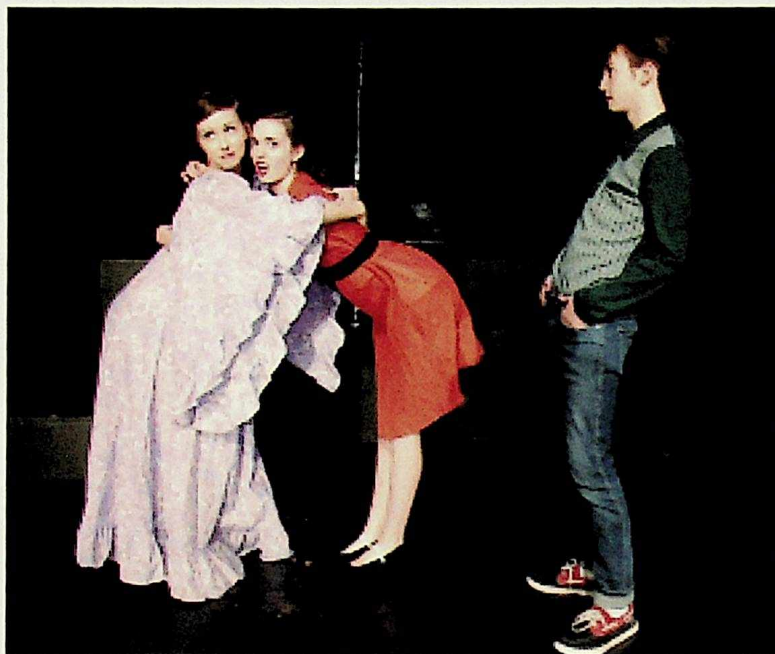

Art To create the numerous unique pieces of art the students used paper, paint, clay, styrofoam, clay and pastels. Along with theory and examples students spent many hours working on their creations to get the details just right. The result was a diverse collection of very personal projects that were eye-catching and thought provoking.

Drama "Grease is the word..." The Performing Arts Department's production of GREASE: School Version was a resounding success this year. It was a real team effort to put together the show; we had a cast of 52 (!) and technical crew of over 30, with students taking leadership roles in various areas of production (technical, creation, wardrobe, etc.). The show was so well received that it sold out all shows 2 weeks before it opened! Our production garnered 10 Cappies nominations for technical, performing and critic achievement.

Music This year was filled with great performances for the Harry Ainlay Music Department. The year started with 150 students attending our Music Retreat at Camp Nakamun. The Jazz Ensembles had their season debut in November and the Symphonic and Concert Bands and Concert Choir performed in December. Seven students represented Ainlay in the Provincial High School Honor Band and performed at Music Conference Alberta. The jazz groups provided music for Big Band Bash, and Concert and Symphonic Bands participated in the Alberta International Band Festival. The jazz ensembles played at Open House, and the Concert Choir, Concert Band and Symphonic Band played in the Spring Concert. Many of our students were involved in the EPS Night of Music at the Jubilee Auditorium. Symphonic Band and "A" Stage Band also participated in the Hawaiian Invitational International Festival in Honolulu. Symphonic Band received the highest mark of the festival, and "A" Stage Band received 3rd place in the highest Jazz Band category. Final performances included Winds at the Winspear, the final jazz night, Commencement ceremonies, and the Grade 10 & 11 Awards Ceremony.

French Immersion

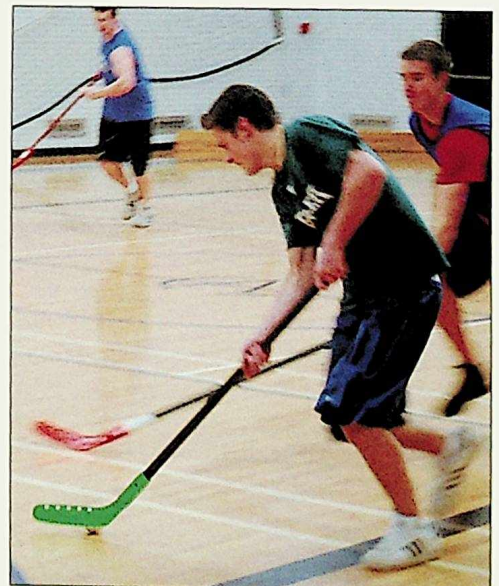

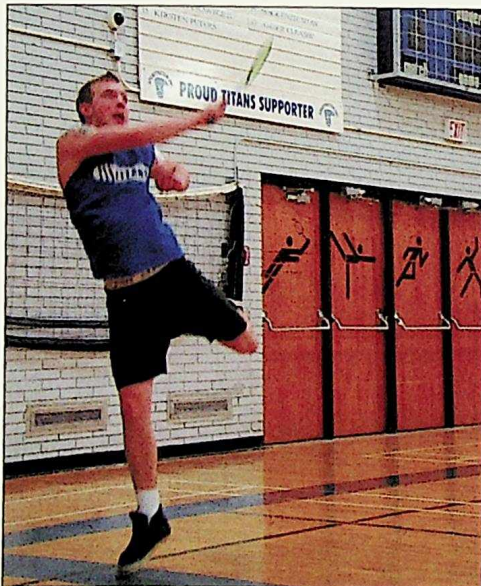

What a busy year for the French Immersion students : From the Gala, DELF, Franco 7 to our field trips to Bodyworlds, to the Princess Theater, and Galaxyland, we had a great year; it is a good thing we had physique and études sociales to relax us. Merci pour la belle année et bon été!

Physical Education

Student participation was fantastic this year as students were able to stay physically active by participating in Physical Education 10, 20 and 30 as well as Sports Performance and Fitness classes. Highlights this year include camping trips to YoWhoChAs and Kootenay Plains, Intramural badminton, 3 on 3 basketball, kickball and of course the dodgeball tournament. Thanks to all students who participated!

Fuyuka, Shota, Mizuki, Rina and Shiho are students from Tokiwa University High School, in Ibaraki, Japan. These students attended Harry Ainlay for three months from September to November to enhance their english skills and to learn about Canadian culture. This is the second year of our exchange with Tokiwa University High School and we were able to establish a formal exchange relationship this year. Fourteen Ainlay students visited Tokiwa students in Japan during spring break and were hosted by the exchange student's families for three nights. Our students then travelled to other locations in Japan. We look forward to many years of cultural and academic exchanges between our two schools.

Hi! My name is Oscar Wong. I was eight years old when I was diagnosed with Muscular Dystrophy (MD) a genetic disorder that weakens the muscles over time. People with MD have incorrect or missing information in their genes, which prevents them from making the proteins they need for healthy muscles. I have been in and out of the hospital since December 2009 for pneumonia, bronchitis, back surgery, and my latest is a tracheotomy to allow air to pass through my lungs. My goal is to complete high school and become a computer engineer analyst. I am a self-confident person and like to have fun in life. I enjoyed my time at Ainlay and hope to return in the fall.

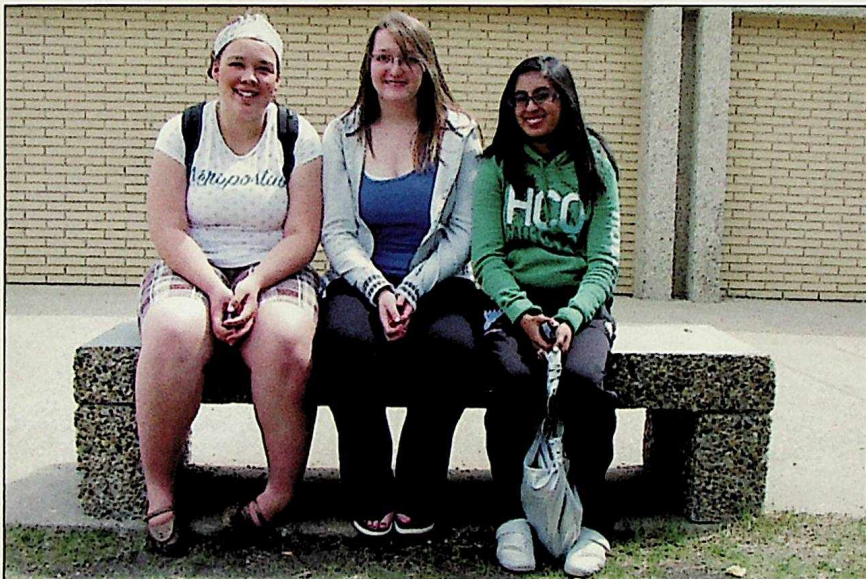

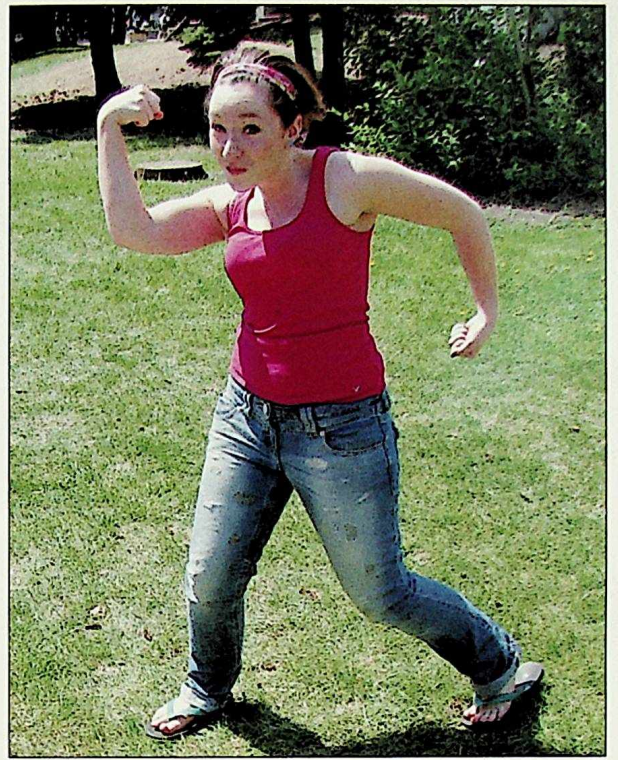

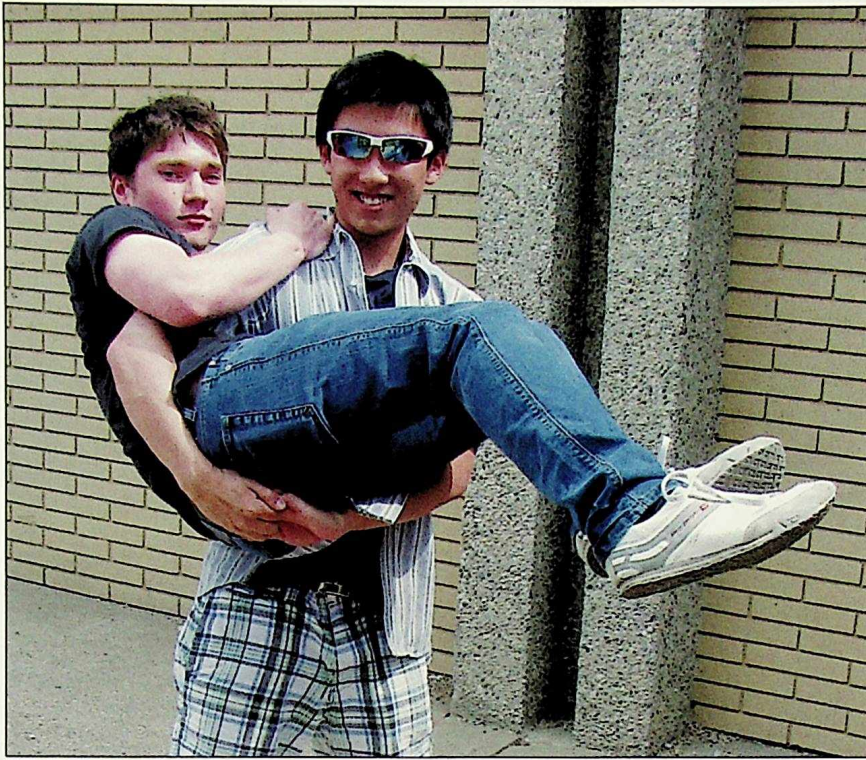

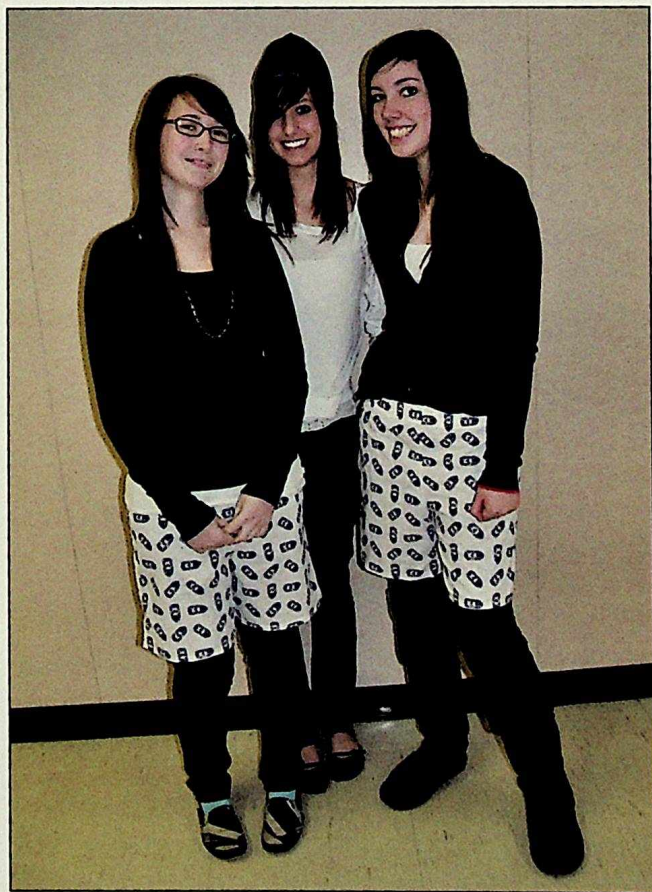

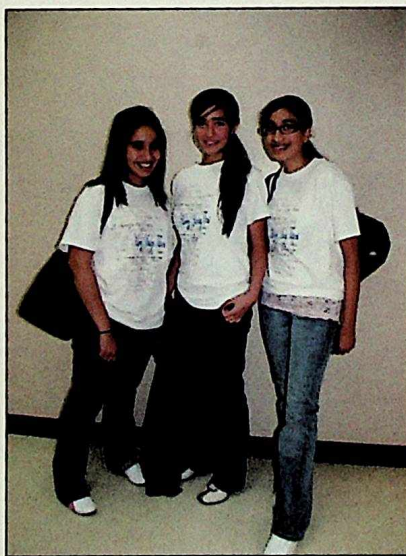

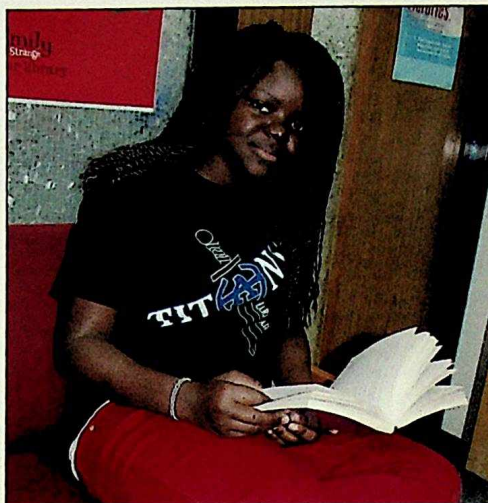

Inside Ainlay is a daily menagerie of 2300 students learning, playing, socializing, and just hanging out and having fun. Friendships made, sports played, memories that will never fade. As Titans we cheer on our teams, listen to great tunes, cram, laugh, and talk sprawled across the hallway blocking traffic. Inside these walls, Ainlay became our home away from home.

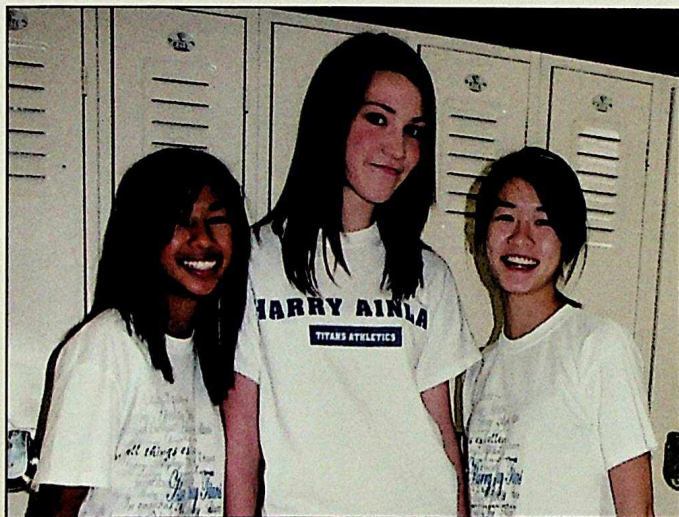

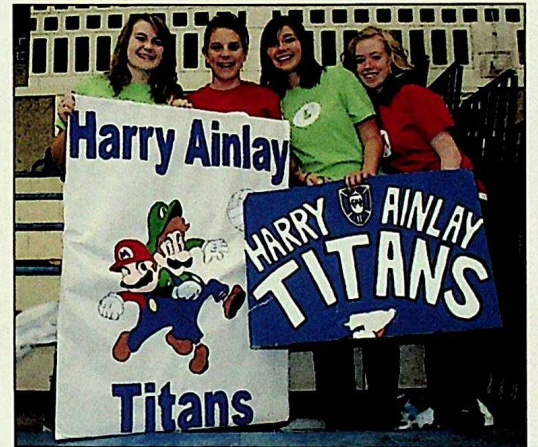

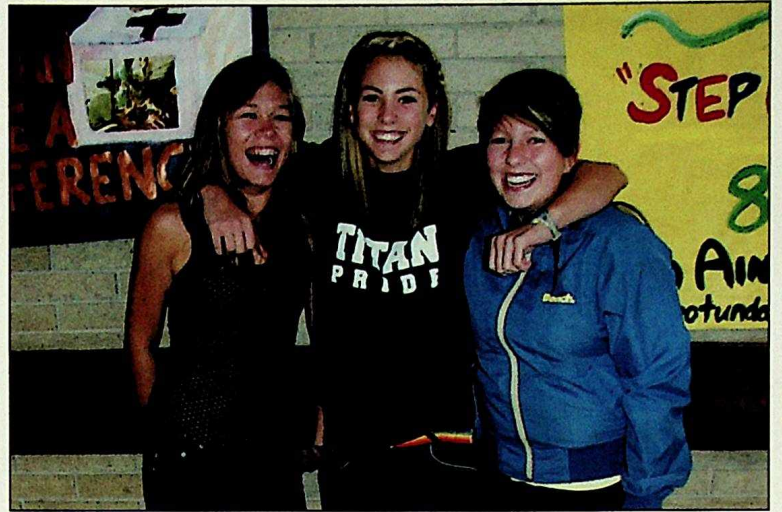

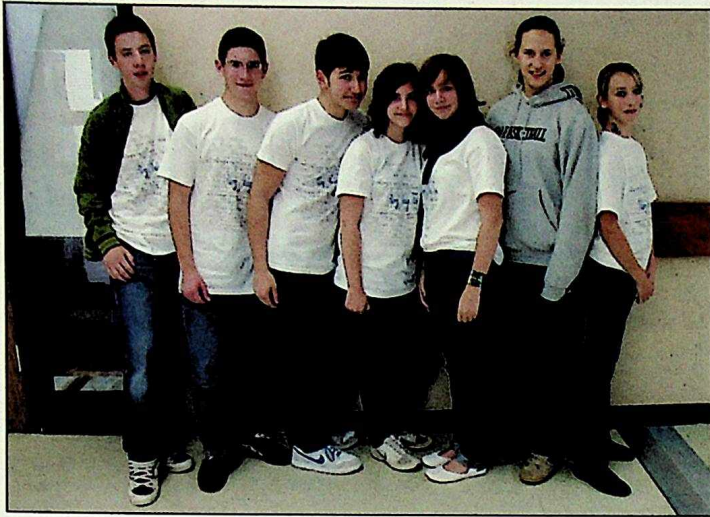

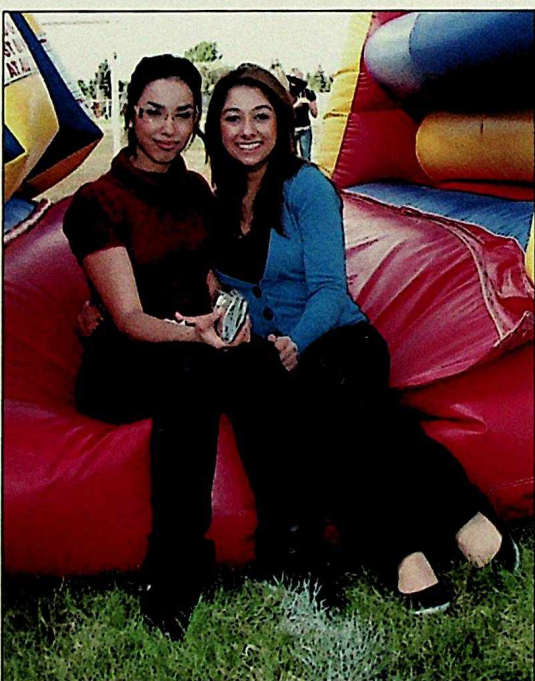

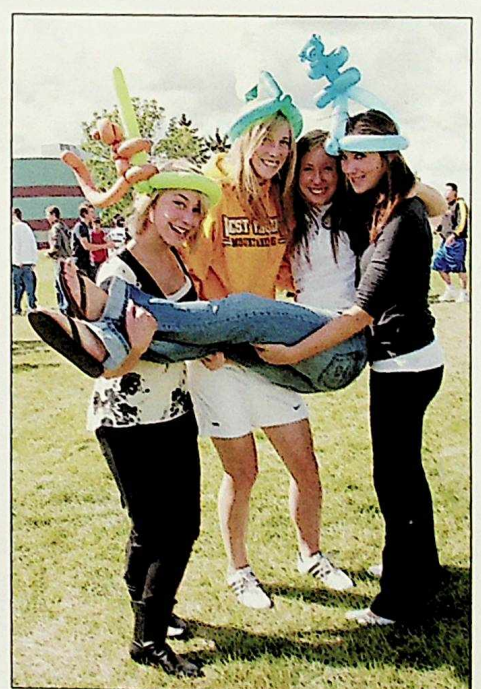

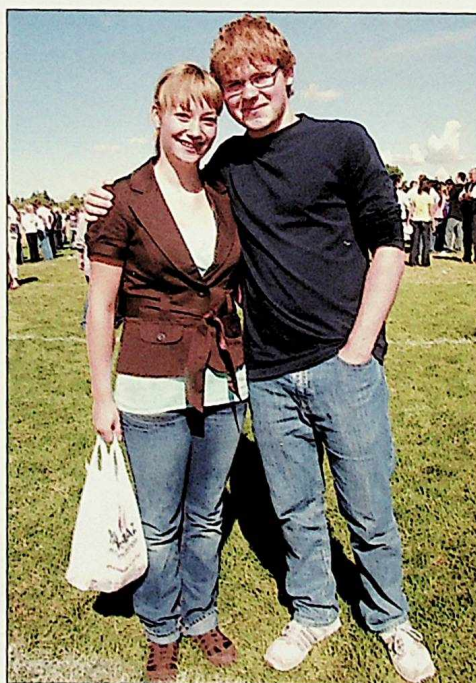

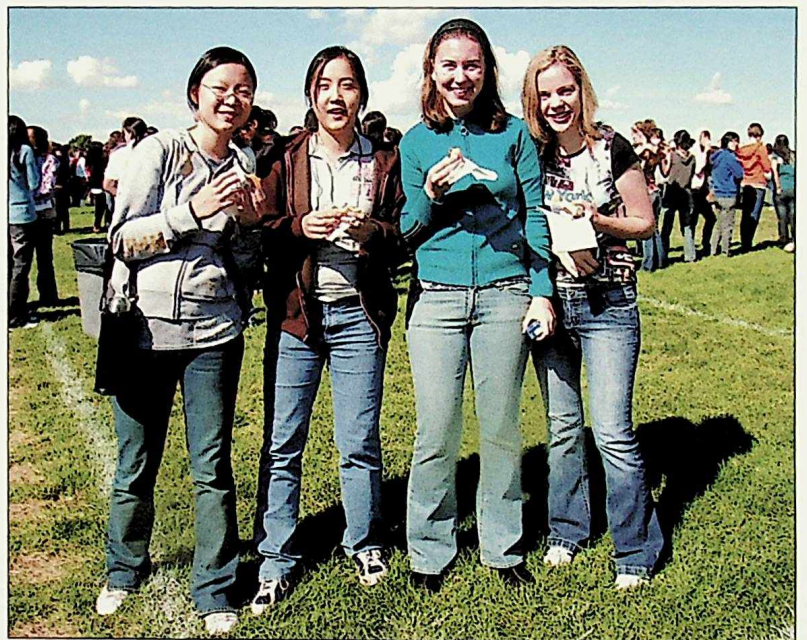

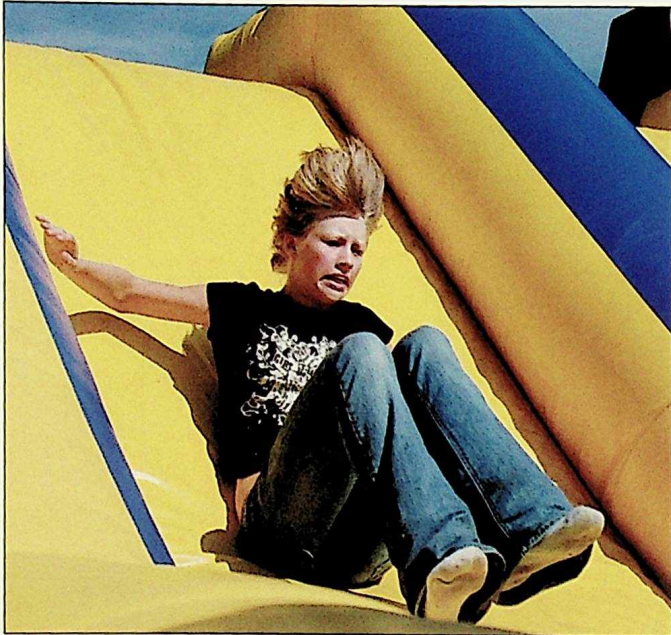

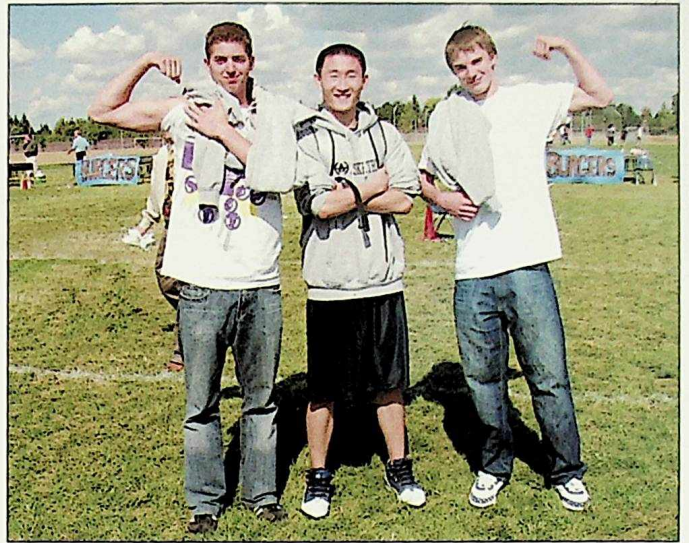

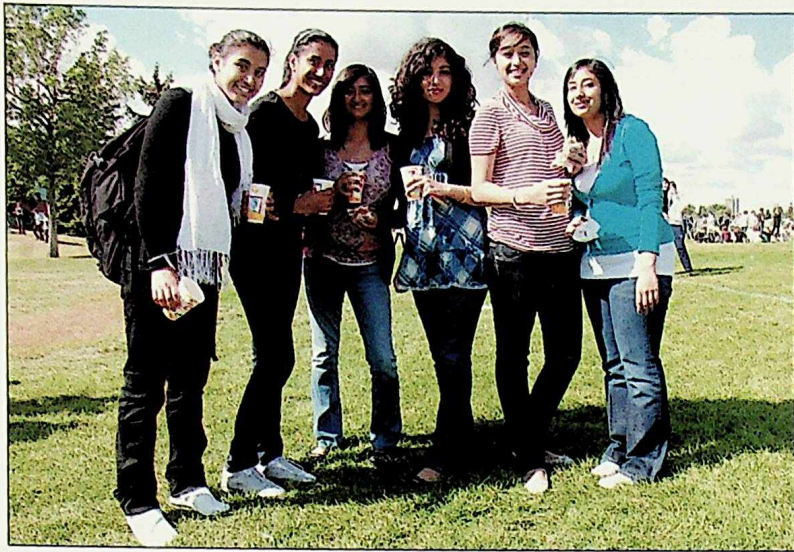

Titan Pride Yes, that is the glow of 'Titan Pride' that you see on all of our faces. Go to an Ainlay tournament and see Titans loudly expressing their school spirit. Students put on our school colours and step up as leaders, athletes and volunteers. We all take pride in being a part of the Ainlay community. Here at Harry Ainlay we take pride in striving towards our school's motto: In Omnibus Excelsior (In All Things Excellence). Go, Titans!

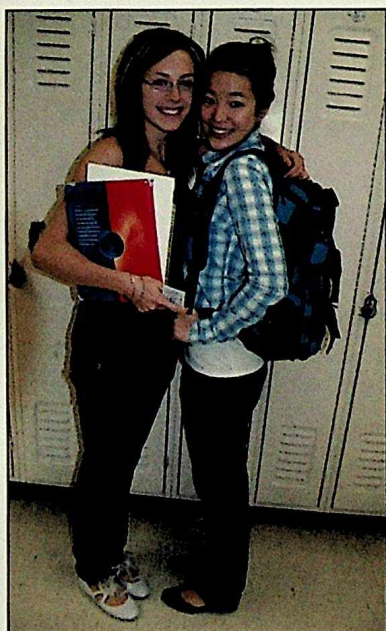

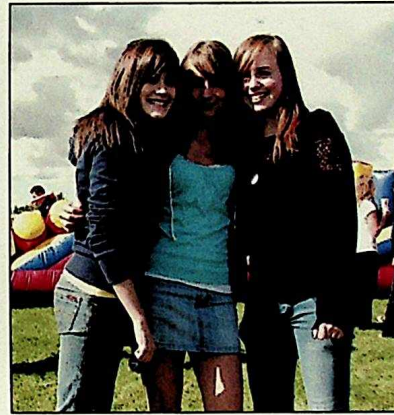

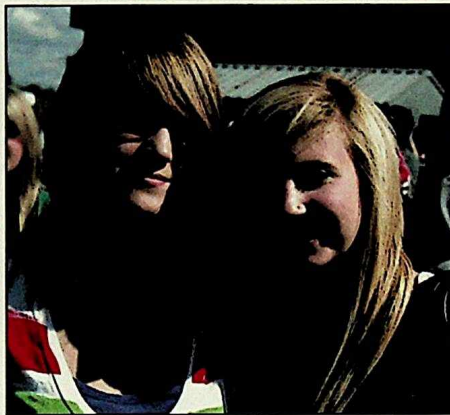

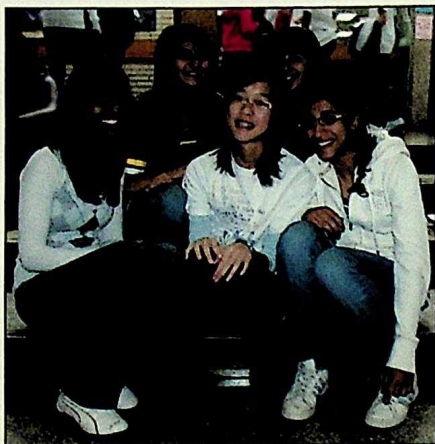

Welcome Back Barbecue This is a great way to start off the new school year. For grade 10's, this is their first Titan event and an opportunity to meet new people. For the 11's and 12's they reconnect with old friends once again. The inflatable obstacle course, burgers, and, everybody's favorite, the teacher dunk tank, provides a welcoming atmosphere for Titans old and new to a sizzling new year!

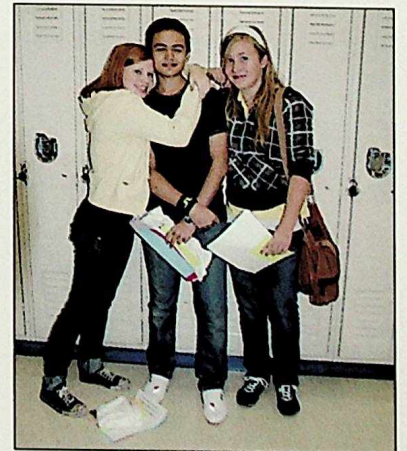

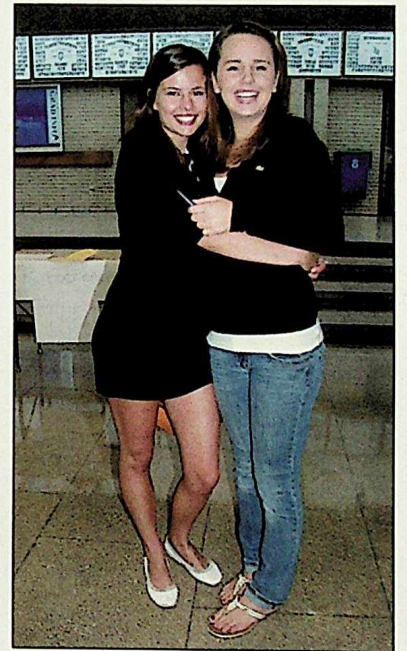

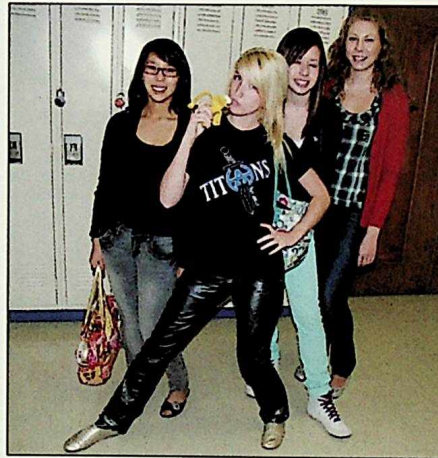

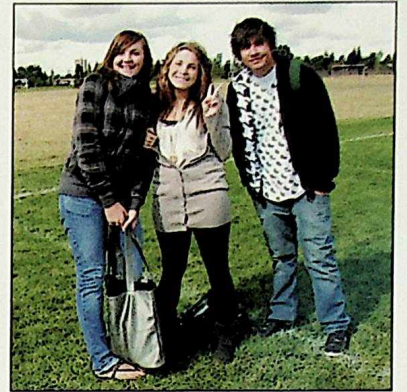

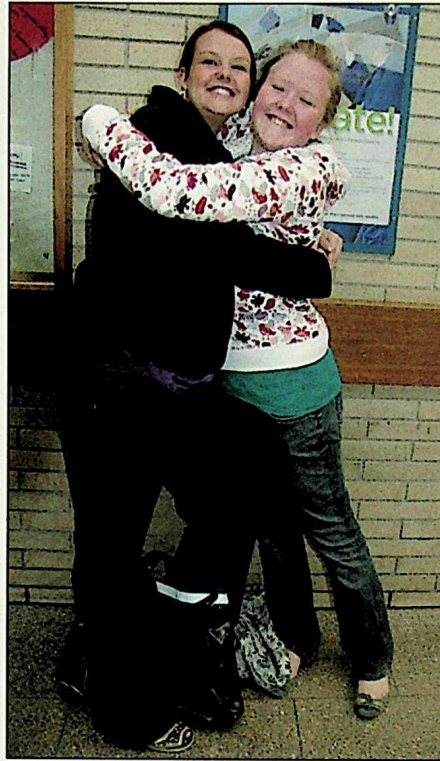

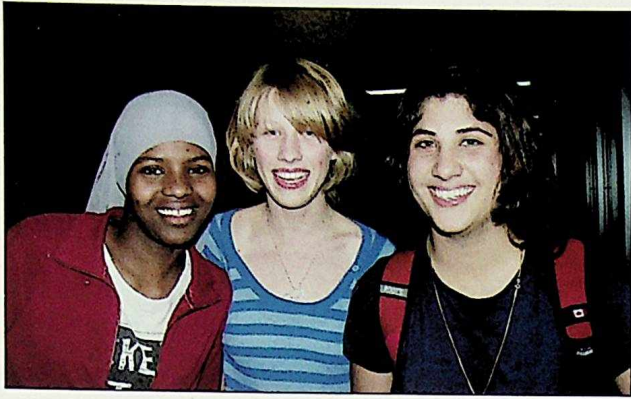

Friends Forever

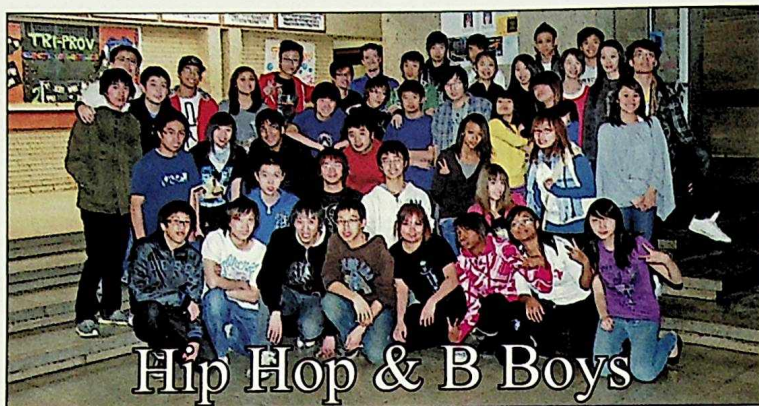

High School - Three years of homework, exams, and best of all, GREAT FRIENDS!!! Friends to share our joys, sorrows and adventures. So give your friends a hug and savour these special moments!

Titan Volunteers

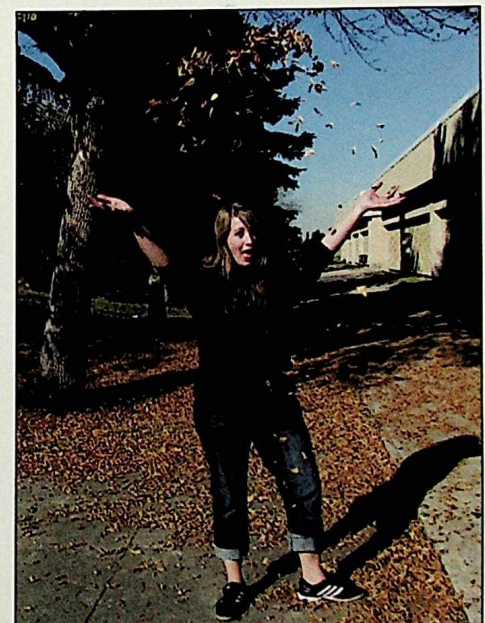

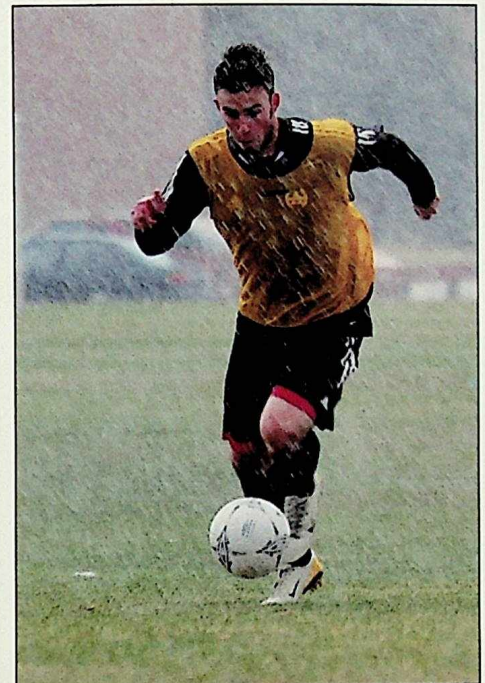

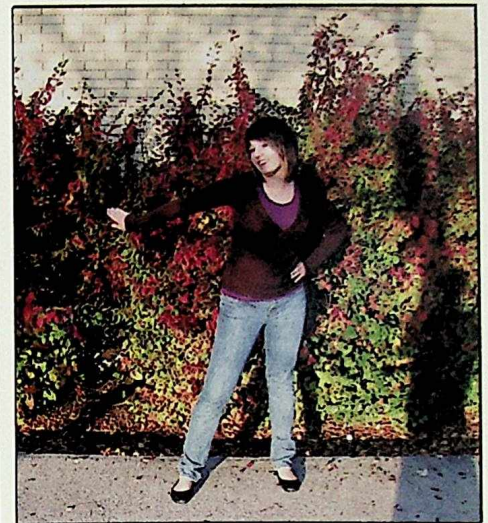

Step Up to make the tournaments and events at Ainlay truly spectacular. With smiles on their faces and countless hours committed they made the shows happen. From TVT to Touch of Class to Tri-Prov to Graduation our volunteers made each one of these events a memorable experience. 10,000 thank you's to each and every volunteer. You rocked!!

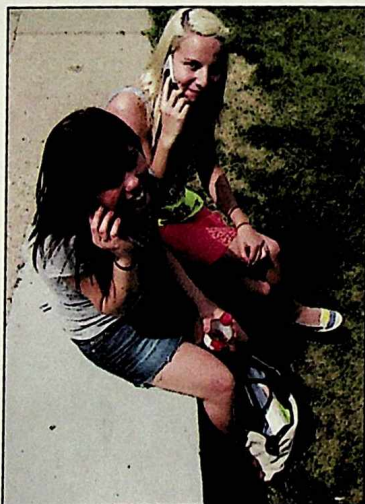

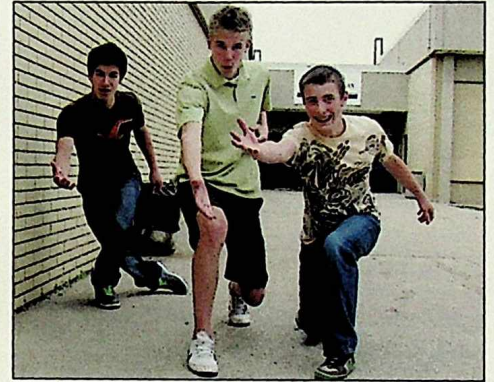

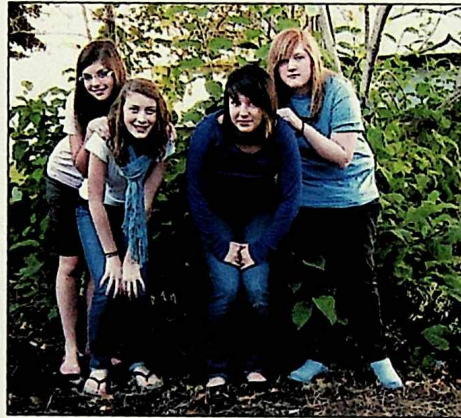

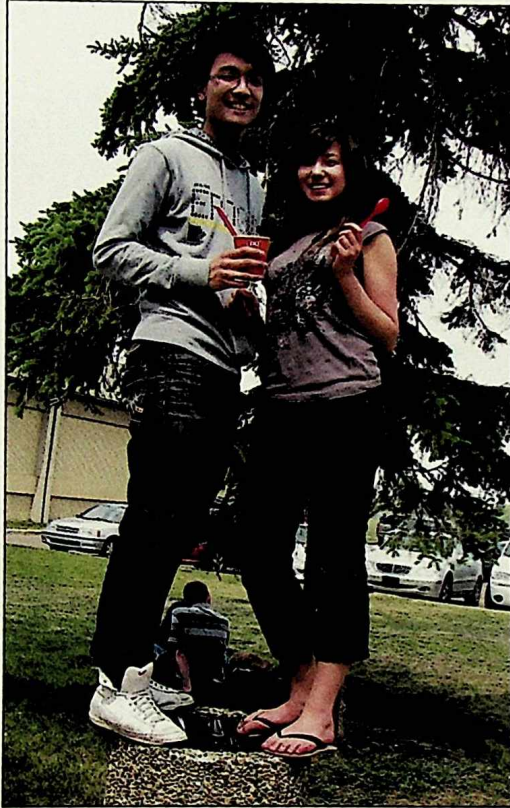

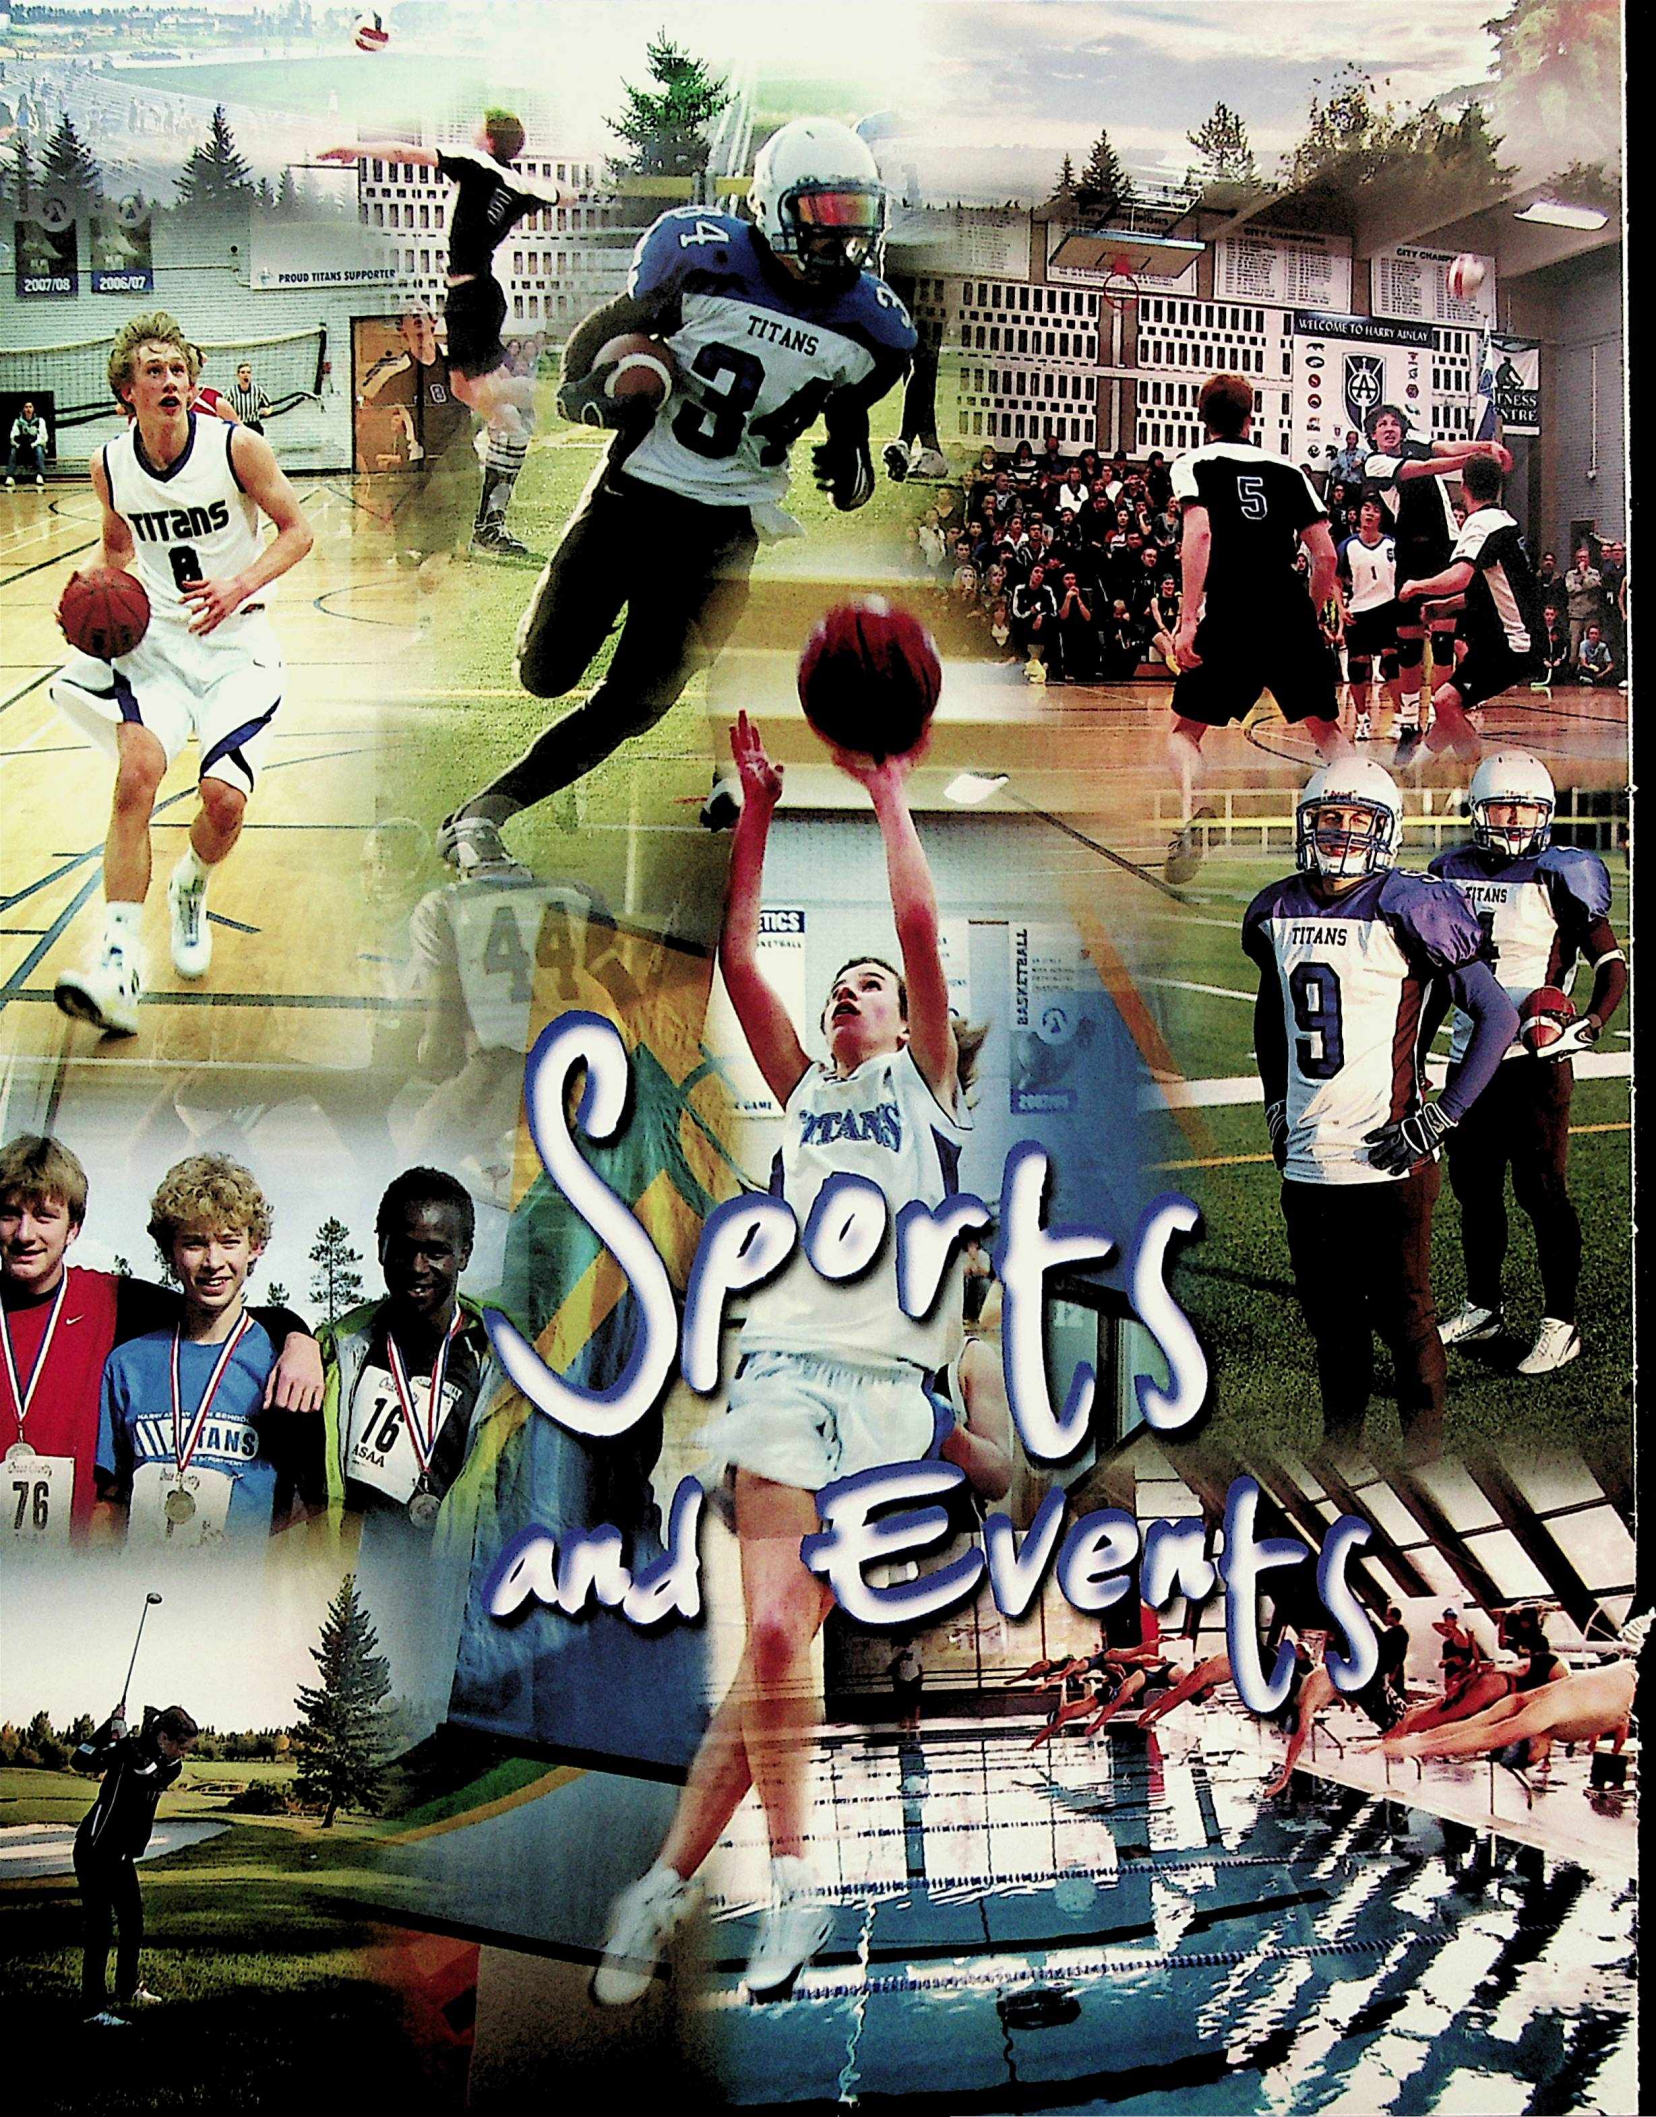

North of 50

Brrrr! When you live at 53 degrees North latitude you expect to have some incredibly varied weather. Temperatures here plummet to -40°C in the depths of winter and soar to $+30^{\circ}\text{C}$ in the summer months. Everybody's clothes closet has 3 sets of clothes; summer, fall/spring and winter, to cope with the rising and plunging temperatures. With that said we wouldn't be too surprised to see a girl dropped off at school running into the school wearing flip-flops, followed by her brother in a pair of shorts during the middle of a -40°C snowstorm. Hey, fashion definitely trumps weather any day of the week. No matter how tough it gets Titans step-up and conquer the elements.

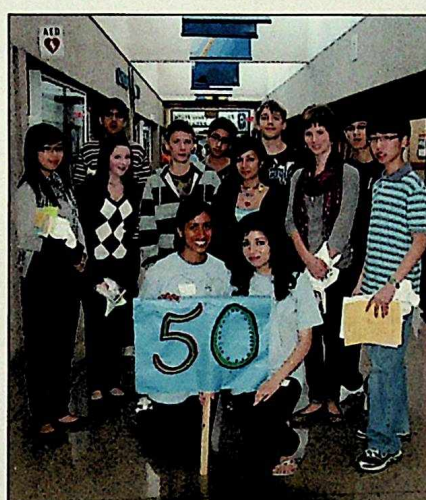

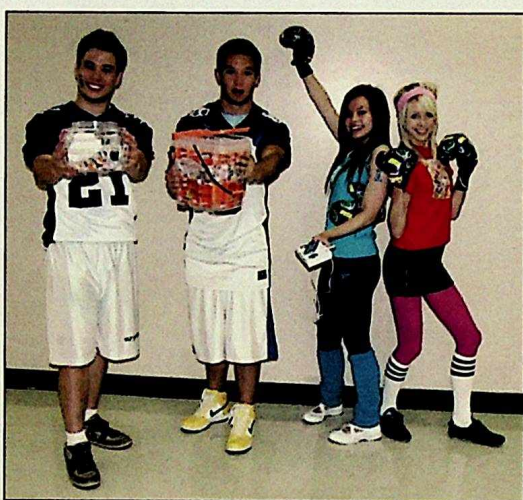

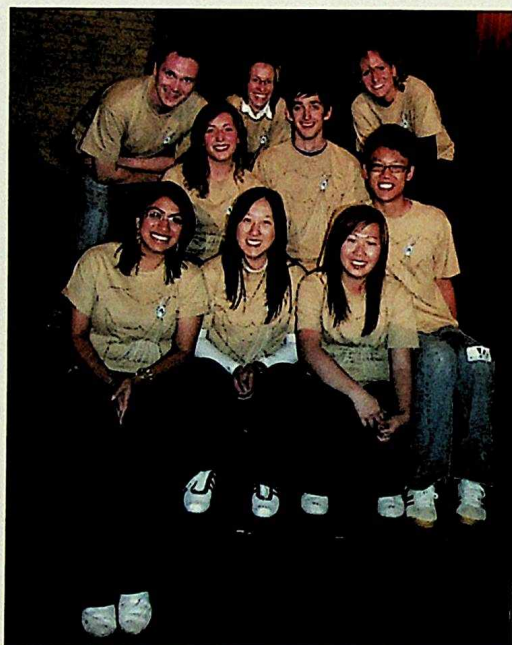

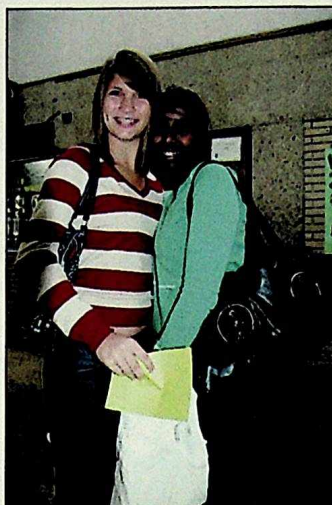

Sports and Events

Link Crew On August 28th 740 brand new Grade ten students participated in Link Crew. Our new Titans were introduced to the school through tours, presentations and speeches, and were able to meet fellow students through various activities led by Link Crew leaders. With entertaining introductory videos, enthusiastic staff and students, and Subway's amazing cookies, the Grade tens definitely caught a glimpse of our Titan spirit! This event could not have been a success without the hard work put forth by the A-Team, the Dream-Team, the leaders, the executive committee, and the teacher advisors. Link Crew 2008 was rockin'!

Golf The girl's team participated at the Stony Plain golf course in very adverse conditions. Despite a fine showing they just missed qualifying for Provincials this year. Ainalay's men participated in the Edmonton Zone Championships at The Links Golf Course in Spruce Grove. Battling the cold weather and windy conditions, the men finished first in the team category and Cole Chelle shot an even par round to win the Zone tournament. At provincials in Calgary, the men finished in the top five in the team category and Cole Chelle shot a four under par to win the men's individual provincial championship. Well done Titans!!

Cross Country This year's team had a very successful season with great weather and a large turnout of athletes. Momentum continued, and six runners (Cole Peterson, Steven Song, Michael Orr, Sarah Wallinga, Molly Wreakes and Nicole Soderberg) qualified for the provincial championships in Cochrane, Alberta. A special congratulations to Cole Pederson, who became the junior men's city and provincial champion. Thanks to all coaches and runners for an awesome season!

Swimming

This year's Titan swim team was the biggest ever, with over 125 registered swimmers competing in swim meets throughout the city. To accommodate such big numbers, practices were increased to four times a week, and extra coaches were brought in. By the end of the season, we had over 100 swimmers qualify for city finals and competing at Kinsmen pool on November 26th. We had our best finish in almost 20 years, coming in 2nd with 4100 points. Many swimmers had their personal bests at the cities, competing strongly - if not winning - in their heats at Kinsmen, and earning valuable points for our team. Congratulations on well deserved victories.

Senior Football

Congratulations to the senior football team on their successful season this year. Ainlay played in the tier 1 division and finished with a record of 3 wins and 2 losses during the regular season versus their 5 opponents. They qualified for the playoffs and lost their semifinal game in a tough fought battle. This year's team was an extremely fast and physical team that was a dominating force in the league. All players and coaches should be proud of their accomplishments this season.

Junior Football

Congratulations are due to all the members of this year's Junior Men's Football team, for a season marked by significant growth both individually and as a team. Though our inexperience showed early in the schedule, our players picked up the skills and strategies of the game quickly, all of which culminated with a rout of Ross Sheppard in the last game of the year. The team played well in our semi-final game, but unfortunately we couldn't pull out the win. We wish our player all the best, and look forward to seeing them tear up the field with our Senior Men's team next year – well done Titans!

Senior Women's Volleyball

The 2008 edition of the Titans senior women's volleyball team once again represented the school with pride. Starting the year with a young team, the girls set high goals and began the season ready to work hard. Each day, practice and game they came together as a team and improved. Competing in very tough tournaments and leagues, the team won the consolation at the Spruce Grove Invitational and Titan Volleyball Tournament, the silver medal at the Kalamalka Secondary tournament in Vernon, B.C. and the silver medal at the Edmonton Public City Championships. Congratulations to the entire team for an excellent season!

Senior Men's Volleyball

The Senior Men's volleyball team had an amazing season. In tournament play they finished an impressive 2nd place at U of A, 1st at Bev Facey, 3rd at TVT, and 1st at the Coyote Classic in Kelowna, and went undefeated in regular season play without dropping a single set. The boys also won their 13th City Championship in the last 14 years with a hard fought victory over Spruce Grove. This year, Ainlay hosted the ASAA provincial championships. The team responded by dropping only a single set, winning the 9th Provincial Title in school history. Jay Olmstead and Jordan Baker received numerous all-star and MVP awards, and Shea Murphy received an all-star in Kelowna. As well as numerous individual accomplishments throughout the year, the ultimate team goal was achieved as a result of hard work and sacrifice. Congratulations to our City and Provincial Champions!

Junior Women's Volleyball

This season the Junior Women's team was quite successful. The team attended four tournaments and received medals at three of them. They came away with two silver medals, from Western Canada and TWT and achieved gold at the Lindsay Thurber tournament. At the end of the tournaments many of our players were selected as tournament All Stars. As the season progressed the team improved their game mentally and physically. They worked their way to the premier city finals and finished silver medalists. Great Job Ladies!

Junior Men's Volleyball

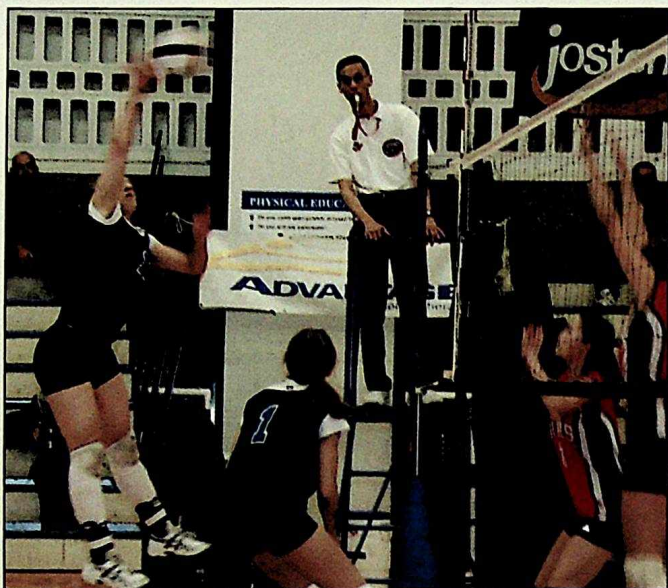

This year the Junior Men's Volleyball team had another outstanding season. In the beginning, with one returning player, the odds were against the boys who still managed to finish at the top of the league. All athletes represented themselves and the school with the utmost respect and integrity both on and off the court. Guided by the expertise of their coaches Ms. Masson, Constable Myhre, and Mr. Lockhat the boys went undefeated all the way to winning their third consecutive City Championship. Way to go Titans, we are all proud of you!

TVT For 29 years, the Titan Volleyball Tournament (TVT) has showcased the talents and sportsmanship demonstrated not only by Titan athletes, but by many others from across Canada and around the world. Congratulations to the student executives and staff advisors for this year's amazing Nintendo Mario-themed show. This effort, combined with the help of team coaches, talented players and volunteers, has made the tournament increasingly successful with each passing year. Thank you to all of the volunteers involved and to the Titan volleyball teams for upholding their strong tradition of success. Congratulations Titans for another great year! Game On!

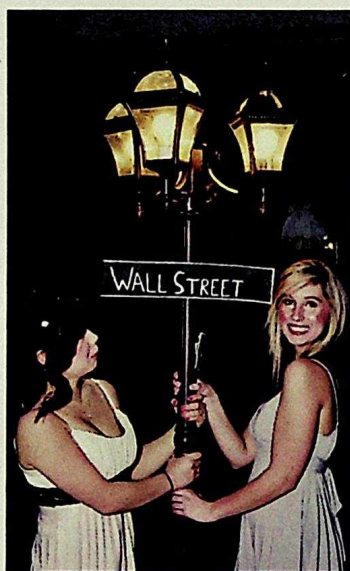

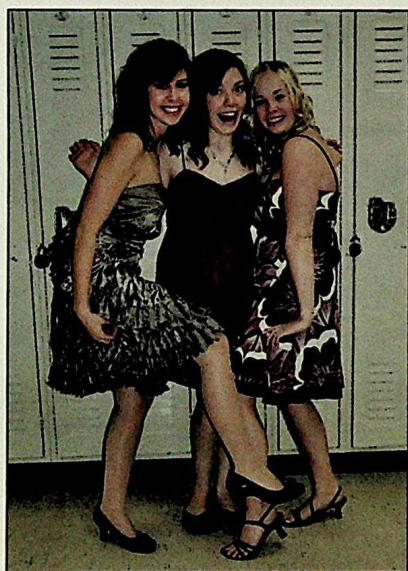

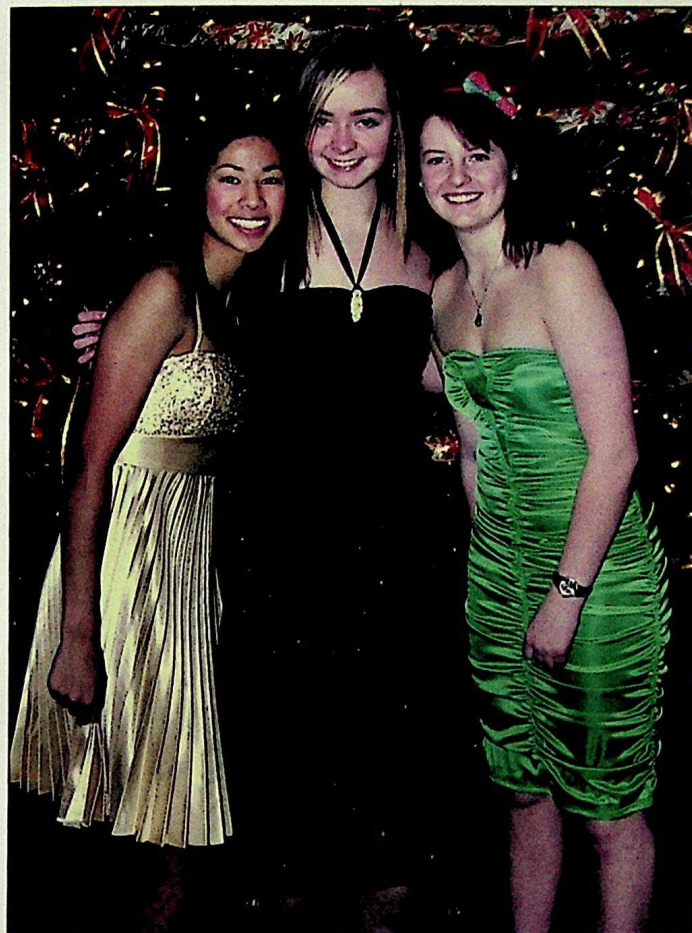

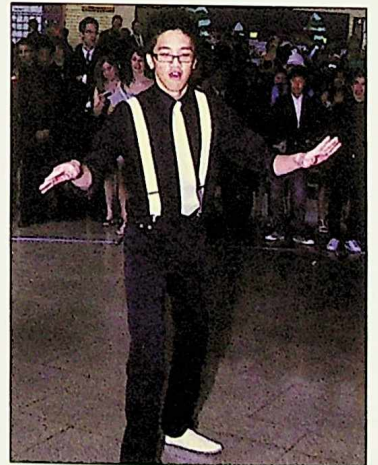

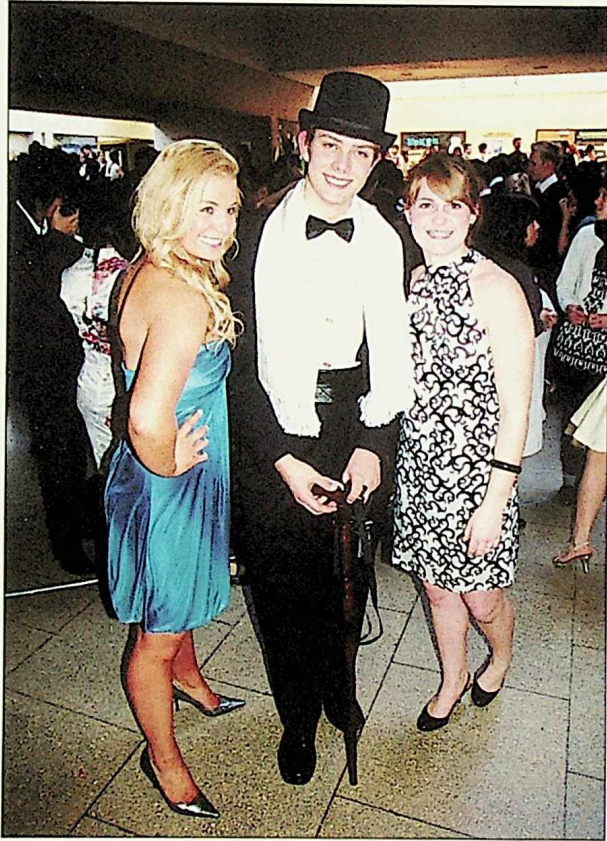

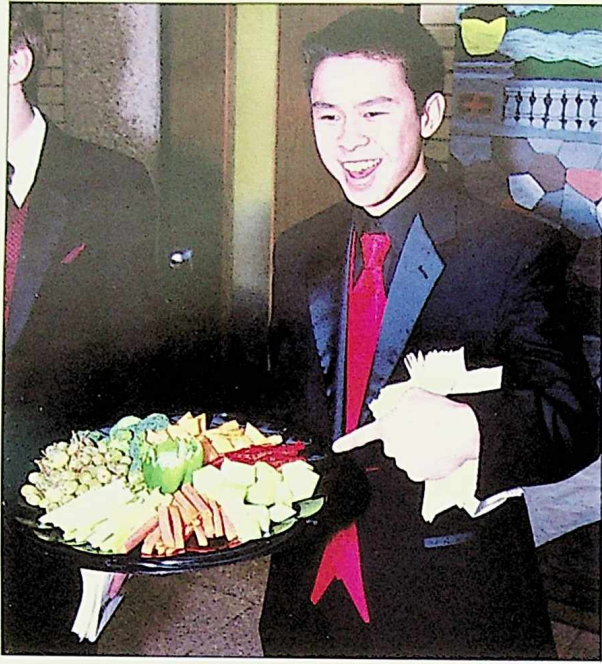

Halloween Titans showed their creative side by dressing up as superheroes, cowboys and individuals from different eras of the past. There was even a visit from the Olympic Jamaican bobsled team! From movie characters to animals, including cows & gorillas, the school was filled with excitement & Halloween spirit. Fun rotunda activities including the mummy wrap, doughnut eating contest and pumpkin carving, entertained us at lunch hour. Titans flaunted their amazing outfits on the annual rotunda Halloween Runway.

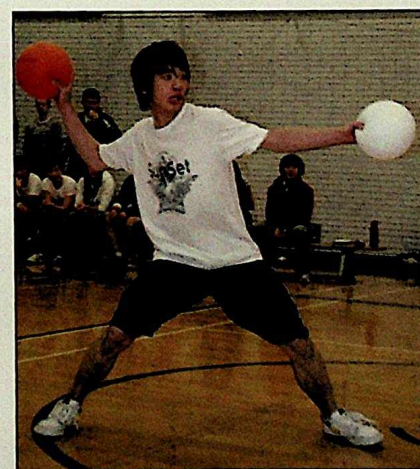

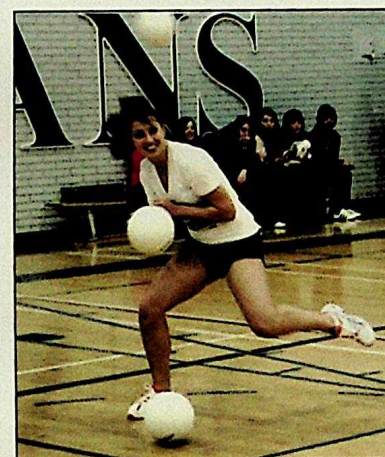

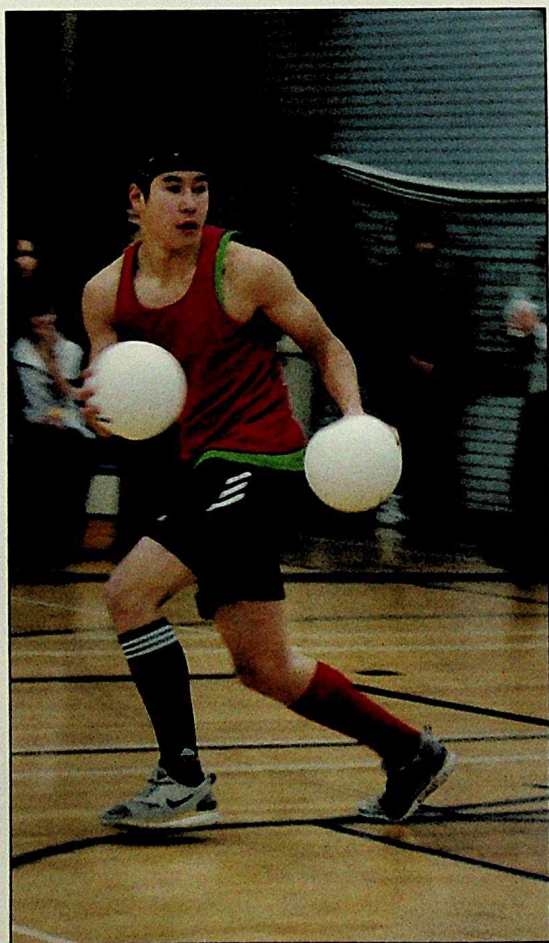

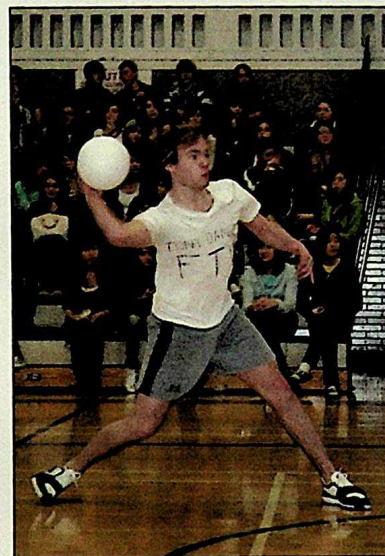

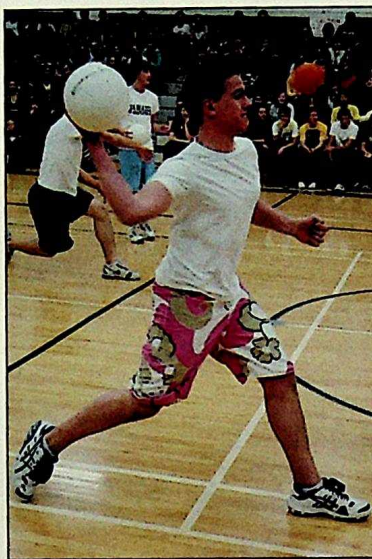

A Touch of Class took us to the divine streets of New York this year. Girls in their glamorous dresses and guys in their stylish tuxes filled the school with a note of elegance. The rotunda was a haven for camera flashes and gaiety. Music filled the halls and delicious delights were served by formally-dressed volunteers. Students and teachers looked like Broadway Stars decked out in all their dramatic splendor.

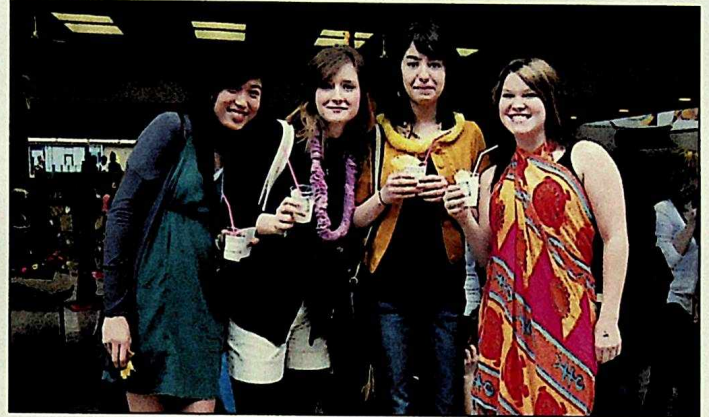

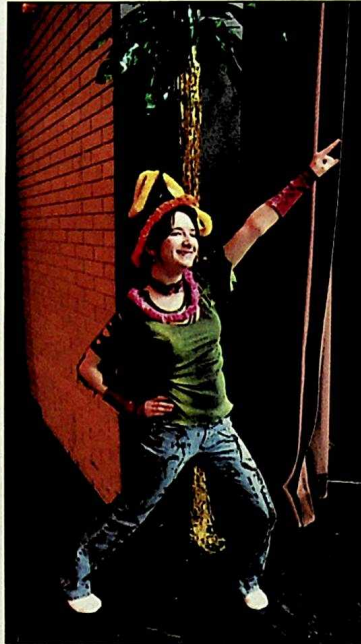

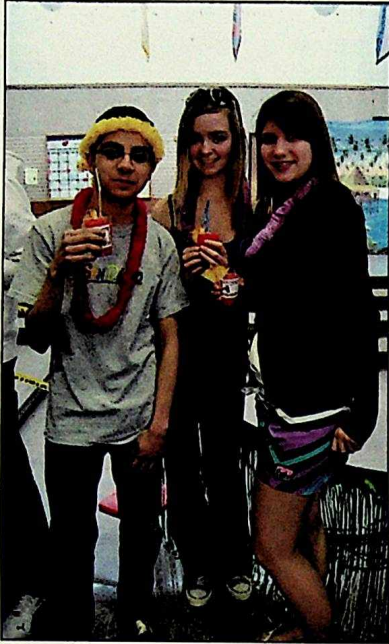

Dodgeball

In a battle to the death two teams struggle for dodgeball supremacy. This high-intensity two-week long tournament included teams of both students and teachers. Down to the exhilarating final match, the winning teacher team and the student team dueled for the coveted title of Dodgeball Champions. It was an epic and hard-fought barrage of balls, with the students emerging as the triumphant victors.

Aloha Ainlay The freezing winter day didn't stop Ainlay from hosting Aloha Ainlay festivities. Students got out their hula skirts, sunglasses and T-shirts, ready to hit the tropical paradise. Pina Colodas and Strawberry Daiquiris were served in the rotunda, which was transformed into a soothing tropical island with palm trees and summer music.

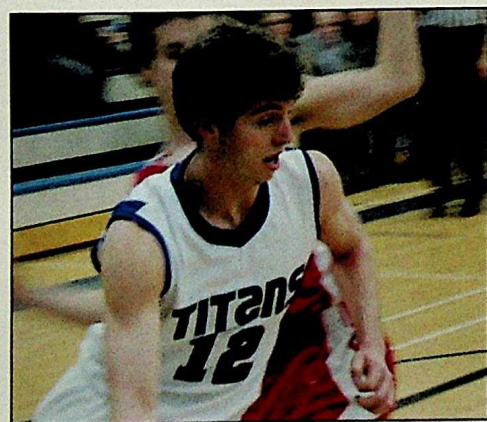

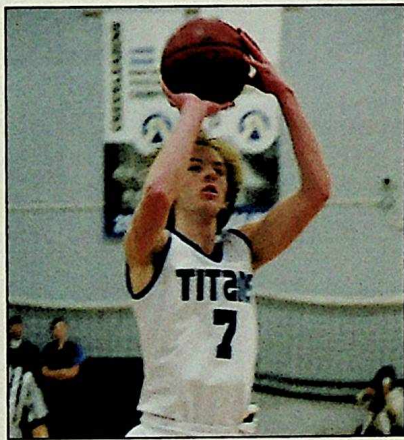

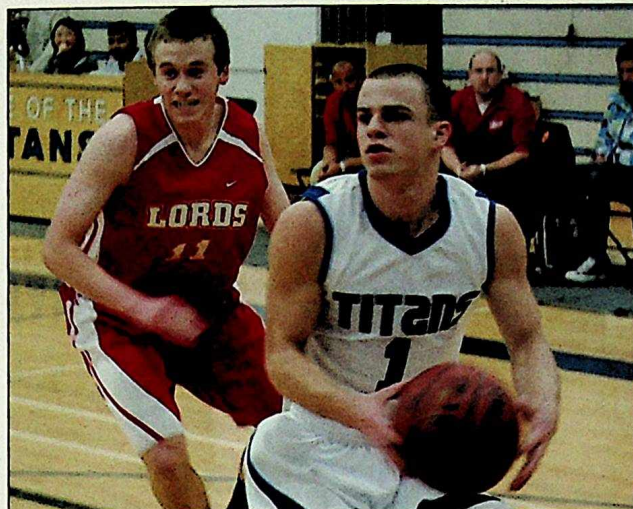

Senior Men's Basketball

Once again the Senior Men's Basketball team was able to make it to the final four in the ASAA 4A provincial championships. Being in the title hunt every year is harder than the players make it look. Capturing the crown was the ultimate goal for the team but it should not overshadow what this group accomplished this season. There were only five losses all year. This group of athletes are bound for future success in life. Great job Titans!

 Missing: Brandon West, Jordi Wang, Brendan Poon (Manager), Mr. D. Holland (Coach), Mr. B. Miciak (Coach).

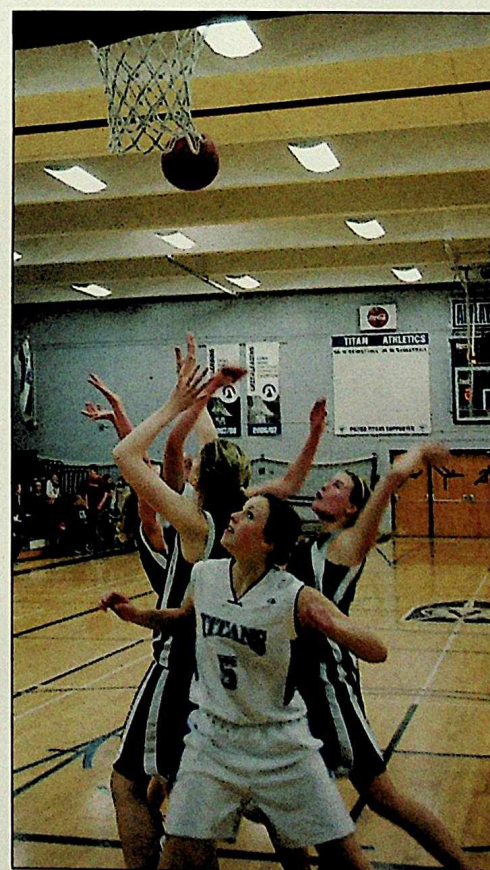

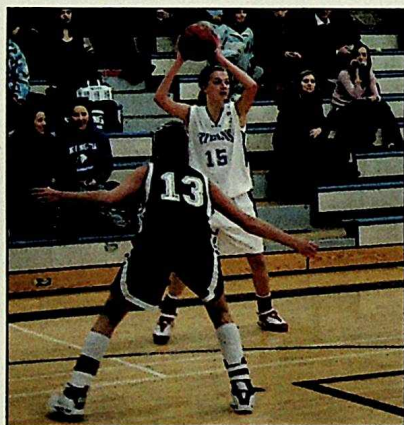

Senior Women's Basketball

Despite the loss of 9 players from the provincial champion 2008 team, the Titans remained one of the top teams in Alberta in 2009. With a 23 – 11 record the Titans remained a strong defensive team allowing the fewest points of any of the premier teams in the Edmonton Public League. The Titans completed the season by qualifying for the ASAA Provincial Championships. Overcoming the loss of point guard Jessilyn Fairbanks due to injury at the end of the season proved to be challenging but the team competed successfully in all of their provincial championship games. Congratulations on another great year!

Junior Women's Basketball

The Harry Ainlay Junior women's basketball team had an excellent season. The team was focused, committed, and hard working. One of the highlights of the year was our tournament in Victoria, BC. We played some great basketball, saw some great sights and had a lot of fun. The team only lost two league games by a total of six points and lost in a close game in the Premier Conference City Finals. This year's edition of the Titans won the silver medal at Tri-Prov and showed a tremendous work ethic in every game and practice this season. Congratulations to the players on a great season!

Tri-Prov Tri-Prov 2009 put the FUNK in the DUNK, featuring intense competition from 48 of the top Junior, Senior, and Junior High basketball teams in Western Canada. The "Old School Basketball" theme brought a funky atmosphere to our tournament, and the high quality of game play made the tournament exciting and memorable for basketball fans. The Titans came ready to perform, with the Senior Men, Senior Women, and Junior Women all finishing in second place, and the Junior Men finishing third. Opening ceremonies was once again a fantastic show featuring all sorts of acts, from gymnastics to hip-hop dance, and kicked off the tournament in "Old School" style. Tri-Prov 2009 was proved why it is considered one of the premier high school basketball tournaments by putting the FUNK in the DUNK!

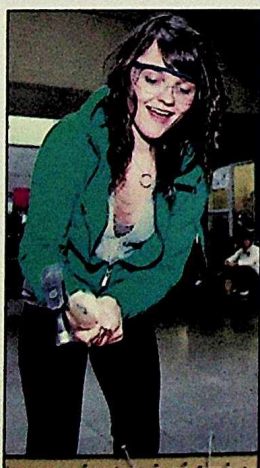

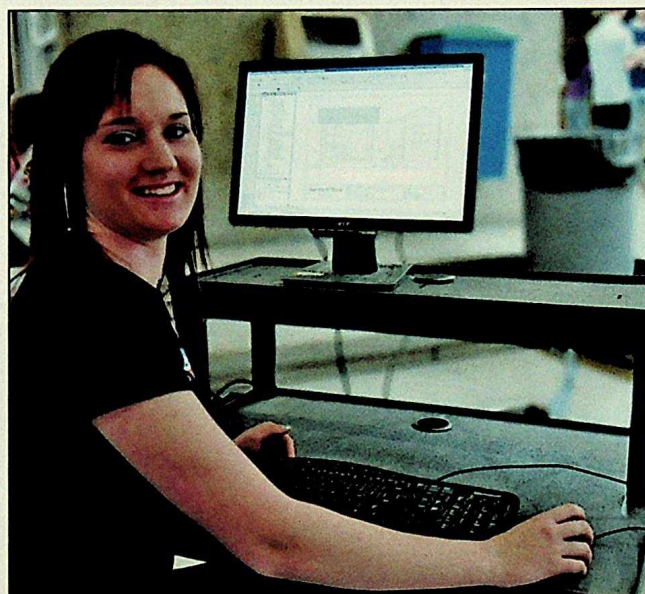

Culture Fest Culture Fest allowed students to experience the different cultures which reside in our school. This year's theme was "Get Cultured". Throughout the week students were able to embrace other cultures by eating items such as samosas, sushi, and pasta. There were performances during the lunch hours as students portrayed their cultures through dance and music. Students enjoyed the Culture Fest fashion show on the final day of this event, which showcased traditional dress from cultures around the world.

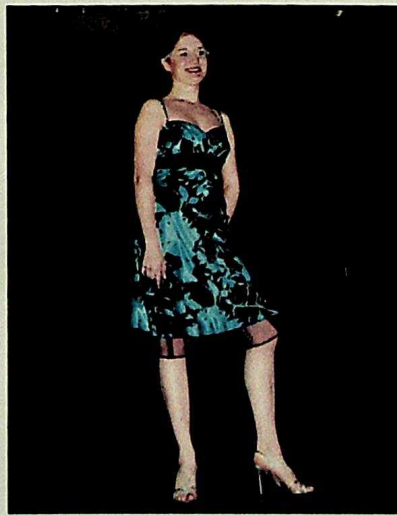

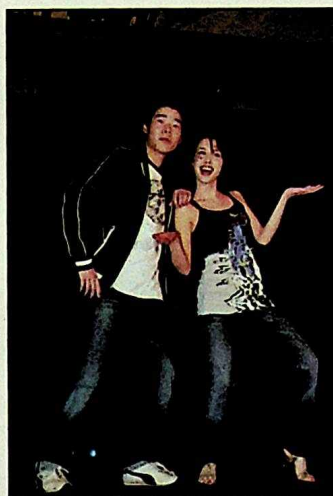

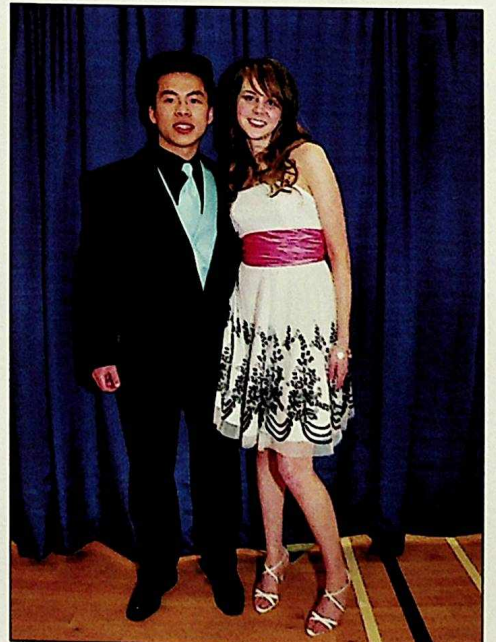

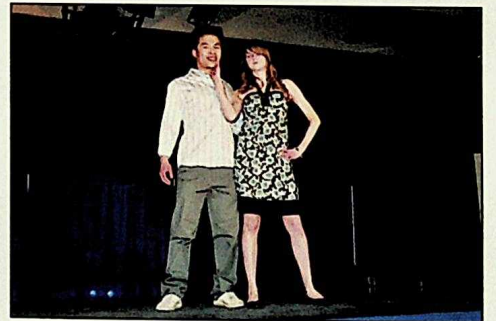

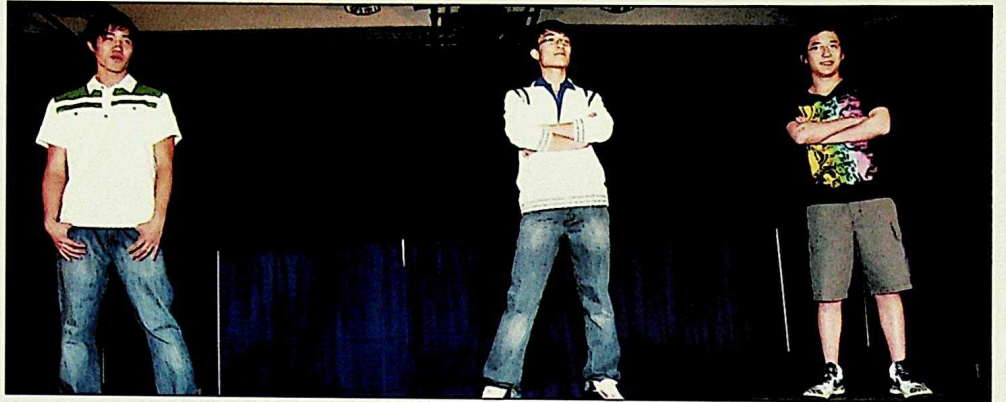

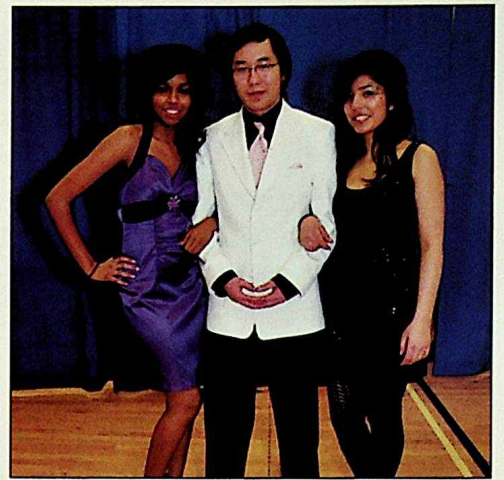

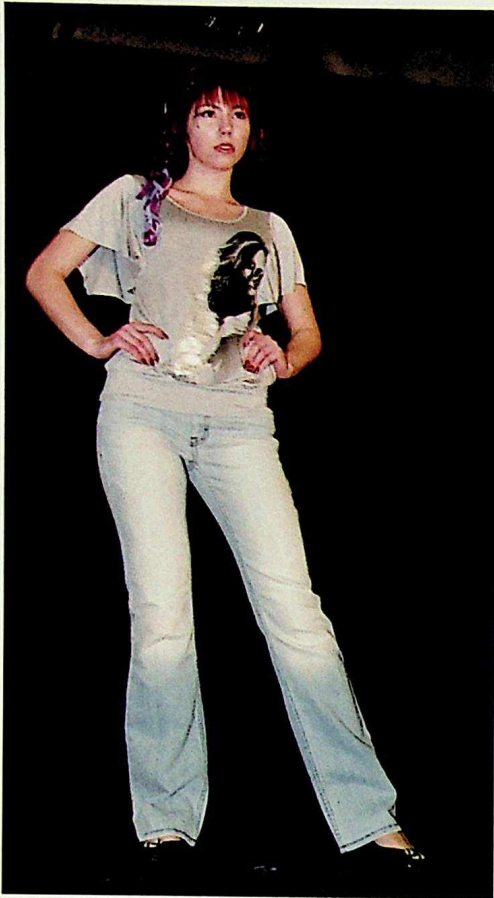

CTS Week This was a time to showcase our career and technology studies courses and the projects that the students in these programs create. The week started off with a demonstration of 3D computer assisted drafting (CAD) projects. Along with this was a projected slideshow of CTS students as well as the school events up to that point in time. Students in the Fashion program displayed the beautiful graduation gowns that they designed, sewed and will wear to grad. At the end of the week sparks flew as the annual nail driving competition swung into the rotunda and hit the nail right on the head for a half-hour of bang-up entertainment.

Fashion Show

The Evening of Masquerade fashion show displayed this season's top fashions and featured Ainlay's very own models! The Fashions 30 students completed the show by showcasing their own creations, and students from the Foods 30 class made all of the delicious refreshments served to the guests. In the end, $1700 was raised for Grad.

Indoor Soccer

The Indoor Soccer team enjoyed a winning season with notable performances from many veteran players who helped the team into the playoffs. Ainlay defeated the Vimy Ridge squad in the quarterfinal match but then lost an action packed heartbreaker against the future league champions Scona. Thanks to all grade twelve players who played their final Indoor match for Ainlay in the semifinal.

Frankfurt Exchange

Students from Frankfurt visited Canada for a month in Sept/October and took part in many activities including trips to Drumheller and the Rocky Mountains. In March, 16 Ainlay students, Ms. Schock & Herr Huelstrung traveled to Frankfurt where they were hosted by families of the Helmholtzschule. The highlight was our 3 day trip to Berlin where we visited a Baroque palace, sought out traces of the Berlin wall and shopped at KaDeWe.

England-Ireland Trip

Thirty-four Ainlay students descended on Dublin with Mr. Heidt, Mr. Hernandez, and Ms. Baker during spring break. They shopped for everything from souvenirs to grad dresses and spent an exciting night at a soccer game in green war paint along with a massive crowd. In London, Titans marveled at Buckingham Palace, the Crown Jewels, pushed trolleys through brick walls at Platform 9 3/4, and yelled out their numbers in the Tube on the way to a West End performance of Wicked. The trip finished with an amazing flight on the London Eye – bright lights, panoramic views, rousing chorus of "Love Story" and all!

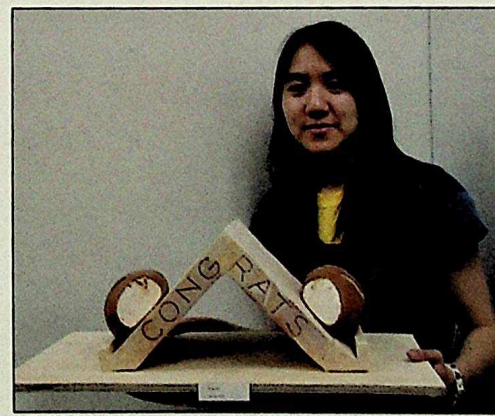

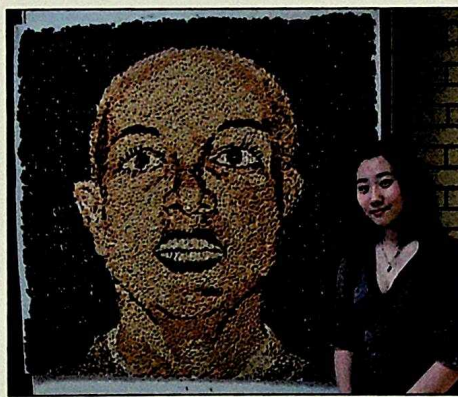

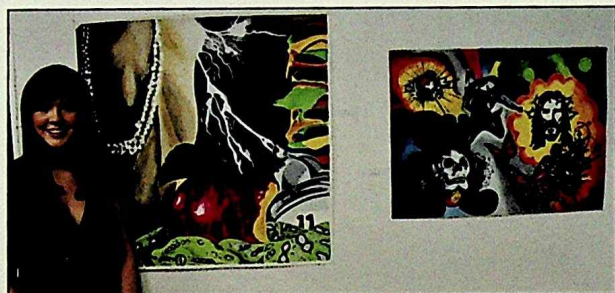

Japan Trip Fourteen Harry Ainlay students participated in this study tour chaperoned by Mrs. Ito-Fedrau and Mr. Poole to experience what they had studied about Japan and further learn the language and culture. They visited Mito city, Tokyo, Hiroshima, Kyoto and Nara in their 11 day trip. The highlight of the tour was the establishment of a sister school relationship with Tokiwa University High School in Mito!

Italy Trip The IB Italy Trip began in the capital city of Rome where we visited ancient historical monuments including the Coliseum, the Trevi Fountain and the Pantheon. We went to the fortified Vatican City and the breath-taking Sistine Chapel. We made an excursion to Pompeii, the ancient city left in ruins from the catastrophic eruptions of Mount Vesuvius. Another trip outside of Rome took us to Ortona, a vital port off the Adriatic where the Royal Edmonton Regiment captured the city during the WWII. Our group also paid our respects at the Canadian cemetery for soldiers lost in WWII. The trip took us along the Tuscan valleys filled with vineyards and olive farms, towards Florence, stopping in smaller towns along the way including Prato and Lucca. Once in Florence, we visited the Academia where we saw Michelangelo's statue of David, and the galleries of the Uffizi Museum. We made our final stop to the stunning city of Venice. Upon visiting the Doge's Palace, we learned of the grandeur of the Venetian people. The gold encrusted St. Mark's Cathedral, the busyness of St. Mark's Square, the mystery of every twist and turn in the lively Venetian streets all encompassed the beauty of the city. A scenic gondola ride along the many canals and a dinner overlooking the water marked the end of our journey to Italia! The food, culture, art, architecture, history and music of Italy were incredible to experience. We made memories that will last a lifetime on this trip which was filled with laughter and great friendships!

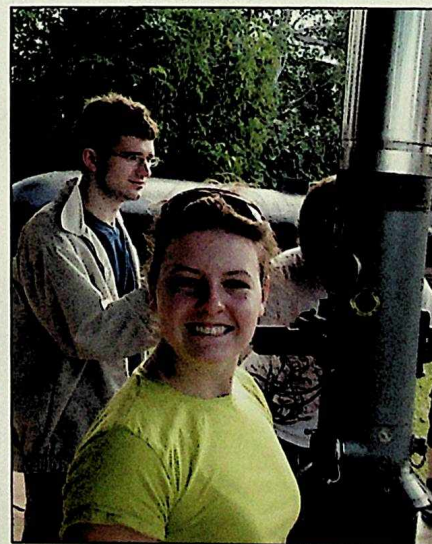

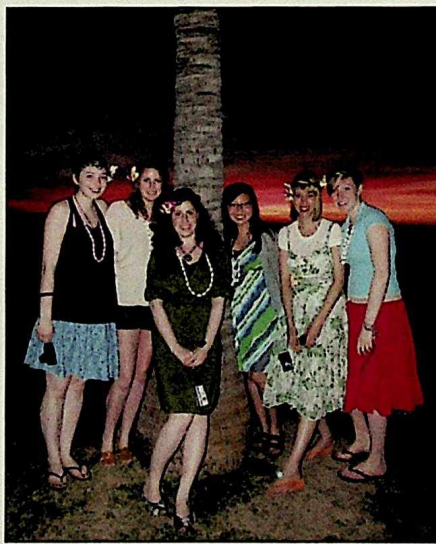

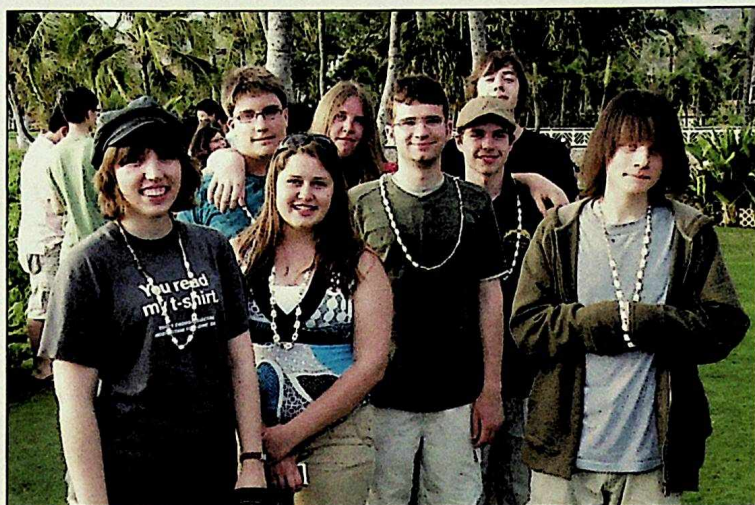

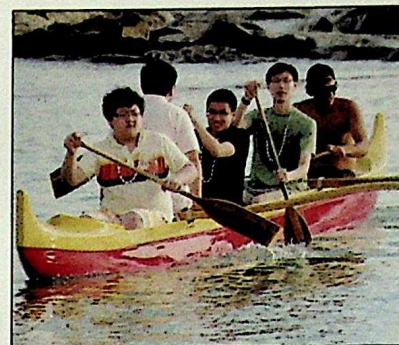

IB Art Show The 32nd annual IB Art Show unfolded on April 24 in the Ainlay Art Gallery. The Symphonic band finished first and the jazz band third in their respective categories. Congratulations to all band members for their amazing performance!

One Act Play Festival Harry Ainlay's One Act Festival for 2009 was very successful. There were 11 student-directed plays, 2 of which were student written. The adjudicator was Heather Fitzsimmons Frey, a director, dramaturge, performer and alumnus of Harry Ainlay! Upon her recommendations, the top two plays chosen to represent Harry Ainlay at the City One Act Festival were "Heart of a Dog" and "The Gap". The production of "The Dumb Waiter" was selected as the alternate, and was also able to perform at Cities. A round of applause for all those involved.

Improv Team The Senior Team competed in the Wildfire Improv Festival in February 2009. The team placed 3rd in the Theatresports™ competition and won gold in the Canadian Improv Games tournament. As a result, they went to Ottawa to compete in the National CIG Tournament in April. They placed 9th out of 20 in Ottawa. Team coaches are Joleen Ballendine and Tim Mikula. Players are Paige Borger, Zoe Glassman, Corey Schmitt, Lauren Stavert, Reid Tansem, Chris Borger, Cole Peterson, and Reid Fink. Stage Manager is Rebecca Friesen. Hey! Let's not forget that band of improvisational rebels, the Junior Improv team. Next year they will continue to entertain us at lunch hours with a lively mix of wit, wisdom and spur of the moment zaniness.

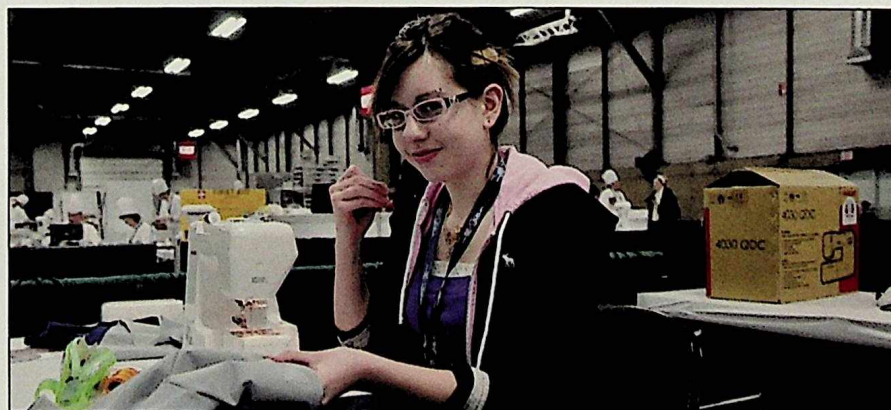

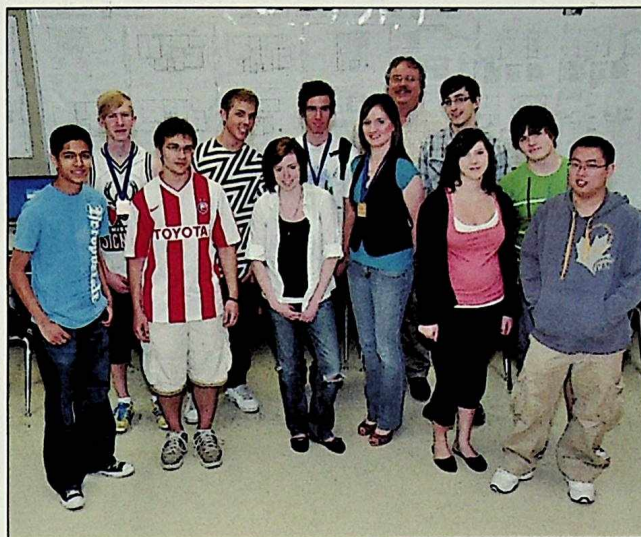

CAPPIES Harry Ainlay participated in the Critics and Awards Program (Cappies), for the second year. The team consists of Catherine Lee (Lead Critic), Jessie Chung, Kaitlyn Grant, Halle Hendrickson, Meredith Thompson, Celine Wlasichuk. Jennifer Wei was with us for part of the year. Each student critic was required to see a minimum of 3 plays throughout the year and write reviews of each production they saw. Kudos go out to Meredith Thompson and Celine Wlasichuk for getting having their reviews were chosen to be published in The Edmonton Journal. Celine is nominated for Top Grade 11 Critic; 7 of her reviews have been published in the paper! To wrap up a great year, the Harry Ainlay Critic Team is also nominated in the category of Top Critic Team. The final event of the Cappies season is the CAPPIES GALA held on June 28th in the Shctor Theatre at the Citadel. This year Jill Agopsowicz and Cleo Halls performed as part of the Cappies Chorus. Congratulations to everyone involved!

Congratulations to all competitors!

Senior Men's Rugby

Rugby is not a game for the meek. Between the short season, physically punishing play, and steep learning curve, this game tests a player's mettle. The men's rugby team had a season of tremendous growth this year, with many developing into great rugby players. The team's moves earned a play-off spot where they missed the semi-finals with a heartbreaker against McNally. Most gratifying was the respect shown by opponents as many coaches commented on the team's relentless defense and ability to move the ball. We have a core of experienced veterans returning next year, and we are expecting another hard-fought season.

The women showed incredible heart and commitment to the game and the team consistently improved and grew together to play great rugby. The culmination of the rugby season was hard-fought as the ladies made it to the final! During the final, the ladies came together to play one of their best games of the year, and although they narrowly missed the gold, the team was proud to be awarded silver medals. This team showed remarkable sportsmanship, passion, and spirit throughout the season. Well done!

Senior Men's Soccer

The Senior Boy's began the season as the defending Champions and battled through a very difficult regular season finishing 3rd in the regular season. Season highlights included a four game undefeated run, and a league leading 33 goals scored in 8 games. The playoffs saw the Titan's battle out a tough semifinal with the eventual champions. Coach Hernandez would like to thank this year's veteran players, Moe Taliani, Felix Murrele, John Pegg and Trung Nguyen for their contribution to our Soccer team. Their effort and talent will be missed but they have left a strong impression for the returning players and much to emulate. Junior Men's Soccer

The Harry Ainlay Titans Junior Men's Soccer team had a successful season marked by some creative and intense play. The Titans lost a tough match to Jasper Place in the city championship game after also finishing second place in league play. At the outset of the year, we set the goal of consistent individual and team improvement from game to game and we met that goal, culminating in a resounding semi-final victory over Ross Sheppard. While the final did not go the way they planned, the boys showed flashes of high end skill even in defeat. Perhaps even more impressive than the soccer skills that these young men displayed throughout the year, was the incredible spirit and sportsmanship that each and every player demonstrated. This team exemplified what it means to be Harry Ainlay Titans, providing a strong base for the men's soccer program in the years to come.

Senior Women's Soccer

The Senior Women's Soccer Team has had an amazing season!! Before the school season even began, the team started training and took on the best in British Columbia at the University of Victoria Invitational. After an incredible tournament, the team finished in the top six out of twenty-four teams. When the regular season started, the Titan women were ready and confident in their abilities as a team. After an undefeated season, they were ready to battle Wagner for the City Championship. The final was a true test of the team's character. But each of the girls showed unwavering commitment, drive, and desire, and Harry Ainlay's Senior Women's Soccer took home the City Championship! The team will really miss Shalla Kadima, Laura Kautz, Jessica Law, Linette McNeely, and Ali Hughes-Juneau as they move on to post-secondary study and other pursuits. Congratulations, ladies!

Track and Field

The Titans Track and Field team had a very successful season. We started off the year with the Edmonton Journal Games where the girls won the gold medal and the boys won the silver medal in their event. It was a spectacular performance by the girls who led from start to finish. Thanks to excellent individual runs by Nicole Soderberg and Linette McNeely. The boys unfortunately had a setback as 2008 individual Journal Games 200m champion Evan Roesch, was unable to compete due to injury. We took the success to the outdoor season with the work of 4 coaches this year; Mr. John Kistenkas, Mr. Neil Mazur, Mr. Patrick Powell and Mr. Matt Holtzer who came on board this year. Approximately 45 athletes qualified for the city championships and 20 of those athletes represented the Titans at provincials in Calgary. There were some all around great performances from the athletes with Linette McNeely winning the senior girls 100m. Cole Peterson and Nicole Soderberg both double gold medalists in the 800 and 1500m and both with spectacular anchor legs in the open boys 4 x 400m and girls 4 x 400m respectively. They participated in the annual University of Alberta Golden Bear Invitational Tournament. Eight Ainlay wrestlers participated in Cities, winning seven medals. Ainlay's girls won the coveted trophy for the top participating female team, with only four wrestlers. Natalie Brady won gold and the trophy for the top female competitor in the tournament. All the athletes went to provincials in High River, where they put forth a strong performance. Ainlay's team members held their own with Natalie Brady winning gold again. Harry Ainlay's wrestling team benefitted from the very fine coaching offered all season by Devon Vick, Justin Luoma and Mitchell Hughes and the staff sponsors of Mr. Bateman and Mr. Clink..

Water Polo

After a long absence, Water Polo returned to Harry Ainlay in 2009. With a very young team containing only two grade 12 players, the Titans WVP team had a long climb to make it into the playoffs. After a minor setback in our first game, the team really pulled together and finished tied for 3rd in league play, making the playoffs. After success in the quarterfinals, the team lost to the eventual league champions from Parkland, and then coasted to a bronze medal against Jasper Place. With 12 returning players next year, the Titans Water Polo program is poised for great success in the future.

GRADUATION

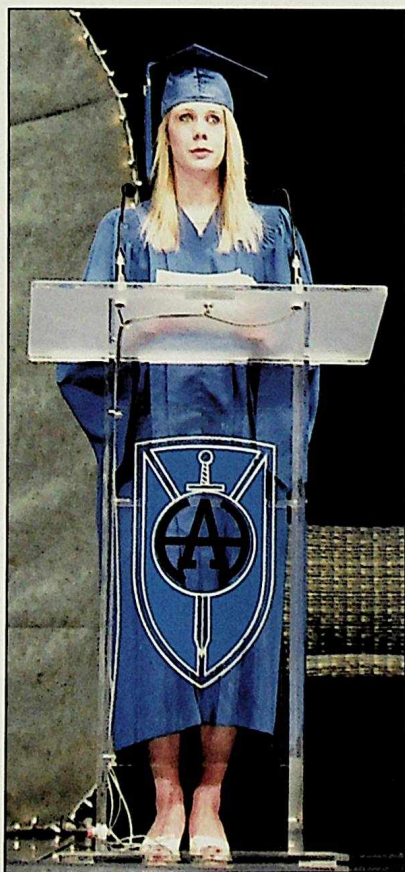

Graduation Committee

Graduation was a memorable experience for all of us. However, the moments that truly defined who we are as individuals were the ones that we unknowingly stumbled upon. Graduation does not only celebrate the completion of our Grade 12 year, but rather our accomplishments throughout our growing process.

It's hard to believe that 3 years have passed since we first walked into the halls of Harry Ainlay. Over these 3 years, we have made new friends, faced obstacles and grown up together. Starting in Grade 10, our friends, families and teachers have helped us through the tough times and have joined us to celebrate the good times. During our time here, we have established our own beliefs, values and ideas. We have become our own people who stand up for what we believe in. We have begun to define who we are, both inside and outside of school. These beliefs have shaped who we are as individuals and will stay with us to help us make decisions.

We have so many memories from high school and we will carry these memories with us for the rest of our lives. High school life hasn't always been easy; we have had to deal with exams and homework, balance extra-curricular activities, a social life and help others out with their problems. The life of a high school student is anything but easy. Although we had some difficulties, we should stop, take a minute to look around, and enjoy our success. We made it through and we are all here tonight to celebrate our accomplishments. I'm sure many of you have put in countless hours and had many a sleepless night finishing a project or studying for an exam. Grad truly does show that all the hard work and dedication really is worth it.

My wish is for you to think of tonight as a beginning rather than an ending, because we all have so much left to do in life. Success has followed you here tonight after twelve hard years of work and it will leave with you as you go. Remember, there are only three things in life that once gone will never come back; time, words and opportunity. So take advantage of every moment, don't let anyone tell you that you can't do something, speak with honesty, yet also with tact, knowing that words can be both helpful and hurtful. Live with no regrets and remember that the purpose of life is to live a life of purpose.

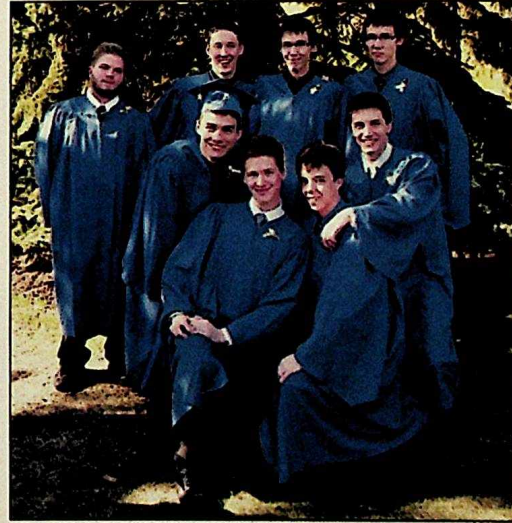

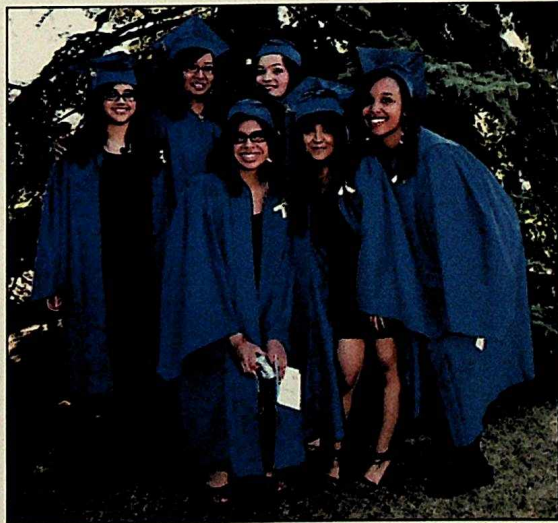

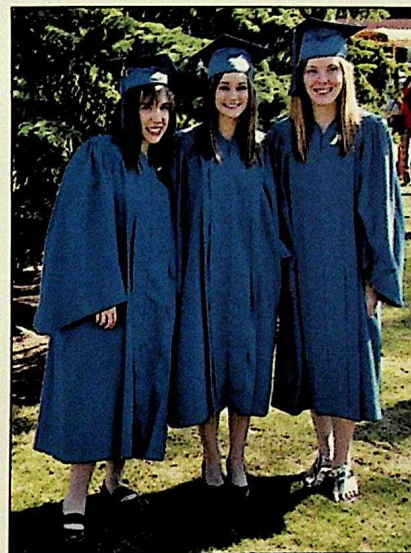

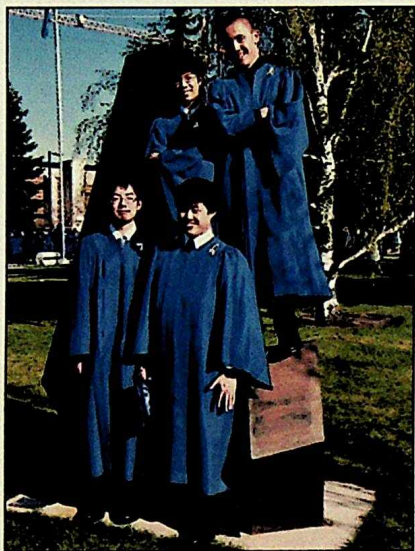

"Whenever you remember times gone by, Remember how we held our heads so high, When all this world was there for us, And we believed that we could touch the sky."

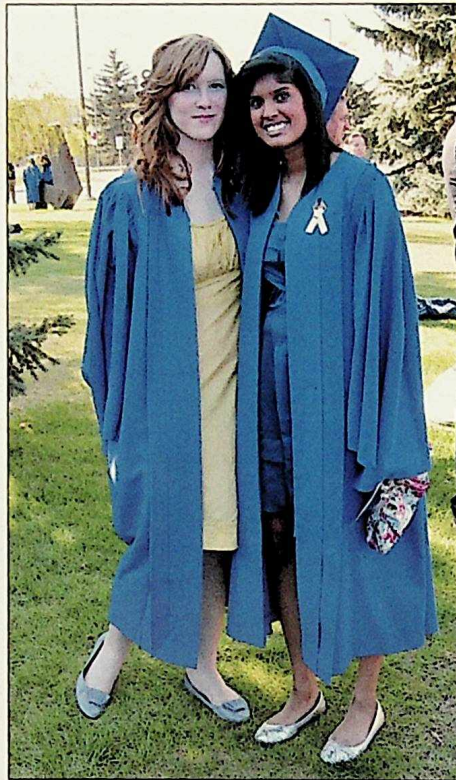

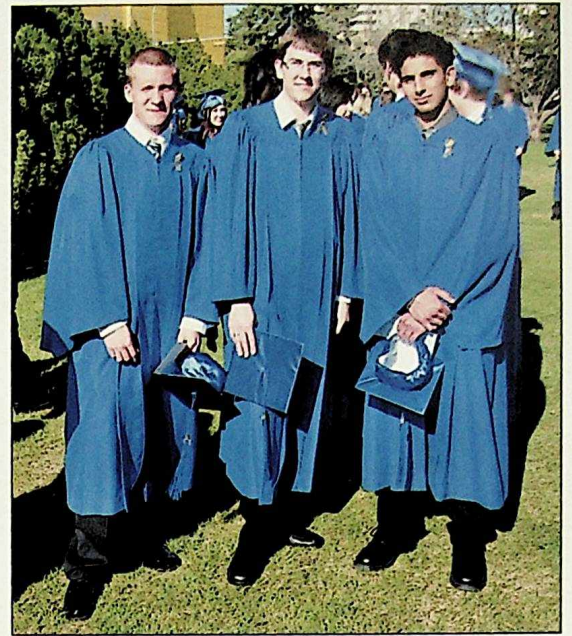

- "Whenever you Remember" by Carrie Underwood
'Remember the Dream'

Congratulations Class of 2009! We did it!

Graduation Commencement

On Friday May 22nd, 2009, 706 Harry Ainlay graduands gathered at the Northern Alberta Jubilee Auditorium for the Commencement and Awards ceremony. The night was filled with inspirational speeches given by many people including our valedictorian Mikaela Edigar and our guest speaker Ms. Judith Boyle. This momentous occasion gave all students a chance to reflect back upon not only their time at Ainlay but on their entire school career. We would like to thank you all for coming out and making this a special evening that none of us will ever forget. Harry Ainlay Graduating Class of 2009, we wish you the best of luck in whatever you may pursue and don't forget to "Remember the Dream".

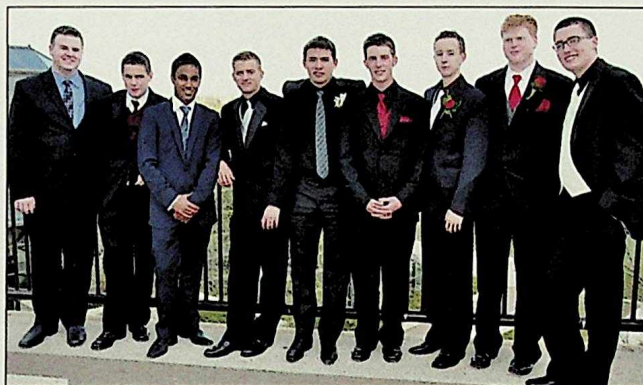

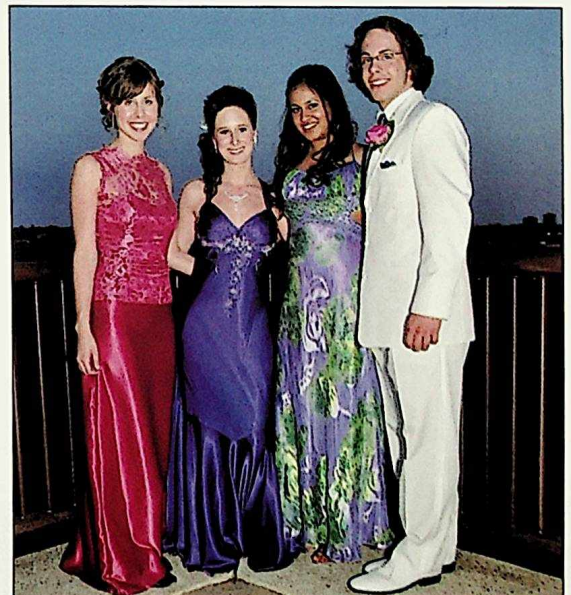

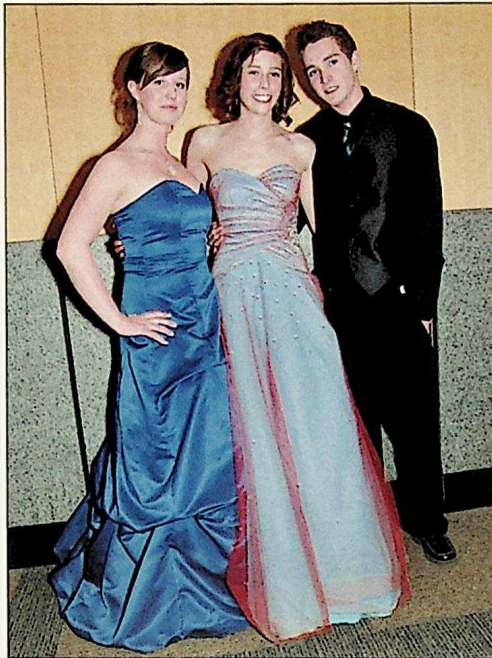

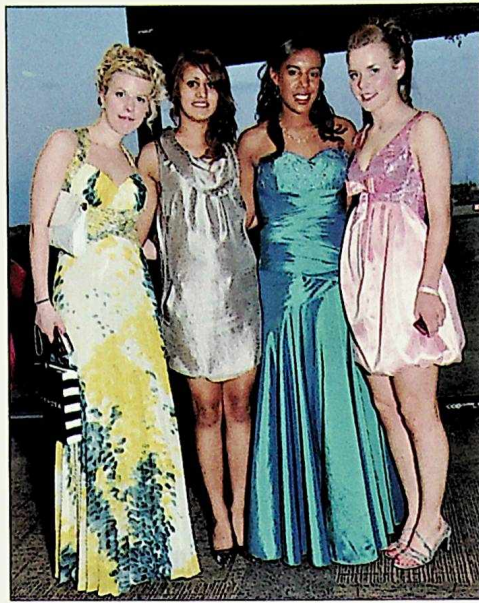

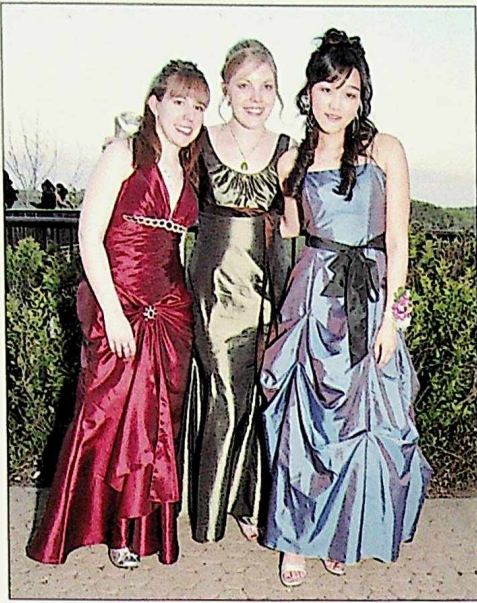

Graduation Banquet

On the evening of Saturday May 23rd, 2009, Harry Ainlay graduands gathered for the celebration of graduation 2009 with their family, friends and peers at the Shaw Conference Centre. In the afternoon many graduands went to the Legislative grounds on a beautiful afternoon to take pictures before the celebration began. As it started to get closer for the doors to open to the Shaw, Titans gathered on the terrace of the Shaw to take pictures and to look over the city. Once everyone was seated within the hall, the program began with the march in and introduction of the head table. A short time later, Laura Jones came up to present the Toast to the Parents. She thanked our parents for everything that they had done for us and the support they had provided for us up to now. Laura's mother Mrs. Agnes Jones gave a heartfelt response of the different struggles our parents faced through raising us but how proud they were of us for making it this far and she couldn't leave out how great we all looked. Next, our 2008-2009 Student Council President, Sonam Kang gave the Toast to the Staff. Speaking on behalf of the entire graduating class Sonam thanked the Harry Ainlay staff because without them we would not have been graduating. She told the Harry Ainlay staff that they personified the phrase "Moving Mountains" and our school phrase "In Omnibus Excelsior". To respond, former Harry Ainlay Assistant Principal, Mr. Olsen let all of the students know how proud the teachers were of us. Before the meal began Geoff Casey gave a blessing, thanking everyone who had supported us on our journey through high school and was able to share it with us that evening. The meal was then served and everyone could finally eat! Salad was served, followed by the main course of chicken and then of course the chocolate dessert. Guests were able to go around and visit their friends, take pictures and congratulate each other on what they had accomplished. After the meal Chelsea Ludwig brought everyone's attention back to the program by performing Shania Twain's "Up". Next, Secretary Treasurer/Banquet Chair Assistants Angela Cho and Jennifer Tempest presented Mr. Jones with the gift to the school, which was a contribution to the Harry Ainlay Graduate Merit Scholarship and the personalized "Titans" chairs that will no doubt be used for many years to come. To end the evening off, fathers and daughters, sons and mothers were invited onto the dance floor to have the first dance to our graduation theme song Carrie Underwood's "Remember the Dream". As the night came to a close, the decorations slowly disappeared and limos whisked everyone away. The night was over, but I anticipate the evening will always be remembered. I hope that your high school memories stay with you always and everyone will "Remember the Dream" even though our high school days are in the past. Good luck in your future and I wish the best for each graduand.

Callie Schneider, Banquet Chairperson 2009

GRAD HISTORIANS 2009

Clarissa Samuel, Sarah Walinga, Tanvir Bedi, Alex Ioannides, Leyla Yazdanshenas, Dilan Yogasundaram

C: My name is Clarissa Samuel.
S: And my name is Sarah Walinga...
Both: And we're the grad historians for the class of 2009!
S: First off, we just want to say congratulations for making it this far. It may be the end of high school, but it's also the beginning of a new chapter of our lives.
C: Yes, as we're nearing the end of our high school years, I find myself reminiscing about the many things we've been put through and the life lessons we've learned from them.
S: Yeah! Like that physics lesson on how to calculate the coefficient of friction on this ramp by finding the parallel component of grav—
C: No, Sarah! Stop! I mean a life lesson regarding more important things. You know! Like how to be honest, respectful... How cramming is the only way to study
S: Oh! Or that life isn't fair?
C: Yes! And lastly, despite their bad rap, nerdy pick-up lines really do work! Exhibit A (point to Sarah)
S: If I were an enzyme I'd be DNA helicase... so I can unzip your genes. (pause and point to someone in the grad section) That's G-e-n-e-s... (freeze) Exhibit B (point to Claire)
C: Sup? Can I lay tangent to your curves? (pause/freeze) Oh, you might want to remember: with pick up lines like these, you'll really need friends to laugh with you... not at you.
S: Agreed. My friends have gotten me through some really tough times. (Sarah turns away from Claire and pulls out a graphing calculator) I don't think I could have gotten through high school without you!
C: Oh, Sarah. That's so sweet. I'll always be there to help you when you need me! We also can't forget our teachers who've whipped us into shape. (sarcastically) bestowing upon us their cornucopia of knowledge. They've been with us since the dawn of time (picture of a sunrise with dinosaurs)
S: Oh, hey! Remember the beginning of grade 10 when you walked around the school gripping the palm, desperately trying to figure out where your class was? (Claire crosses in front and puts hand over eyes) Then you still walked into the wrong class? Unknowingly? (pause while Claire turns and takes three exaggerated steps upstage) Or walking down the mechanics hallway for the first time and thinking, "What is that smell?"
C: We've all grown a lot wiser through the years, since most of us started high school at Harry Ainlay three years ago...
S: That's right: three years of newsworthy events that even made the Titan News Network. I think we have a live feed... Over to you, Dilan and Tanvir.

(NEWS ANCHORS: Tanvir and Dilan are sitting at a table stage right)

T: Good evening. I'm Tanvir Bedi and joining me on the anchor desk tonight is Dilan Yogasundaram. Before we look at today's news, TNN is going to look back in time...

D: To September 4th, 2006, when the Grade 10 class at Harry Ainlay began a new chapter in their lives. After the easy junior high life, the disappointment of the Oilers not winning the Stanley Cup, and realizing Pluto was no longer a planet, these young students decided it was time to move on.

T: It was finally time to grow up, face new challenges, and delete those Nexopia and MySpace accounts because all the cool kids (look at Dilan) had Facebook.

D: Their first few months as new Titans at Ainlay were a bit shaky because it's not that easy finding their way around a maze filled with more than 2000 people. The winter of 2006 was ridiculously cold. The students had to stand outside to get warmed up.

T: And to top it off, there were no windows. Some days, in a particularly monotonous English class, they got to wondering if the real world was still out there...

D: However, over time, these Ainlay students learned that life consists of trial and error. If at first you don't succeed, try, try again. Most of the students discovered that with the school's cell phone policy. (Both recite together with eye roll) "Out of sight and turned off." Only two strikes, and they were OUT.

T: The Men in Black stalked the halls and classrooms at Harry Ainlay, looking for cell phone junkies to be dragged off to the DACTU tribunal. The Department of Appropriate Cell Phone Usage.

D: The past three years were awesome for Harry Ainlay Social Studies teachers: Canada had a new federal liberal leader for about five minutes, two or three (pause) dozen elections, a failing coalition government, the first African-American president, and an economic recession...

T: Lots of material to fill those awkward silences during class
D: And the recession is the reason that bus passes got more expensive.

S: Speaking of which, in grade 11 and 12, many of the students got their driver's licences - another fun but huge responsibility.

D: You'd think that driving to school would mean Ainlay students would get there on time - not having to wait forever for a bus to show up when it's 40.

T: Also, the Ainlay graduating class would like to thank the Southgate LRT construction workers - for always being there for them. Some days it would be faster to WALK from Twin Brooks!

D: Over the past three years, Ainlay students had to deal with many changes: some grew taller, some grew facial hair, and some learned how to chew with their mouths closed.

T: Just like the economy, the 2009 graduating class also had its ups and downs: whether it was dealing with the (sarcastically) much-loved School-Zone or losing their junk food.

D: Learning how to gamble at "Guys and Dolls" or yet another unsuccessful attempt at having a school dance.

T: Many students also became well acquainted with the internet - whether it was "assistance" for English using SparkNotes...

D: Or finding a last-minute career path on careercruising.com

T: They had to deal with lots of changes - like a new principal - every year.

D: Nevertheless, they learned how to adjust - and adopt the message from the poster outside of Southgate: "If nothing changed, there'd be no butterflies".

T: I'm sure they were not all butterflies (look at Dilan), but they didn't give up. Just like those "That's what she said" jokes, Ainlay has had its comebacks.

D: And now, coming back to today's news:

D: endless procrastination,

T: endless memories,

D: and the endless journey that is just beginning.

T: And so, ladies and gentlemen,

D: We return you to Sarah and Claire...

C: Thanks guys!

S: Over the past three years, the questions that we've been asking ourselves have changed a lot.

C: We'll prove that we know you, Harry Ainlay Class of 2009. Sarah, what was the number one question that was on everyone's mind?

S: Well, it couldn't be, "Will I be successful?" and definitely couldn't be, "Is Harry Ainlay really a bomb shelter?" - although I'm still not sure that I know the answer to that last one.

C: No, the number one, most thought-about question definitely was, "How many pictures will I score in the yearbook?" Come on... We've all counted... (picture of Thing 1 and Thing 2 costumes)

S: (sarcastically) I think the number one question is: Who is Ainlay's best debater?

C: Oh, I know it's Leyla Yazdanshenas. (up on toes)

S: No, clearly, it's Alex Ioannides! (up on toes, nose to nose: Claire is hanging onto Sarah's arms)

C: We'll see about that! (Sarah breaks away both turn to watch the debate)

(DEBATE: Leyla Yazdanshenas and Alex Ioannides are standing at two lecterns stage left, three-quarter profile facing each other)

A: What do you think was the best event at Ainlay?

L: This is too easy. Culture Fest wins hands down.

A: Of course that would be your answer, Ms Belly Dancer (Alex mimics belly dancing with shoulders and arms). But I believe Touch of Class wins by far. The guys at Ainlay sure clean up nice! (Leyla reaction to camera) L: The Halloween Costume Contest was a blast too.

A: Oh yes. Your costume was fabulous, Sarah Palin... (Leyla holds up hair, puts on glasses, winks, and says, "You betcha!") You can't forget the other rounda activities like musical chairs, the 3-legged races and (dramatic pause)... karaoke!

L: (pause) Maybe you shouldn't sing next time? Moving on... What was the best Opening Ceremonies? Tri Prov or TVT?

A: Volleyball owns basketball, so TVT was much better.

L: (leans forward on lectern) Oh yeah? Well, Model United Nations owned them all.

A: Nuh uh. The drama productions were the best!

L: So what was better? "Guys and Dolls" in grade 11 or "A Christmas Carol" in grade 10?

A: "Grease" in grade 12!

L: (steps upstage towards centre) The Improv was amazing too! City champions!

A: (steps upstage forward) So were the One Act Plays.

L: (moving closer to Alex) O yeah, well so were the art shows and the pep rallies!

A: (nose to nose) So were the speech and debate tournaments. (freeze) L: (moving back to lectern) I'm sure their debates didn't go like this.

A: (back at lectern) What are we? Twelve?

L: Remember fun times in Spanish class with Senor Hernandez?

A: Si. ¿Donde esta el bano seniorita?

L: "Where's the bathroom?" Is that all you got from three years of Spanish?

A: Well, it's a complicated language, but so is English, as I found out after studying Shakespeare... But what about German????

L: Speaking of which, remember the Frankfurt exchange?

A: How could I forget? It's when I learned that German guys were very cute. Remember their physiques - I mean, the physics labs?

L: (leans over lectern with hand to mouth, whispering) Nice save... Bio labs were far worse... all that dissecting. The cow's eye... Ewww.

A: The balancing equations in Chemistry. LEO the lion says GER! (lean forward with hands in claws)

L: DON'T FORGET THE SPONT! as Mr. Jenkins would always say.

A: What about Phys. Ed?

L: I'll never forget social dance and the cross country running in the early morning. Ugghhh.

A: And hundreds of IB students freaking out over orals and commentaries and... You're partial IB, right?

L: Yes. (sigh) History IB completes me.

A: Ermm. Okay. Ainlay has a real social consciousness with clubs like Amnesty International and Environmental Titan Green - and the way we celebrated Black History Month.

L: First Black president! "Yes we can!" (Leyla jumps excitedly up and down)

A: Calm down. Breathe. Then there was (counting on fingers) Oktoberfest, Aloha Ainlay, Titan Pride Day... Whew! I'm getting worn out from this debate.

L: Debate? If we had done this debate in my history IB class, we would both have failed. We didn't even give any argumentation to back up our proposals for the best things about Ainlay.

A: Well, that's all engraved into our memories, so it wasn't needed.

L: True. (big sigh) All this makes me realize how much I'm going to miss high school...

A: I'm going to miss you, Leyla.

L: I'm going to miss you too! (hold a hug as fade to black)

C: Okay, let's call it a draw for now... Speaking of memories...

S: Hm... The yearbook is filled with memories. If it goes on at Harry Ainlay, it's in there. And something that has played such a prominent role in filling yearbook space and in our school lives has been the tournaments at Harry Ainlay.

C: The best part had to be kicking other schools' ah, bottoms on the courts at Tri-Prov and TVT...

S: (looks quizzically at Claire) Bottoms?

C: (Claire shrugs) Well, I can't say "a—" I mean "donkey"...

S: But we must not forget about the other annual tournament held at Ainlay every November.

C: That would be the dodgeball tournament. Exhilarating action for 32 teams and all of the screaming spectators.

S: Now Claire. I can't seem to recall: Is it possible for a grade 10 team to totally destroy a grade 12 team?

C: Gee, Sarah, I think we're going to have to refresh everyone's memories.

S: Let's see that scene in 5-4-3-2-1 (Picture of Vipersharks vs Sundance Kids) Claire mimes picking up a few dodgeballs and begins pummeling Sarah, who avoids the first one, takes the second in the stomach, then slow motion in the face. Sarah goes down spinning towards downstage and ends in the fetal position)

C: steps forward to the audience cheering for Vipersharks) And... SCENE! (Sarah is delayed and slightly stunned, holding her head and stomach as both step forward to take a bow)

Both: Thank you! Thank you!

S: We know, Class of 2009, that we have left our mark on the Harry Ainlay name.

C: And we have accomplished so much! We will all carry on after graduation as TITANS: the best and most respected of individuals.

(Tanvir and Dilan enter stage right - begin talking as they join the others)

T: Tonight is a celebration of all the effort and the great times we shared.

D: Tonight is the start of new experiences, memories and achievements.

(Leyla and Alex enter stage left - begin talking as they join the others)

A: Tonight it was our job to trace the long and eventful three years of high school filled with glorious memories.

L: Our lives will change from this moment on, but know that "change will not come if we wait for some other person or some other time. We are the ones change has been waiting for. We are the change that we seek."

D: (stepping forward) Harry Ainlay Titans class of 2009:

L/A: this is our moment -

S/C/T: this is our time.

ALL: The world awaits our dreams.

S: So, the world had better be ready because we're... (cell phone rings)

C: Hey, can you hold on a sec? I think I'm getting a text.

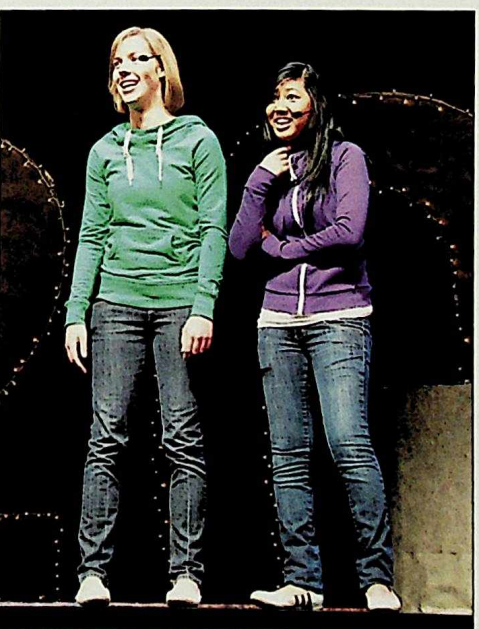

S: Oh, hey, me too... both pull out phones as Mr. Morris comes up from audience and crosses the stage)

Mr. Morris: You two! You know the rules about cell phones. Let's go! (he escorts/herds Sarah and Claire offstage, both looking confused. The others all hide their cell phones and look relieved.)

C: But we're not even at school!

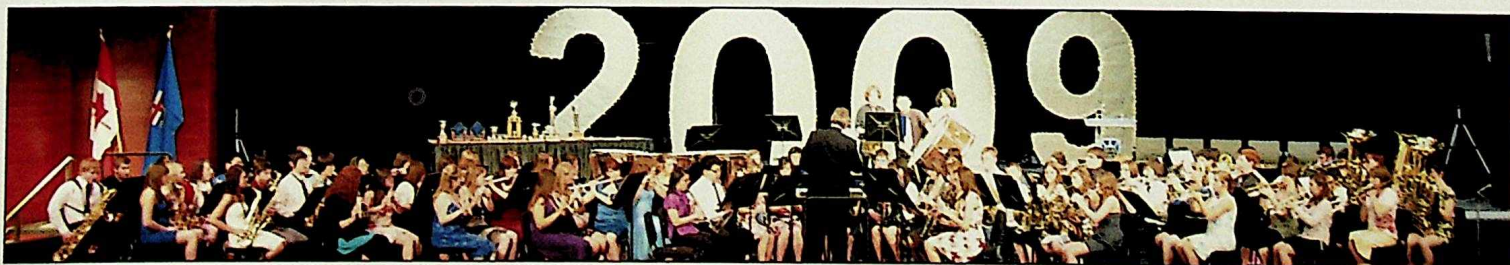

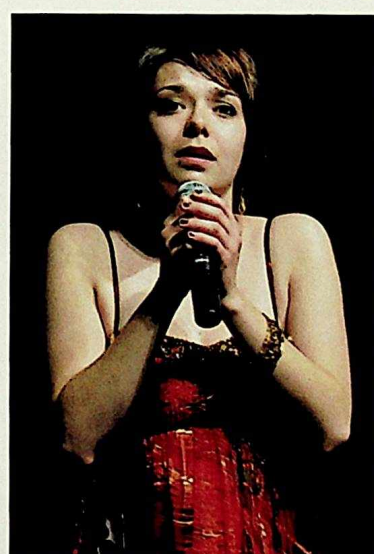

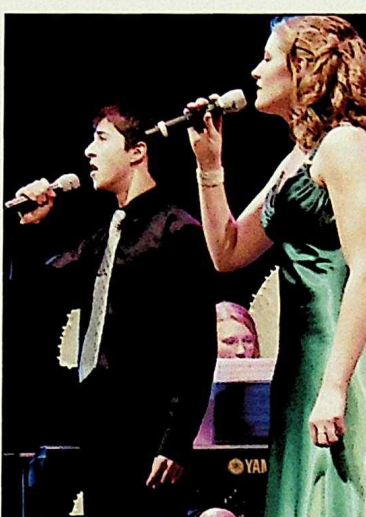

Both: Goodnight Class of 2009! Good luck! We'll always remember... (Claire and Sarah off stage)

ALL: the dream!!!!

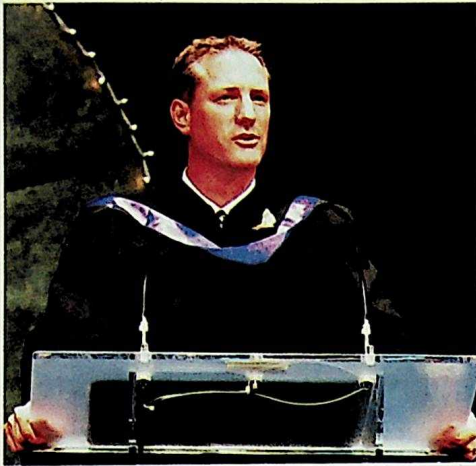

Grad Entertainers

The Grad Entertainers were a group of talented Ainlay student singers and musicians that shared their talents throughout the Commencement night and Grad Banquet night. Thank-you to all the performers that made graduation a successful and joyful experience!

Principal D. Jones

Ladies and Gentlemen, Parents, Harry Ainlay Staff, Board Vice Chair Mrs. Catherine Ripley, Ms Judith Boyle, and above all our very special guests tonight, Our GRADUATES.

It is my privilege as principal of Harry Ainlay High School to welcome you to the graduation commencement ceremony for the Harry Ainlay Class of 2009.

Tonight is a special evening because we gather together in this room to celebrate the success of these young women and men. Their successes would not be possible without the encouragement, love and support they received along the way from all of you parents/guardians, step-parents and siblings. The families here tonight richly deserve the pride they feel in the graduates. Along with your families I also commend the dedication and commitment of my excellent teaching staff at Harry Ainlay. Graduates, most of us do not tell our families and teachers often enough how important they are. I want to do that at this time. On behalf of the graduates, let me say to their families and teachers: We're proud of you! We're grateful to you and we appreciate all that you do! Graduates, I would ask you to give a round of applause to your loving, kind and considerate families and our outstanding Harry Ainlay staff.

WOW!

Harry Ainlay has much to celebrate tonight.

We have graduates who are not here tonight as they are competing as a team in the National School Reach Competition in Toronto. We have students competing in the National Skills Canada competition in Prince Edward Island. We have a student graduating, who four (4) years ago, could not read or write. We have students that came to our country with limited education and in 3 years are now walking the stage. We have athletes who compete at national and international levels in gymnastics, soccer and basketball and are graduating.

We have students graduating who are the first ones in their family to receive a high school diploma. We have a student who won a $160,000 scholarship to attend Cambridge University. We have a student graduating who nearly lost their life to a severe medical condition, has beaten all the odds, and is receiving a diploma tonight.

No matter what path you have travelled in the last 12 years, whether it was bumpy or smooth, you are here and you are to be congratulated.

Lastly, I would like to end with a story and this story is about the legend of the gown and the cap that you are wearing tonight.

Long ago in ancient Greece, when formal education was for the very rich, a wise old teacher was approached by a group of noblemen.

"Our sons have completed their studies and it is time for them to return to their homes and live in the style befitting their station.

On the morrow we will hold a great banquet in their honour and expect them to be dressed in their finest garments."

The old man smiling answered "They will be there" and he added "Appropriately dressed."

The following day the banquet hall was filled with royalty and nobility dressed in dazzling jewels and costly finery. Then came the great moment when the students entered with their beloved teacher.

A startled cry arose from the crowd for here were their young men dressed, NOT in the garments of the noble, but in simple sackcloth robes, each carrying a mortar board, the mark of a common workman.

"Let me explain," spoke the teacher as he raised his hand for silence.

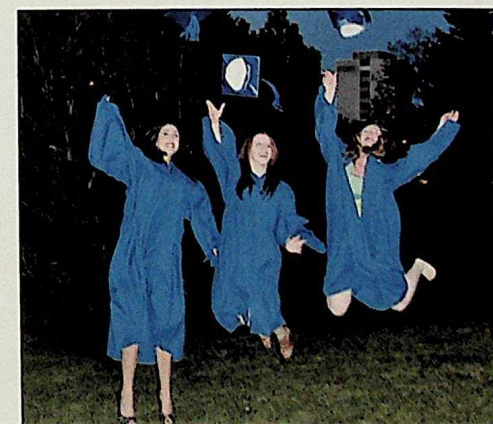

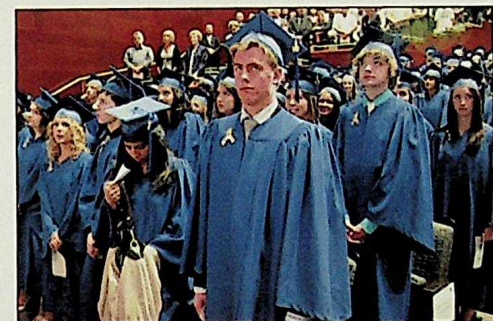

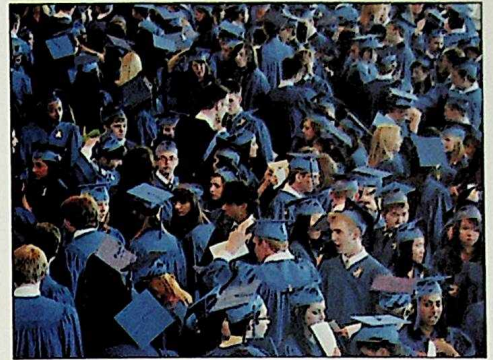

"Your sons are dressed in the clothing of the mason for their destiny is to build. Some will build cities, some will build lives. Perhaps one of them may even build an empire. But all will be builders on the solid foundation of knowledge."

And therefore over the years, the cap, or mortar boards, and the gown have become a traditional part of graduation symbolizing the fact that you, our young men and women, are builders of your future and the future of our world.

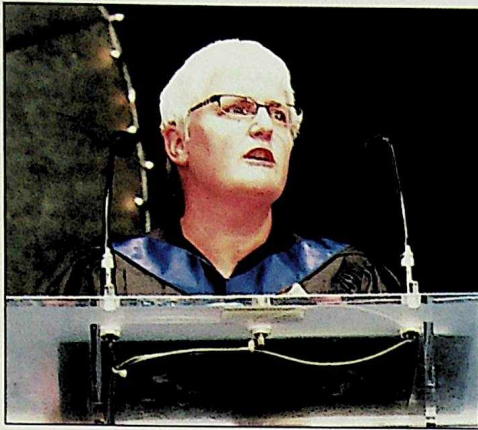

On the cap or mortarboard that you wear today you also have a tassel which after graduation has always been symbolically moved, from one side to the other, to indicate entry into society as graduates.

I wish you good health and happiness. Strive to inspire others and achieve your personal best. Congratulations and good luck to you all!

Mr. D. Jones, Principal

Trustee Message

Good evening, Class of 2009! And good evening to all the families, friends and staff who have gathered to celebrate the accomplishments of these graduands sitting in the front rows-- soon to be graduates once they walk across the stage, receive their diplomas, and flip their tassels from one side to the other.

I am very pleased to be here tonight to bring greetings on behalf of the Edmonton Public Schools Board of Trustees.

Graduands, tonight's ceremony represents the culmination of much effort-- your efforts in the classroom, at the kitchen table doing your homework, on the playing fields, out in the community helping others, taking exams, helping a friend.... Along the way you have received the encouragement and support of your parents, teachers, coaches, siblings, and others, and so in a way, tonight's ceremony represents the culmination of their efforts, too. And look at the place of excellence to which you have arrived!

Harry Ainlay, of course, has a long tradition of excellence, and as the Class of 2009, I understand you have contributed to this legacy in some very special ways.

I understand that many different sports teams won city championships this year, including the senior men's volleyball, basketball and golf teams.

The senior women's soccer team also won their division at the University of Victoria tournament, and the Titans swim team had its best showing in 24 years, coming in 2nd place overall in the city championships, with over 125 swimmers qualifying for the finals. That's impressive!

I also commend your involvement in supporting different social causes -- for example, your efforts within the Me to We program -- and congratulations to those who were able to participate in cultural exchange

I hope your travels proved to be enjoyable, enlightening, and memorable. Added to these achievements are your academic successes. Well done!

Truly, it has been a stellar year on all fronts and you should be very proud of yourselves. You are a remarkable group of young people, and on behalf of the Board, I want to thank you for inspiring your teachers, parents, and the school district with your ideas, energy, and achievements. Please join me in giving yourself a big round of applause.

Graduands, there is no doubt that you have come a long way since you took those first tentative steps into a Kindergarten classroom to confidently marching down the aisle tonight, dressed in cap and gown. You have been on a journey, and for each of you, I suspect the journey has had its ups and downs, challenges and joys.

Keep in mind, however, that your graduation is not an endpoint -- it is just the beginning. Nobody knows for sure where your path will take you or what life will bring. To paraphrase Joan Didion, Life changes in the instant -- and when we least expect it.

What I do know is that thanks to your public school education, you have the skills, knowledge, and character you need to successfully shape your own path whatever happens in the future. You will shape your path by your choices, by the values and beliefs you will either refute or accept, by the goals you will pursue, and by the dreams you will dare to act on.

As you make those choices and pursue those dreams, I ask you to consider the others who are travelling with you and those who are following behind -- for example, all those six-year-olds who tentatively stepped into a Kindergarten classroom this past September.

•How can you instill a sense of hope and optimism in them?

•How can you channel your talents not only to fulfill your dreams, but also to bring to fruition the longstanding dreams that are shared across borders and continents -- dreams such as world peace, the end of poverty, environmental respect and responsibility?

•How can you be sure to listen to diverse opinions and perspectives as you search for the best solutions?

In short, I challenge you to travel the path of an informed and compassionate global citizen -- somebody who is always learning, somebody who wants to make a positive mark on this ever-changing, complex world.

In keeping with your grad theme for this year, Graduands, I would now like to ask you to close your eyes for a moment. What is your dream for your future? Capture it in your mind's eye for a brief moment.

Family, Staff, Friends, I ask you to close your eyes, too. What is the dream you are eager to see these graduands make a reality?

And now I will tell you the Board of Trustees' dream. We dream that every one of our students -- regardless of background, ability, need, gender, faith, or culture -- receives an excellent education at Edmonton Public Schools. In fact, this has been the Board of Trustees' dream since 1881 when Edmonton's first school was established under the direction of three trustees and employing the expertise and skill of one teacher.

The current Board of Trustees sincerely hopes this dream has been your reality at the schools you've attended, and we hope you have always felt encouraged and included in the circle of learning and success.

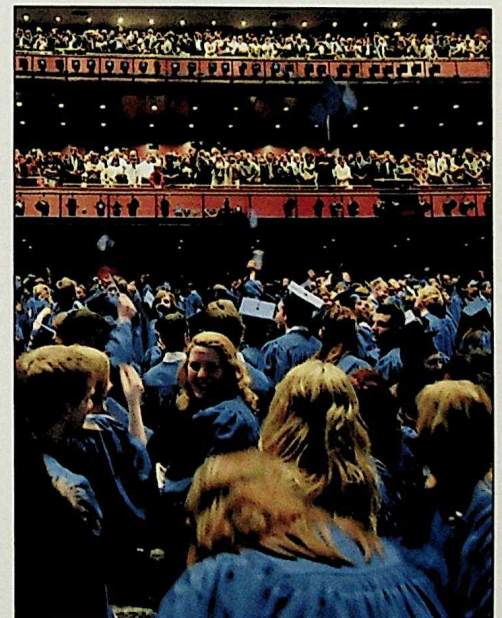

So, as we all open our eyes, let us "remember the dream."

Graduands, it's now time to forge ahead on your journey. Head out the doors of Harry Ainlay at the end of June grounded in the support of your family and friends who are here celebrating with you tonight and the excellent education you have had. Head out the doors filled with faith in your own abilities and a belief that you will indeed make your dreams come true.

As Thomas Edison once said, "If we did everything we are capable of doing, we would literally astound ourselves." Go for it!

On behalf of the Board of Trustees, congratulations once again on your graduation. I wish all of you the very best!

Trustee Ms. C Ripley,
Edmonton Public School Board

Guest Speaker - Ms. J. Boyle

It is my great pleasure and honour to be with the honoured guests, the Harry Ainlay staff and the friends and family of the graduands as we celebrate, you, the class of 2009. Some of you I came to know because I had the pleasure of teaching you math or student leadership in your grade 10 or 11 year, some of you I know because we worked together on school events, some of you I know because we traveled together to Spain and France last year, some of you I know because I saw you in the halls regularly or because I worked with your friends on projects and you helped out and then there are some of you I do not know. But I did meet all of you when you came to Link Crew in August of 2006.

To think that it was only three short summers ago that you were crammed into the Harry Ainlay theatre watching video presentations of what your life would be like as a Titan and meeting your new administration and student council for the first time. Some of you were excited, some of you were scared, some of you were worried, and some of you pretended to be all cool and disinterested; but all of you had hopes and dreams for what your high school experience would be.

I had the pleasure of speaking to you then and I asked you to consider what you wanted for your three year journey at Ainlay. I told you then there were only three kinds of people in the world: Those who make things happen, those who watch things happen and those who wonder what happened. I challenged you to take advantage of all the amazing things your high school offered you in terms of academics, athletics, the arts and student activities. My hope for you then was that when you arrived at this, your Commencement night, you would be able to look back at all your experiences whether positive or negative and be able to say "Wow! I am so glad I got involved" rather than "If only I..." or "I wish I had..." If you were one of those people who made things happen, good for you! If you were one of the other two kinds of people, it's time to get moving!

You are here at your commencement and the word itself is one we get from the French word that means "to begin." So, although it is end of your time in high school, it is also the beginning of the next part of your journey. The time is now; not later in some far distant future but now to make things happen and pursue your dreams.

Remember back to when you were little and you dreamed about what you wanted to be when you grew up? You wanted to be a ballerina or an actor because you loved to dance or loved to pretend; you wanted to be a veterinarian because you loved animals; you wanted to be a mom or a dad because you loved little kids or you wanted to be a police officer, a doctor or a teacher because they helped people. Those dreams had nothing to do with money or status or what others think of as success.

So on this night of celebration I challenge you: pause for a moment and think about your current dreams. Do they offer you the energy and joy you felt about your childhood dreams? If not, why not? Whose dreams are they really? You receive a lot of pressure from us, your teachers and parents, to go in a particular direction because we want so much for you: we hope you are successful and have a well-paying career and experience stability and security in your life. But your life and your dreams belong to you, not us.

So...know these two things: First, that your dreams should bring you both a fulfilling and satisfying life as well as make life better for others neither of which is solely based on money or success; if your current dreams do not energize and inspire you, it is time to dream new dreams. Secondly, it is never too late and will never be too late to pursue your dreams.

Whatever path you take will bring you unique challenges, joys, knowledge and understanding. And you will bring all of that with you to the next fork in the road where you get to decide yet again which path to choose, which dream to follow. No knowledge, learning or work is ever wasted because all of your experiences help you to grow as a human being; they help shape and prepare you for that which is to come.

When I heard that your theme is "Remember the Dream" I couldn't help but think of Dr. Martin Luther King, Junior and his dream for our world. As I watched on television the recent inauguration of U.S. President Barack Obama, I heard a commentator talk about a t-shirt that a boy was wearing; on the front was a picture of Dr. King with his famous words "I have a dream" and on the back a picture of President Obama and the words "I am the dream." He is the symbol of hope that what was thought to be impossible is, in fact, quite possible – that people can rise to the challenge to look beyond the superficial and judge solely on the content of one's character. Again, it is what you say and do that is important; what are you doing with what you have been given?

From the bible's "Of whom much is given, much will be expected" to the Arabian proverb that says "If you have much, give of your wealth; if you have little, give of your heart" to Uncle Ben in Spiderman who tells Peter Parker that "With great power comes great responsibility" great philosophers, sacred texts and literature of all kinds remind us that our gifts, talents and dreams are not merely our own or for our own self-interest but are inextricably tied to others.

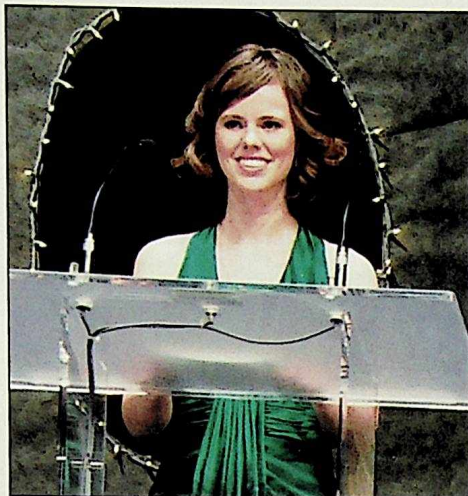

Each of you has been gifted with your own unique combination of talents and attributes. You did nothing to earn or acquire them – you have them because they are part of your genetic make-up; you were born with them. You had no control over how intelligent, beautiful, athletic, artistic, creative, communicative or kind you naturally are. Being smart or good at sports or a great singer means nothing if you have done nothing with that talent to nurture it and then share it. Ask yourself: what am I doing now to develop my gifts and to use them to build people up, to serve others, to make our world a better place?

So, as you celebrate tonight and tomorrow night and then prepare for your final and diploma exams in the weeks ahead – because, yes, you still have work to do to actually graduate – make sure you take some time to pause and reflect.

Acknowledge your unique combination of gifts and talents, review what you have done and are doing to develop and nurture them, assess how you are using them in the service of others and ask yourself "What am I going to do now to pursue my dreams, to live up to the great dream of Dr. King and to make my world better so that anyone who knows or meets me can say that the world is better because I am in it?" And then go forth and share your dreams and talents with all of us. I can not wait to see all that you are going to become and do. You will be magnificent!

Valedictorian Address- Mikaela Ediger

So if life is a story, graduation would maybe be the end of one chapter. The chapter began, for most of us, on our first day of school. The plot grew more complex as we grew up; new characters and themes were introduced as we met new people and learned about the world that we live in. Three years ago we arrived at Ainlay, probably a little intimidated by the endless hallways and massive crowds. But our characters have developed so much since then. We've grown: as academics, as artists, as musicians, as athletes, as friends. Tonight marks a final convergence of all of our stories, before we leave the school setting and go our separate ways.

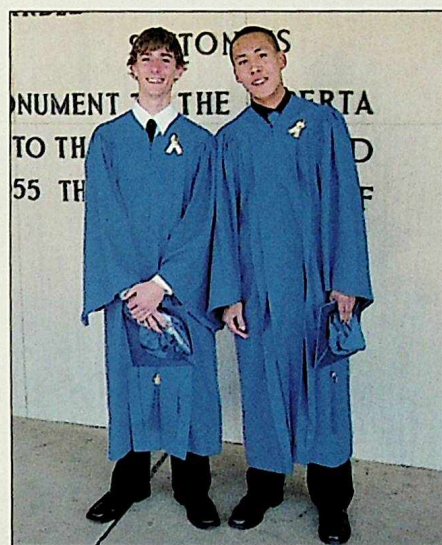

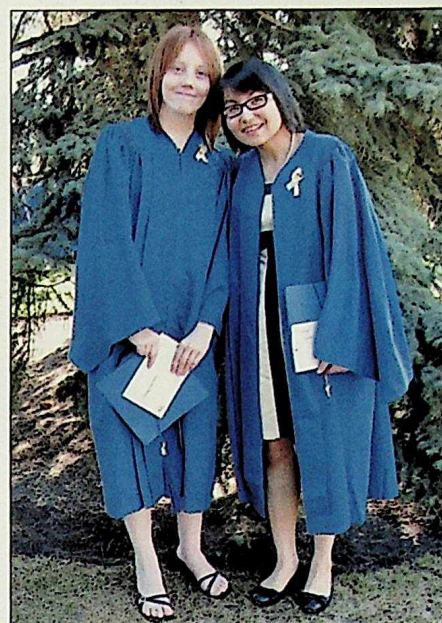

I like the idea that we are the authors of our own life story. The pages ahead of us are blank: we choose what they will ultimately say. By taking the safe path, we write stories that are simple and rather boring. So I'll take this opportunity to repeat to you, my fellow graduands, what your time at Ainlay has undoubtedly already taught you. Take a chance. Step up to the plate. There will be times when your shirt's inside-out, when you don't make the cut, when you hear nothing but criticism from the people around you. But, as the composer Jean Sibelius reminds us, "Pay no attention to what the critics say; no statue has ever been put up to a critic". It's not easy, but if we can overcome our fears of rejection and failure, our stories will be limited only by our own creativity. Then, there will be nothing to stop us from breaking the mould and living stories that we can be proud of.

We all came from different backgrounds and when we leave here next month, we'll go in many different directions. However, the stories we've shared are never over as long as they are remembered. Congratulations, Class of 2009. I hope that you have a good time this weekend and I wish you all the best.

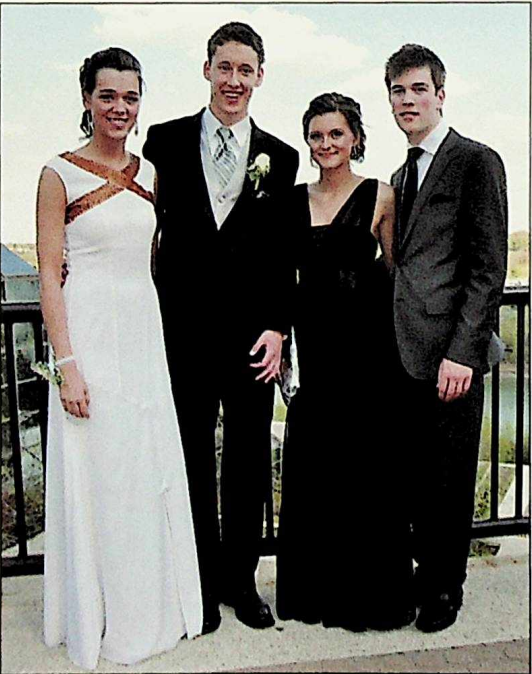

Good evening fellow graduands, parents, staff members and guests. It is a tremendous honour to address you tonight as we celebrate the hard work of Harry Ainlay's Graduating Class of 2009.

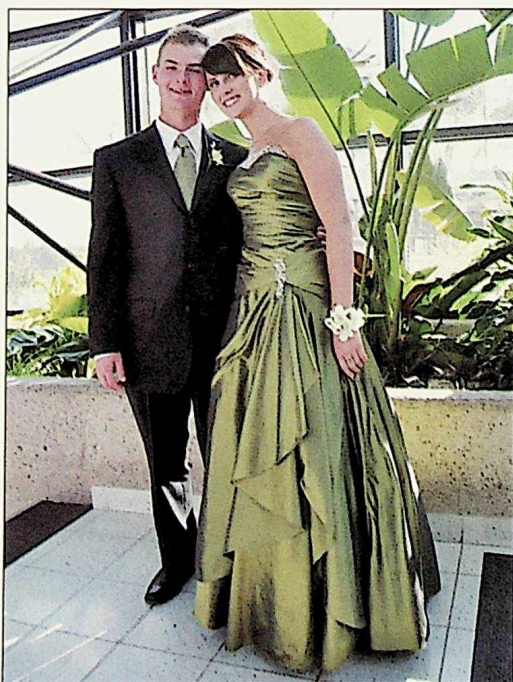

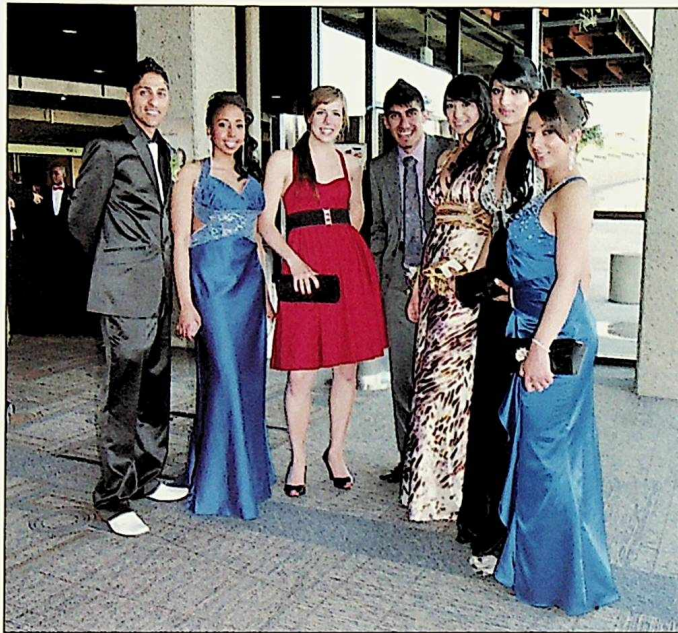

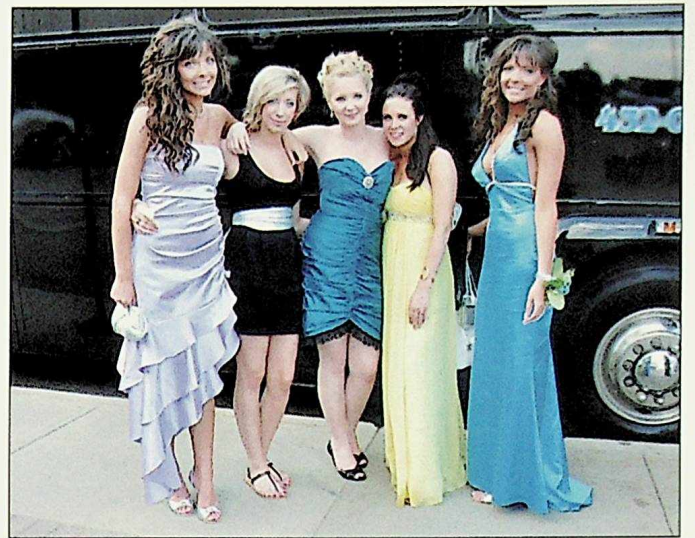

Janine made a really great introduction to my valedictory address, but whenever I get a grand introduction I'm always reminded of something that happened a couple of months ago. Some of my friends have this really annoying habit of introducing me to their friends by saying: "This is Mikaela. She's really smart." It's a compliment for sure, but kind of a conversation-stopper. I don't quite know what to say and there's always this long, painfully awkward silence while the person I'm being introduced to wonders how to communicate with this "smart person" (does she speak English, or only Latin?) Each time this happened it got worse, until finally I knew I just had to fill the silence somehow. So I said the only thing that came to mind: "No, I'm not smart!" The girl to whom I was being introduced looked at me, paused, smiled and said "I know. Your shirt's inside-out".

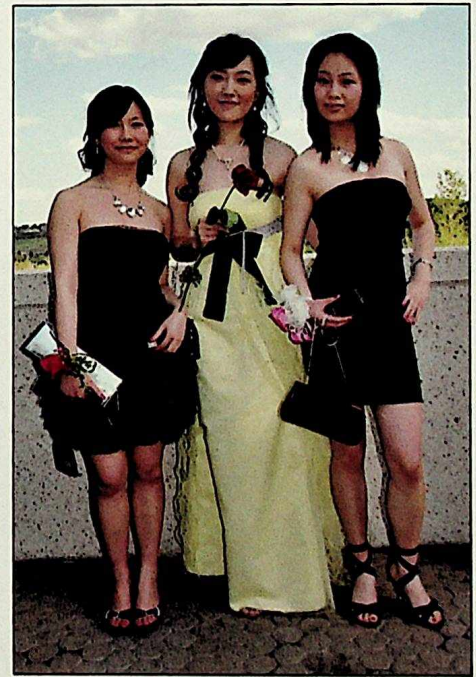

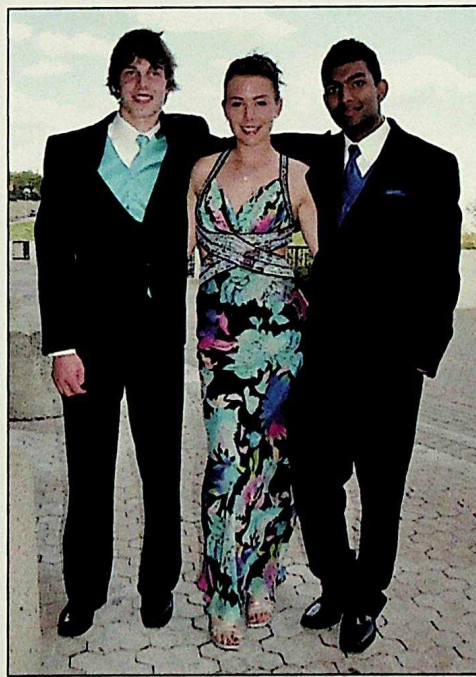

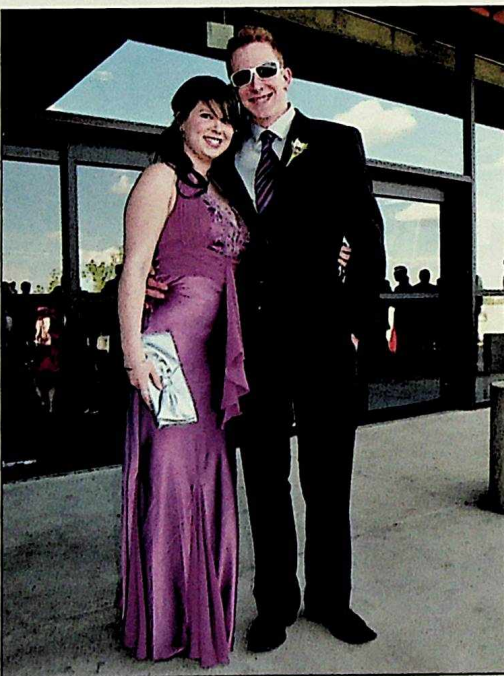

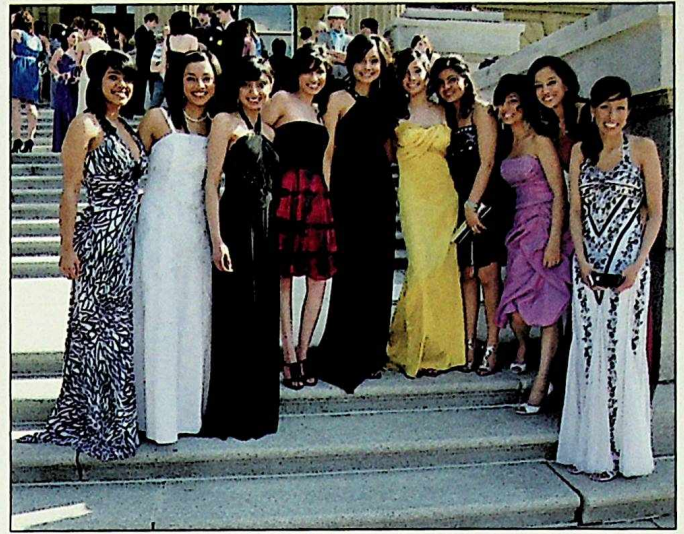

Telling that story was more than just a lame attempt to convince you that I'm human. I believe that celebrating the stories we've shared is perhaps more meaningful than comparing graduation to an important milestone on the journey of life. When you're on a journey, you are travelling to a specific destination and when you reach that place, the journey is over. But stories, especially embarrassing ones, can live within us for years, shaping our worldview and guiding our actions. So when I hear the grad theme, "Remember the Dream", I think about how when we leave here next month, we'll carry with us all the dreams and stories that we've collected in our years at Ainlay.

Awards were also presented to students for achievement in Drama, Technical Theatre, and City One Acts. Graduating students were also presented with special gifts. Thank you to Zoe Glassman and AJ Bouk for being such entertaining hosts.

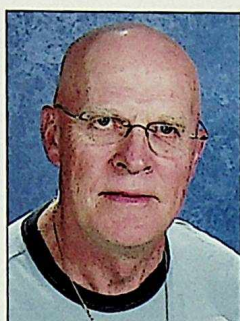

Retirements - Thanks for your many contributions!

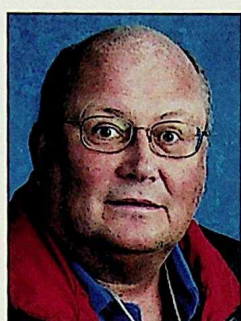

Ms. D. Cain

I enjoyed and loved my 11 years in the office at Ainlay. I always felt there was something special and unique about the school and the staff. I felt like a true "Titan" - what a compliment and how proud I was to be told I was like an ambassador for Ainlay. It was a privilege and I thank you all for making it such a special experience.

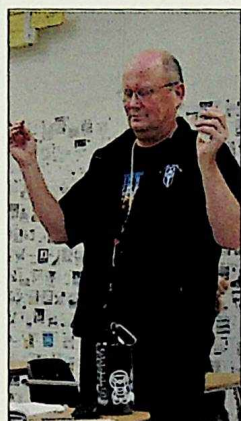

Mr. L. Hignell

I started teaching in 1969 at Harry Ainlay and spent my whole teaching career of 39 years in the Math Department. In addition to teaching I coached many sports including volleyball, soccer, junior football, junior basketball, men's golf team, and as a staff advisor to the wrestling team and senior men's and women's soccer. I worked with several clubs as staff advisor, including the yearbook, awards board, and the environment club. I acted as the head organizer for Tri-ProV (1975 to 1993), taking the tournament from a 4 team tournament for senior boys, to a 32 team four draw tournament at the junior and senior level. I even had the pleasure of teaching our current Ainlay Principal, Mr. Jones, Math 10 and also coached him on the junior basketball team. I will miss the staff and students of Ainlay and can truly say that I have loved being a Titan.

Mr. K. Kulka

I have taught Mathematics and Physics for the Edmonton Public School Board for the past thirty-four years. (16 at Eastglen / 15 at Scona / 3 at Harry Ainlay) My six years at Harry Ainlay (three as a student) were phenomenal. I feel very fortunate to have had the opportunity to end my career here.

Ms. S. Mann

During my 19 years with Edmonton Public Schools I was fortunate to have had a number of varied positions: Program Aide for the Science Department at Ottewell Jr. High. I transferred to Harry Ainlay High School in 1997 and started as switchboard operator, then secretary for the English/Social Department and finally with the International Languages Department. My husband, Harry and I have two beautiful daughters, Erin, who is a Teacher and Keri, who has completed her Degree in Pharmacy. Aside from putting around the house, I enjoy reading, meeting with friends and walking with my "best friend" Roxy (100 pound Yellow Lab).

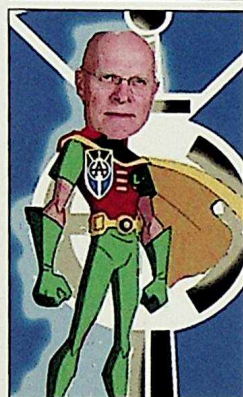

Ms. K. Rother

I started my teaching career at NAIT where I taught Hairstyling for three years. I continued my passion with teaching at Jasper Place Composite for 11 years. After a serious car accident, I decided to teach in elementary so I spent 11 years teaching grades three to six, and junior adaption classes. The eight years I've spent at Ainlay have been very rewarding as I've been lucky enough to work with wonderful staff and students. This year will be remembered as a particularly special one spent with warm hearted, friendly groups of students who gave 110 percent effort throughout the year. Thanks to all for the memories.

Ms. K. Skrypnik

I attended the University of Alberta where I earned my BSc in Mathematics and my BEd in Secondary Mathematics. I began teaching with the Edmonton Public School Board in 1978 where I have been for the past 31 years sharing my love of mathematics with students. I have attended numerous professional development sessions locally and nationally that have kept me in touch with experts in my field, and current in my teaching of Mathematics. Over the years, I have also coached volleyball, basketball, track and field, curling and badminton. My last 12 years have been spent at Harry Ainlay, where I have thoroughly enjoyed the challenges and pleasures of working with hundreds of amazing students. Although I am sure there will be times when I miss being in the classroom, I am looking forward to spending time traveling and being on the golf course.

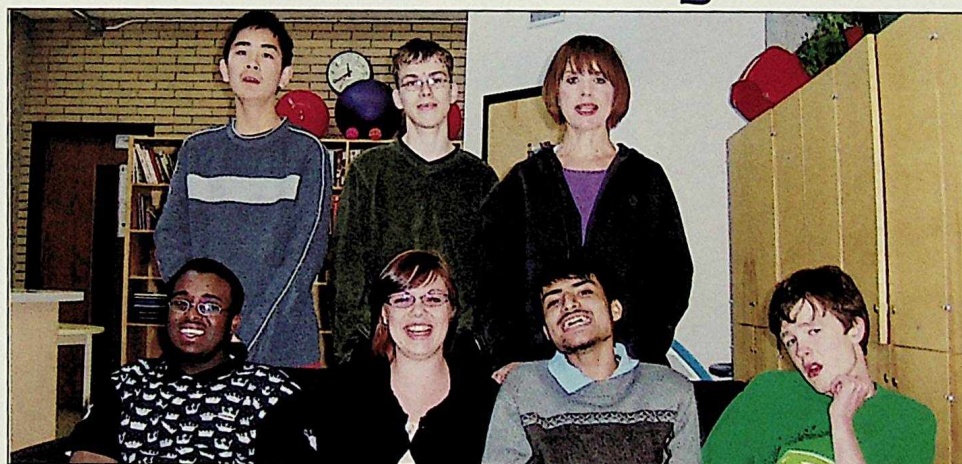

MS Bike-a-thon

Well, we made it! Despite scorching temperatures, the Ainlay MS 150 Bike Tour Team (Glen's Titans Never Tire) successfully completed 193 km on the highways of central Alberta. Twenty-two Titans (and former Titans) raised $21,555 -for the MS Society. Our success can be attributed to our friends and colleagues who donated to the cause! -Wayne Lavold (teacher)

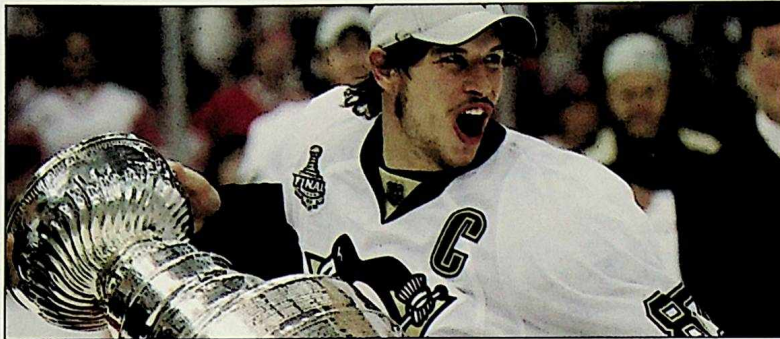

The Interactions Program

This is the first year that Harry Ainlay has offered the Interactions program for students with autism. Students participated in functional academics and improved their social skills. As a class we went on a variety of field trips, including Safeway, swimming, the library, travel training and dances. We also helped out in the school community. Student volunteers are welcome in our classroom and can even earn work experience hours. Talk to the Interactions teacher for more information.

Final Thoughts~ Yearbook Advisor: Mr. K. Wright

It has definitely been a "thumbs-up" year at Ainlay. The yearbook staff has been on high alert every school day to capture the numerous events and happenings in and around the school. Yearbook members have spent the last 10 months photographing, designing and proofing the 192 pages of this yearbook to provide you with a way of literally holding on to the many memories of Ainlay 2008 - 2009. This year's editors, Beth, Jinnee, Kiersten, Bridget, and Michelle have dedicated innumerable hours to making this book a reality. Over the course of the year I have thoroughly enjoyed the honour of working with these five amazing young women. Our small army of yearbook volunteers have created many pages under the guidance of our phenomenal editors. Once again, the July sun is shining, the wind is blowing and I am going sailing. Bon Voyage!

Editors' Note This yearbook is a collection of all the fond memories shared by fellow students. In the coming years, we hope that this yearbook will bring about feelings of nostalgia for the heady days of high school. We truly enjoyed creating this time capsule for future generations, and we hope that you cherish this series of snapshots of our last year of high school. This is the quintessential embodiment of the tenacious high school years. Enjoy it! Love it! Embrace it!
